Special to The Scranton Tribune,

Stroudsburg, Nov. 21.-Rev. Robert H. Crawford, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place, opened a revival service last evening in rather a peculiar and somewhat novel manner. After the sermon had been preached by Rev. Mr. Alcorn, a Philadelphia evangelist, Rev. Crawford announced that he wanted to the altar the official men of his church, "No ladies need come out," exclaimed the "I want the official men at the altar tonight." All the official men present obeyed the pastor's urgent appeal except one, and a second invitation was needed to get that gentle- tions. Mr. J. J. Heintzleman, a wellman out. The pastor's explanation was that he wanted the work to begin from yesterday and spoke encouragingly of centre to circumference, Rev. Crawford has been very successful in reviat work here.

VETERAN PROTHONOTARY.

One of the most prominent figures in Pike county politics is John C. Westbrook, the veteran prothonotary. Mr. Westbrook is, in point of continuous service, the oldest prothonotary in the state of Pennsylvania, and if he ilves till January 1, 1900, he will have served his county thirty-six straight years, and served it well. The veteran prothonotary can be called a Monroe county man, for it is not far from its borders that he first saw the light of day. In Pike he is familiarly called "John C." It is the affectionate way of calling him, for he is greatly beloved by his neighbors. He was not a candidate at the recent election on account of his increasing years, and his office will be occupied after the first of the year by a younger man. On Dec. 29 "John C." will celebrate the fortyninth anniversary of his marriage, for on the above date in 1850 he married Miss Jane Wells, of Milford, who bore him four children. He is a brother to Captain Lafayette Westbrook, of this

All the members were in attendance. The committee reported progress. AT THE EXPORT EXPOSITION. One of the attractions of the National Export exposition is a suit of clothes made by Thomas Kitson, the well known woolen manufacturer of this town. The suit has attracted considerable attention and has a most remarkable history. It is a woolen suit, the Clotto brown mixture, natural Some months ago Mr. Kitson decided to break the world's record and he did so. At 6.30 in the morning the lambs were slain; at 10.12 the wool from them had been woven into cloth and delivered to the tailor; at 12.34 Mr. Kitson had it on and was presiding at a dinner to which he had invited a number of friends and prominent citizens of the town to partake of deliclously served lamb, the same from which the wool in the suit he was wearing had been clipped that morning, six hours and four minutes from the black of the sheep to the back of the wearer, thus breaking the world's record, which had been previously held by a Scotland manufacturer.

FRANK HERMAN.

The residents of Middle Smithfield, this county, were startled by the an-nouncement of the sudden death of Frank Herman, a well known Demoeratic politician of that place. Her-man was found dead in bed about 6 o'clock this morning. Death resulted from heart disease, from which the deceased had been a sufferer for years. Mr. Herman was greatly shocked by the death of his father about a month ago and although he did not complain of this town are contemplating build- of ill health, it is thought that his father's death preyed upon the man'a feelings to such an extent as to bring on his sudden death. about 38 years old, unmarried and served his district as school director.

HEART RESCUE, IN 39 MINUTES after momentarily expecting for years that death might shap the vital cord at any time. This is the story thousands could tell and have told of the almost Divine formula, Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. Every day chronicles the taking away of many who have not heeded na-ture's warnings that the heart was tired out and needed the helping that this wenderful cure gives. Heart disorders are insidious.
