WILL FILL THE JURY WHEEL. Judge Edwards Is to Supervise the Work This Year.

The filling of the jury wheel for 1900 will take place Friday next. The work will be done by Judge Edwards and Jury Commissioners Frank Dougherty and Charles A. Wiggins.

At the last filling there were 1,650 names placed in the wheel. The same number, it is thought, will suffice for this year.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN DINE.

Their First Gathering Held in the Hotel Jermyn.

The Scranton Life Underwriters' as sociation held its first annual banquet on Saturday evening at Hotel Jermyn and the affair proved a most enjoyable one. Nearly all of the members of the association, and in addition the local medical examiners of the various companies, were in attendance. After the excellent menu had been heartily enjoyed the cigars were passed and an extensive list of toasts was given. W. J. Welsh acted as toastmaster in the absence of A. D. Holland, who was unable to be present. The following were the toasts: "Our Association, Its Aim and Object," B. H. Betts; "Life Insurance," William Hod-by; "The Solicitor," Thomas J. Mc-Guire; "The Policy Holder and His Relation to the Company," Arthur T. Raynsford; "Medical Examiners," Dr. E. O'Brien; "The Ladies," Dr. W. E. Kellar; "The Press," Livy S. Richard. After the regular toasts had been given informal remarks were made by several others

Those present at the affair were: W. Welsh, B. H. Betts, Eugene Ham, eorge Wahl, A. T. Raynsford, R. W. Luce, T. J. McGuire, Jessup, Naylor, H. J. Schubert, Broadbent, J. W. Dusenbury, R. M. MAN UNDER THE BED.

Discovery Made by a Servant Girl in Scott's Hotel.

About 11.30 o'clock last night, Police Lieutenant Davis was approached by J. C. Scott, who keeps a hotel on the 200 block on Lackawanna avenue. Mr. Scott told his story to the lieutenant, who, with Patrolman Sartor, went over to the place and arrested a man found on the premises. It seems that as one of the servant girls of the house was about to retire for the night, she saw a man's foot under the bed. She screamed for help, and the foot gradually emerged from its resting place, together with the rest of the owner's anatomy. He proved to be a tall, very dirty and extremely disagreeable specimen of the genus tramp, and, in addition to the above-named qualifications, was beautifully drunk. When Lieutenant Davis questioned him as to his name, where he lived, etc., the wanderer replied that his home was in Scranton as long as he was here. and when he wasn't it was somewhere

He was entrusted to the care of Patrolman Sartor, who marched him down to the Centre street station, where he was lodged for the night. He there gave his name as Jim Raymond, but it is probably a fictitious one. Earlier in the evening he was seen prowling around Scott's, and it is likely that robbery was his object in going into the place.

NEW SECTION OPENED UP.

Cars Are Now Running from Scranton to Lackswnns.

The extension of the Taylor line has been completed as far as Lackawanna station and on Saturday cars were run for the first time on the section of the road beyond the Old Forge High school. It will be the middle of January or first of February, General Manager Silliman says, before the road will be may be daily seen flitting up and down line of the Wyoming Valley Traction on the Duquesne team at Pittsburg. company, but as the river is to be crossed by an independent bridge, which will also carry the tracks above the grade crossing of the Lackawanna's "Bloom" division, the work will be necessarily slow.

Once the line is opened up, though, it is confidently expected to be a big money-maker. The trip between Scranculiar reason. A populous and growing string of hamlets between Rendham and Duryea will be furnished street car facilities for the first time, and it is safe to presume they will not be slow in taking advantage of them. This will mean a good-sized addition to Scranton's contributing territory.

MEMBERS OF AN ALL STAR ELEVEN

MEN WHO COULD BE GATHERED IN THIS CITY.

They Have All Won Glory and Renown on the Gridiron and Banded Together Would Constitute an Eleven That Would Make It Very Interesting for Any Foot Ball Team in This Country-Men Who Would Have a Place on the Team.

There are procaply few cities in the United States in which there is so much first class material for an A No. 1 foot ball eleven as Scranton. team composed entirely of ex-college players could be brought together which would make any one of the "Big Four" play its hardest to score. In considering such a team let us begin with the ends.

At left end we would undoubtedly place Charles Gelbert, the fleet-footed young man who was recognized as the best end on the college field when he played with the University of Pennsylvania. For three successive years he was chosen end on the All-American team and was generally considered as fine a player as was on the field. For the other end, two Wesleyan men are in the city and both, strange to say, pedagogues, the one being Prof. Schimpff, of the High school, and the other, Prof. Young, of the School of the Lackawanna. In all probability Young would have the choice, as he had more experience than his opponent, who, however, would give him a close run. Both men are quick, wiry and aggressive players and either of them calculated to drop an opposing runner with tremendous force.

THE TACKLES.

For the tackle positions the most available men are George Lathrop. Harry Lathrop and Dave Owens. Not ne of these men is properly a tackle, but still they are all big, powerful fellows and have all had some experience at that position. The two Lathrops are both Princeton men and have played on both the freshman and varsity teams. Owens is a graduate of State Normal school and is a flere? hard player who can play in almost any position. Between these three men would then lie the choice for tackle, and it would be hard to say which was the best qualified.

At left guard Otto Wagonhurst would be stationed. He is a hardplaying fellow and was one of the star men of the University of Pennsylvania eleven for several years. He as on the team at the same time as Charlie Gelbert. At the other guard the only available candidate is Woodthe Pennsylvania coach, made his home with his cousin, Attor-ney Woodruff, of this city, for a time. He is a great line-breaker and a man who probably knows as much foot ball as any man in the country. He may properly be termed a foot ball Ulysses, and is as wily and sagaclous in gridiron tactics as ever was the old Greek in matters of war and di-

Beside him Gelbert is on the Duquesne team and Wagonhurst was until a few weeks ago. The trio formance. aroused universal admiration and applause.

So far, so good. Our all Scranton team has a line which may almost be termed invincible. If possible, it is tioned John Brooks. The latter has made more of a mark at base ball it, of "licking the whole crowd." than foot ball and as shortstop played on the Princeton nine four years. He has had, however, considerable ex-perience at the game and has all natural qualifications for it. He is short, quick and snappy and has excellent ability in generaling a team.

BLISS AND THORNE. At left half back John J. Murphy, the former Georgetown base ball player, foot ball player, sprinter and all-around athlete, is unquestionaly the man for the place. He is fast on his feet, a good line-breaker and an excellent drop kicker.

At the other half, Laurie Bliss, formerly of Yale, is the man who is to gallop around the imaginary ends who will play the team in the distant future. He is fast, quick and lively and one of the best halves that ever was dubbed a "Son of Ell." At full back nothing more could be asked for, as another old Yalesian is to be stationed at the position. "Brink" Thorne, one longest punters, flercest runners and hardest line-plungers that ever hit against a Princeton or Harvard formation is the man for the place. Thorne is both a full and half back and in the latter postion was chosen for the All-American team in

This is the team which could represent Scranton on the gridiron and which would play the fastest game ever seen in this locality. If this aggregation of stars could be induced to come out on the field and practice they would soon be able to put up an article of foot ball which would make local enthusiastis open their eyes in wonder, but it is a very difficult thing to gather them together and in all probability they will not don the moleskins immediately.

Besides these men there are many brilliant players in the city whose merits will be probably discussed in some issue in the near future. For the present we must be satisfied with the team, which would line up as follows:

A RACE AGAINST DEATH.

Attendants at the Lackawanna Hospital Had an Interesting Time with Frank Worell.

There was created in the yard of the the terribly serious and the ludicrous which was presented.

Frank Worell had been brought into the hospital in the last stages of morphine poisoning. He was entirely unconscious and the pulsations of his heart were growing less every moment. The only scientific and effective mode of saving the patient's life in such a case as this is to exercise him and endeavor by all possible means to keep all the bedily functions in ac-

Preparations were laid accordingly. These preparations consisted, among things, of four stalwart orderlies, a tub of cold water, a hypodermic syringe full of strychnine and a pitcher steaming coffee. Worell was held up by the two orderlies and led out into the yard, where one of the most unique races against death that has ever been run was engaged in.

A track was marked off and the unnscious man was run about this by the two orderlies. Every few minutes a dipper of cold water would be dashed down his back or a cup of the hot coffee forced down his throat. This peculiar and strikingly bizarre race was continued for about fifteen minutes, by which time the two attendants were about as tired men as one could find in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

Worell was just beginning to regain onsciousness, however, and the two remaining men were forced into service and the run commenced again. In the meantime the hospital fence and the windows of the surrounding houses were lined with people, all of whom were in all probability wondering just what freak of nature had so suddenly boy was also on hand in large quantities hugely enjoying the whole per-

The doctors and attendants were nevertheless perfectly serious throughout, knowing that a man's life hung in the balance, After the second duo of attendants had been also completely even stronger in the back field. At tired out and by the time the water quarter back would probably be sta- and the coffee had been exhausted. Worell was desirous, as he expressed was then put to bed and is now resting quietly at the hospital.

The surgeons say that had these methods not been adopted the man would have died in ten minutes. similar case was received in Roosevelt hospital in New York some time ago, and as there is no ground connected with that institution the patient had to be run around the block, and it is said that the performance was watched by several thousand spectators.

STREET RAILWAY STATISTICS. Annual Report of Major Isaac Brown of Burnu of Eailways.

Harrisburg, Nov. 26.-The annual report of Major Isaac B. Brown, superintendent of the state bureau of railways, shows there were 380 street rallway corporations in Pennsylvania at the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, last. The total capital stock outstanding of operating street railway corporations is $103,122,319; bonded indebtedness outstanding, $31,139,149; current liabilities, $13,139,149. There was a reduction of the bonded indebtedness of operating street rallway companies during the year of $1,131,425. The reduction in current liabilities was $1,-090,342. From the total income received by operating companies, amounting to $21.646,808 there was paid out during the year in the way of disbursements for operating expenses $10,519,810, or substantially fifty per cent, of the income. There was paid in dividends during the year $9,133,647. The total mileage of the street rallways operating in Penn-sylvania is 1.493.21. The total compensation for the year to employes was $6,569,904. Major Brown recommends more stringent legislation to prevent fictitious capitalization of street railway companies and suggests that a law be enacted to abolish grade crossings. Observations made by the bureau during the period covered by the report show that, of the number of persons passing a certain point in Harrisburg in a given time, over sixty per cent. were podest lans, nineteen per cent. were on bleycles and fourteen per cent. in the trolley cars.

MENTION OF SOME MEN OF THE HOUR

THE HON. CYRUS GORDON TO PRESIDE IN COURT HERE.

Is President Judge of Clearfield County Court-Clever Work Detective Leyshon Did in the Pelozi Case-Succeeded in Having Him Arrested in Italy-Chief of the Fire Department Walker Has Mrde Many Friends Since Entering Upon the Duties of His Office.

The Hon, Cyrus Gordon, president judge of Clearfield county, who will assist Judges Archbald and Edwards in common pleas court this week, is well known throughout the state to both the lawyers and politicians. His ability as a judge, coupled with his energy and readiness, has caused him to be in much demand throughout his neighboring countles and not infrequently he has been called to try important cases in distant courts. Before his elevation to the bench in 1894, he took a prominent part in local and state politics. He was a Republican of the stalwart school and continues as such, even in the face of the fact that ity will be present on this interesting his remarkant college and life-long personal and political friend, ex-Governor Hastings, was a leader of the opposition. This resulted, as newspaper readers will remember, in series of attacks upon him by the Philadelphia Press. Judge Gordon was prominently men-

Before Judge Gordon's election, Clearfield was regarded as a Lackawanna hospital Friday an in- solid Democratic county, He was electcident, or rather a series of incidents ed, however, by a large majority. To-which deserve to be chronicled on ac- day he will try the case of Fellows and count of the strange intermingling of others against Loomis, which has been specially placed at the head of the trial

> John H. Walker, the present chief of the Scranton fire department, is the youngest man ever placed in that responsible position, and during the short time he has been connected with the fire fighters of this city, he has not only endeared himself to the permanent and volunteer members of the department, but has also won the spect and esteem of city officials, members of councils and citizens gen-

> From the first day Chief Walker took hold of the reins he has been called upon to face some of the fiercest conflagrations ever known in this city, and by his thoughtful performance of duty has won many words of praise. His efforts to strengthen the departnent and increase the supply of hose so much needed has met with public approval, and he enjoys the friendship ind regard of every member of the department.

The esteem in which Chief Walker is held by the permanent men and the members of his own company was fully attested during last week, when the former presented him with a handsome gold badge, and the latter with a beautiful silver trumphet.

County Detective Thomas Leyshon was brought prominently to the attention of the people of the county this week by the clever work he did in having Angelo Pelozi apprehended at Naples, Italy, for the nurder of An-tonic Spinello at Old Forge, October converted so many human beings into 29. The nature of Mr. Leyshon's duties wild lunatics. The omnipresent small subjects him to no little abuse and very frequently this blinds the public and prevents them from giving due credit for the truly excellent work that Mr. Leyshon does in making law breaking unpleasant and unprofitable among the cosmopolitan population of this county.

Ever since Spinello was murdered on the night of October 29 by Pelozi. Mr. Leyshon has worked unceasingly night and day to bring the murderer justice, and his efforts were rewarded by the arrest of Pelozi as he was leaving the steamer at Naples, Italy, on Wednesday last, on which he fled from this country.

The detective was approached by colleagues of the murderer, who offered their assistance in locating Pa lozi. In every instance he learned that these men were playing him false and trying to throw him off the track. Their efforts were unavailing, for Mr Levshon followed out his own theory and it proved to be the correct one. After satisfying himself that Pelozi could be extradited the detective set to work to have every out-going steamship from New York for Italy watched, and the very day Pelozi's friends informed the detective that the fugitive had sailed for New Orleans, it was learned he had sailed for Italy. A cablegram to the United States consul at Naples caused the arrest of Pelozi as he was leaving the boat. Mr. Leyshon has been successful in bringing many criminals to justice in Lackawanna county, who, but for his perseverance, might have escaped the punishment their crimes merited.

Thomas Beynon, whose fine tenor voice is heard each Sunday in the Second Presbyterian church, is anxious to take a course in voice culture under the renowned Prof. Sauvage, of New York, and his many friends, atsirous of assisting him, have decided to give him a testimonial concert at the Lyceum on Thursday evening,

Mr. Beynon has ever been more than generous with the people of Scranton His services were always at the disposal of the public for every worthy charity that gave anything in the way of an entertainment and it is only just that those he has so often assisted should now assist in making the coming concert a success that will make it a testimonial in more than a monesense. Mr. Beynon is a resident of West Scranton.

PRICE FATALLY INJURED.

Fell from a Train and Was Terribly Crushed.

Fred Price, of Lackswanna, aged 19 ears, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital Saturday night and died about half an hour after he arrived there. Price with his brother and two other young men boarded a coal train on the Lackawanna and were stealing a ride to Scranton. While skipping from car to car Price slipped and fell under the wheels, which crushed both his legs and his right arm and hand. He was picked up and carried to the Lackawannah ospital.

On the way there he lost so muc' blood that nothing could be done to save his life. Yesterday afternoon his remains were taken to his home at Lackawanna.
