

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

REV. JUSTIN FULTON AT JACKSON STREET CHURCH.

Spoke at Both Morning and Evening Services—Fourth Anniversary of Rev. J. P. Moffat's Pastorate—Funerals of Mrs. Hetzrath and S. B. Adkins—Strange Case of Syrian Family—Caucus in the Fifth Ward December 19—Church, Political and Other Notes.

Rev. Justin D. Fulton, D. D. of Boston, Mass., delivered two sermons at the Jackson Street Baptist church yesterday to two of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the spacious auditorium.

Dr. Fulton said: "Christianity makes business. Go anywhere they have Christ and there you'll find men and women who are true. In this country we have no conception of the condition of affairs. South Africa is like a bucket without a bottom, but the thought of the world is turning to Africa. I am in utter and entire sympathy with England in their fight with the Boers, and wherever the English Jack floats the flag of Jesus Christ is risen and Christianity is admitted."

"The religion of Jesus Christ educates the ignorant and is doing it every day. There is no real contentment without the gospel. A man that can have Jesus Christ in his heart can have a mighty good time in this world. He can have contentment and comfort. The grandest thing in the world is to be up and dressed early Sunday morning for God's work. The religion of Jesus Christ wants men to go into the wilderness, cut down trees and build them into houses for Christ."

"The world needs Jesus Christ and there is no man more popular than Jesus. He is the man who will be true to Him, who will talk to their neighbors and tell them of God."

David Stephens sang an appropriate solo, which was very effective. Dr. Fulton will lecture at the church on Wednesday evening on "General Grant."

FOURTH ANNIVERSARY. Rev. John P. Moffat, D. D. of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, fittingly observed the fourth anniversary of his pastorate yesterday.

In the morning Dr. Moffat gave a resume of his work and in the evening a special programme was given. The church orchestra assisted in the services, and

Ladies' Gloves

All the novelties of the season will be found represented in our show windows today. The display includes every variety of gloves for street wear and dress occasions of every description in all the fashionable shades for matching or contrast.

A Word on Gloves

Being by far the largest dealers in gloves in this end of the state, we desire simply to say that there is not a well known glove on the market today that is not at our command, if we wish to handle it. This being the fact, it follows as a matter of course that we take what we consider the very best from the many offerings, and let the others go. That's the reason why we maintain our supremacy in the glove trade.

Thanksgiving Neckwear for Men

Gentlemen, there's a windowful of novelties awaiting your inspection today. If you are not among the fortunate ones who have discovered that it pays to buy men's furnishings at the Globe Warehouse, suppose you begin to learn the lesson by a look at that window.

Globe Warehouse advertisement with logo and text: "There is a class of people who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called 'Globe' made of pure grains that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over 10c a much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c. and 25c. per package. Try it. Ask for GLOBE-O."

the choir sang several anthems. L. A. Stevens conducted the responsive readings and Prof. G. W. Phillips read the scripture lesson. Prayer was offered by Prof. D. A. Stone.

Reports from the Sunday school were read by W. T. Burrell; Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Herbert Hall; Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Parker; Bertha LaMonte society, Miss Christ; Junior Christian Endeavor, Miss Sax; Home and Foreign Missionary association, Miss Shannon; Chinese department, Miss Jamison; Italian department, Miss Peck. The services were attended by large congregations.

STRANGE CASE THIS. There is a man and his wife living in Philadelphia on $1.50 per week with no rent to pay, but that isn't a circumstance to George Unice and family, consisting of his wife and five children, who reside at 92 West Lackawanna avenue, where they are supposed to pay rent and the father works for his board without receiving any salary at all. How they manage to exist the man himself could not explain.

The case was brought to light recently when the mother gave birth to her seventh child, which died shortly after birth. Unice is a Syrian and has been in this country seven years and speaks English fairly well. He peddles trinkets, clothing, etc., for his boarding house.

When the child was born a physician was called and attended the woman, and at its death the husband applied to Underfaker Price to bury it. He was referred to Pastor Director Elaine and he in turn referred to the Syrian priest.

The latter is a Catholic, while Unice is a Greek, and on that account the man refused to ask assistance from the representative of the church, but in some other manner succeeded in getting enough money to bury his offspring.

DIPHTHERIA PREVALENT. The dreaded disease diphtheria is quite prevalent in West Scranton, and many deaths have resulted in consequence, but the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Walters, at 367 North Burnley avenue, has been unexpectedly darkened by the death of two children within a week.

Last Wednesday Stella, their 2-year-old daughter, died and was buried on Thursday, and Friday evening Gertrude M. Walters, aged 7 years, succumbed to the disease. The remains were privately interred in Forest Hill cemetery at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The 15-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walever, of 225 South Main street, died Friday evening from an attack of diphtheria and was buried in Washburn street cemetery at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

POLITICAL GOSSIP. Alderman Moses, the veteran magistrate of the Fifteenth ward, has announced himself as a candidate for reelection and thus far is unopposed.

Select Councilman Horatio T. Fellows, of the Fifteenth ward, has formally announced his candidacy for reelection. Mr. Fellows has served two terms in the upper branch.

The candidates for office in the Fifth ward met at Henne's hotel Saturday evening and decided upon Tuesday, Dec. 19, as the date for holding the caucus. Lewis Howell was selected for president, Eugene F. Long was secretary and David Stanford, treasurer.

Richard H. Williams is a candidate for select council and the following district officers were named: Register of voters—First district, Thomas A. Blair; second district, Daniel Gregory; Third district, William M. Howell; Fourth district, Eugene F. Long.

Judge of election—First district, Frank Shedd; Second district, Charles E. Daniels; Third district, Thomas J. Evans; Fourth district, David Stanford.

Inspector of election—First district, William Marsh; Second district, Lewis Howell; Third district, William Amory; Fourth district, John D. Phillips.

Richard H. Williams, David Stanford and William Daniels were appointed a committee on printing.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HETZRATH. The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Hetzrath occurred yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Wilhelm, 540 North Lincoln avenue. The deceased was 79 years of age and was the mother of ex-Patrolman William Hetzrath. She is also survived by August Hetzrath, Mrs. John Wilhelm and Mrs. Mary Reehling, all of this city.

The remains were borne to the Chestnut street German Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock, where the pastor, Rev. Jacob Schaeffle, conducted the services in German. Many acquaintances of the family were present. The interment was made in the German cemetery in South Scranton.

S. B. ADKINS' FUNERAL. A large number of secret society men attended the funeral services of the late S. B. Adkins yesterday afternoon at the family home on Division street. Among the lodges represented were the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Mutual Aid society.

The cortege moved to Simpson Methodist Episcopal church at 2:30 o'clock, where the pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet, spoke eulogistically of the deceased, who was a man of much influence among the societies represented. The remains were interred in the Washburn street cemetery. The pallbearers were selected from among the lodges men.

Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, occupied the pulpit at the Bellevue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church last evening at 6 o'clock.

At the First Baptist church last evening, the pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews, preached to a large congregation on "What Would Jesus Do?" The Great Question of the South, in the course of the sermon some references were made to Mr. Sheldon and his work by that name, but in the main the truth was brought home by many scriptural illustrations. The urgent need of the new church is shown by the fact of the immense growth of the congregation. Recently the present place of meeting has been nearly filled to overflowing.

[LETTER TO THE PUBLISHER NO. 12,731]

"I am very grateful to you for your kindness and the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. For years I had female troubles and did nothing for them. Of course I became no better and finally broke down entirely. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb and inflammation ovaries.

"I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then after nearly two months the doctor gave me permission to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctors and their medicine alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of her Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine.

"The first remark that greets me now is 'How much better you look!' and you may be sure I never hesitate to tell the cause of my health."—Mrs. E. J. GOODEN, ACKLEY, IA.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES CONDUCTED LAST NIGHT.

Drama to Be Produced by Excelsior Dramatic Club—Yesterday in the Churches—Union Thanksgiving Services to Be Held in the Christian Church—Thanksgiving Dinners to Be Served by Many Churches—Heptasoph's Initiation Postponed—Other News Notes.

Special musical services in commemoration of the approach of Thanksgiving Day were conducted last evening in the Providence Presbyterian church. There was an exceedingly large congregation present. The choir was augmented by several new voices and the different music was rendered in a most acceptable manner.

The first selection given was an organ prelude by the church organist, Mrs. McDonnell. This was followed with a brief opening sentence, "Now the Day is Over," by the full choir. A responsive scripture reading from the Psalms was then given by the pastor and the congregation.

An anthem, Psalms civ:24, was then rendered by the choir and proved to be the most delightful of any of those rendered. It gave an opportunity for a solo, "When the Pastures Are Clothed with Flocks," which was given with splendid effect by Joshua John, and for a male chorus, "While the Earth Remaineth."

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. G. E. Guild, the pastor, and was followed with a softly modulated response, "Oh, Father, Incline Thine Ear," by the choir. An anthem, Psalm lv:3-8, with a solo, "I Will Feed My Flock," by Frederick Smith, Rev. Dr. Guild then gave a scripture reading from Psalms 145, which was followed with a choir response entitled, "Teach Me, O Lord, the Way of Thy Statutes."

The pastor then gave a brief sermon on "The Thanksgiving Sentiment." He emphasized the fact that there was not a single American citizen, whether native or foreign born, in this country at the present time who has not abundant occasion to thank God for the gifts and blessings of the year.

Dr. Guild said that though there are many and great inequalities in life that all, both rich and poor, should be thankful to God for health, eyesight, sleep and for the sense of hearing. These blessings are possessed by the great majority of men, and they should be accorded with thankfulness.

An anthem with a tenor solo part, sung by H. K. Acker, was rendered by the choir, closing the services. Mrs. McDonnell played a recessional march by Gounod as the congregation filed out.
