COMING WEDDINGS.

This week Wednesday two couples will take the important step from single to married life. One of these weddings, the Nelson-Gilhool morning event, has already been announced through these columns, and the other, an evening ceremony, comes as a surprise to a great many friends, Miss Hannah Deegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Deegan, of Belmont street, is to wed Frank Dougher, one of Archbald's leading young men, on that day, contributing one more to the long list of ceremonies that have taken place this fall.

The event will be attended with the usual wedding repast and reception to a few friends. The couple will take up their residence in Archbaid, where the groom is employed.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Common council met last evening and adopted resolutions as follows: That Contractors Blair & Kennedy be notified to return the city's stone crusher forthwith, in good condition; that a fire-alarm box he erected at the works of the Hendrick Manufacturing company as per request at their expense. The request of William Lindsay for sewer rebate on Eighth avenue property was referred to committee for report at next meeting. Council adjourned to meet Wednesday evening.

The Olyphant Water company recently sank an artesian well near the reservoir at Dolph's which is giving out a supply of water amounting to 300 gallons a minute, or 432,000 gallons a day. With this supply of water, in addition to the reservoir, there will be no danger of a famine at this place in the future. The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve supper in the social room of the church Thanksgiving evening. During the evening an excellent programme which has been prepared will be rendered. All are invited. Michael Cannon, of Avoca, who has been visiting relatives in town, has returned home. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Sarah J. Ward to George W. Williams, to take place Thanksgiving day. Mrs. John R. McHale, of Dunmore

The funeral cortege, accompanied by Your stomach by the members of the Primitive Methodist Sunday school and the Forresters, over-worked of which the deceased was a member, proceeded to the Primitive Methodist church, where the services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Holden, the pastor, whose funeral sermon was full of wisdom and consolation to the bereaved family. Several beautiful selections were rendered by the choir. At the conclusion of the services the remains were viewed and then taken to the Priceburg cemetery and laid at rest. The flower-bearers were Frederick Zimmerman, Elija Box, Edward Margetson, William Smith, Charles Barrett, Robert Berbeck. The pall-bearers were George Welland, John Gder, E. Fire Company Holds an Important Session in the Council Rooms. Coming Thanksgiving Events. Personal Paragraphs.

The meeting of the newly organized fire company, which was held in the borough council rooms last evening, was attended by a large number of members and citizens. The session was an enthusiastic one as much business was transacted. The committee that was appointed at a recent meeting to arrange for a benefit entertainment to be held in the near future, made a very favorable report. The committee is composed of the follow-Ing: Chairman, William H. Thomas; Thomas J. Hughes, Edward D. Davis, John J. Serivens, Berg Lewis and Charles Perry,

"That Girl from Texas."

Edna and Cecil Spooner and their ompany opened their week's engagement at the Academy of Music last night before a large audience by presenting "That Girl from Texas." omedy in four acts with Cecil Spooner in the congenial role of May Percy, "The Little Mayerick." Her impersonation of that character last night was one of the best pieces of work that Miss Spooner has ever done in this city.

she had the support of a very strong company, excellent members of which are Augustus Phillips, B. S. Spooner, Charles C. Rummel, Olive Grove and Mollie Spooner. John A. West, the comedian and instrumentalist, was seen in specialties, Edna May sang several songs that were illustrated and views were thrown by the magniscope. Character dances were introduced by Cecil Spooner. Taken in its entirety the performance is one of the best given by a repertoire company at the Academy this season.

This afternoon the company will present "The Wages of Sin" and tonight, Sheridan's City Sports.

Sheridan's New City Sports opened a three days' engagement at the Galety yesterday afternoon which promises to be very successful, for the show bright and entertaining. It opens with burlesque, "Troubles in a Boarding House," in which all the members of the company participate. A number of good specialties are introduced.

The closing burlesque is entitled "The Four Married Men" and is a strong feature of the performance. In the olio one of the best "turns" is by the Brothers Lowell, acrobats of more than ordinary agility. The Imps ballet was a novel and taking feature. Miss Fanny Lewis sang illustrated songs. Other contributions to the olio were by Carr and McLeod, musicians; Miss Alice Leslie, soubrette: Nelson and Milledge. in a comedy sketch, and Mills and this and tomorrow afternoon and

A Contented Woman.

That the Lyceum Theatre this evening will have its seating capacity taxed to its utmost, there can be no doubt, if one is to judge by the unusual demand for seats. That the occasion will be a joyous one there can be no doubt, when the announcement that Hoyt's "A Contented Woman," the funniest work of this clever playwright, will be the attraction, and it comes with its wealth of scenery and gorgeous costumes, the same as used during its phenomenally successful run at Hoyt's Theatre, New York. The piece is replete with spirited and catchy music, and no end of entertaining specialties. The cast is the strongest Mr. Hoyt has ever sent out, and is headed by Miss Belle Archer, noted for her artistic acting and beauty.

"What Happened to Jones."

The much talked of "Jones" comes to the Lyceum tomorrow evening with the following clever cast: John Allison, H. G. Hockey, H. W. Montgomery, Louis Reinhart, Joseph McKever, Charles Charters, Charles Greene, Florence Marion, Lillian Young, Olive McConnell, Ethel Hertslet, Marie Haynes and Maud Allison.

The farce has two very amusing sub-plots, which together with the main theme, furnish the groundwork for some of the most amusing complications seen in any farce of recent years.

"Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue."

The Irishman of New York is unique, if he is judged from the pictures of him that are circulated by certain actors from New York. His like is not to be found in any other large city of America, and, were he to appear as represented within a mile of the shores of Ireland, he would be caught and caged as a curio. On the other hand, the Irishmen that Joseph Murphy pre-sents in his plays "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue," are bits of life fresh from the Emerald Isle.

Mr. Murphy will be seen in the "Kerry Gow" at the Lyceum Thursday afternoon and evening and in "Shaun Rhue" Friday evening.

Gamble-Rihll Concert.

Mr. Gamble and Miss Rihll will give a concert in St. Luke's Parish house on Dec. 5 under the auspices of the Scranton Conservatory of Music, Mr. Gamble has a voice of great range and power and uses it always to advantage. His style is of the best, his diction cultured, his enunciation wonderfully distinct. Miss Rihll's rare combination of talents is notable; as a planist she is brilliant, and to this she adds sympathy, taste and understanding, evincing not only the accomplished performer. but the cultured mind and artistic temperament.

FOOT BALL NOTES.

The Scranton high school foot ball eleven indulged in a vigorous practice yesterday afternoon preparatory to their Thanksgiving game at Binghamton, A large number of the team's partisans will accompany the players to the Parlor City and a special car has been chariered At the meeting of the members of the boys are requested to arrange terms the new Catholic perish, which was with Manager John Horan, of the team, held last evening, all arrangements the train will leave Ecranton early Thurswere completed for the Thanksgiving day morning and will arrive at Binghamton about 11 o'clock. The two elevens met early in the season at Athletic park, and Binghamton proved victorious by the score of 5-0. High school has been strongthened since then, however, and

It is likely that the School of the Lack awanna will again meet the high school on the gridiron. Manager Horan, of the high school, is trying to arrange a game, and it is probable that local enthusiasts will soon see these two strong teams lined up against each other.

There have very seldom been years in which such huge foot ball scores were piled up as in this ore. Mention has already been made, in these columns, of the University of Chicago's great victory over Northwestern university by the score of 76-0. A week ago last Saturday Franklin and Marshall met Temple col-lege, of Philadelphia, at Lancaster and the ultimate result was 96-9, in favor of Franklin and Marshall. That team's full back. Peters, established a record in goal kicking after touchdowns by scoring four-teen goals out of sixteen attempts. Out of the twelve men who were on the field for Franklin and Marshall during the game, ten scored one or more touch-downs. Last Saturday the Carlisle In-dians met Oberlin college at Carlisle. The men from Oberlin were buried under the score of $1-6, the flerce red men tear-ing the Westerners' line to pieces and scoring almost at will. The strong State college team visited the veteran players who make up the Ducuesne C. and A. club Saturday afternoon and when the clouds of battle had drifted away the Duquesne varriors were grimly smiling over a 64-5 game in their favor. All things considered, the season has proved a record breaker.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made by the management of the St. Thomas college foot ball eleven with Villa Nova college, and as a result, Thanksaiving day will see one of the hardest gridiron fights ever witnessed in this city at Athletic park. The teams will have many partisans, the St. Thomas boys, of course, as local players being the favorites. With Villa Nova, how-ever, Captain Nallin and Quarterback Joe Weir are both old St. Thomas players, and they will find as a result many friendly faces in the large crowd which will undoubtedly surge out to the park. The game will be far from a one-sided one, as the St. Thomas boys are ther oughly in edge by reason of their defeat by high school recently and mean to show their local admirers what they still can do. They have been indulging in hard, steady practice for the past week and will be in fine condition to meet their opponents.
