

DAY'S DOINGS IN DUNMORE BOROUGH

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES LAUREL ATTENDED.

Held in Methodist Episcopal Church and Sermon Delivered by Rev. W. F. Gibbons—William Knox presented a Birthday Party—Presbyterian Ladies to Conduct a Bazaar, Miss Johnston Surprised—Thanksgiving Programme at No. 4 School. Other Interesting Notes and Personal.

The auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church was well filled with a representative audience from the several Protestant churches of the borough, at the union Thanksgiving services held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. After the usual opening exercises, Rev. W. F. Gibbons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the sermon in remembrance of the day, choosing for his text the 14th Psalm, fifteenth verse, "Happy is that people that is in such a case; yea, happy is that people whose God is the Lord."

He spoke of the great revival of learning and consequent spread of knowledge in Europe in time past. How the printing press was invented and became a potent factor in this great work. With this enlightenment came the spirit of liberty which manifested itself more and more as the years passed, and finally emigration was started. The first New England Thanksgiving, by the emigrants, and our subsequent thanks to an Almighty God for blessings received.

Our nation was next spoken of; how the country had increased and spread from ocean to ocean, and how God had blessed the nation in giving her new territory among the islands of the ocean. The concluding thought was that in order for a nation to continue prosperous, it is necessary for it to be a God-fearing nation, that it may always be blessed by Him, whose directing hand is ever present.

ST. ANTHONY OF PADUA.

Sacred Drama Produced by the Italians of Dunmore. There was presented in Munley's hall, Dunmore, yesterday afternoon, an Italian drama entitled "St. Anthony of Padua," and the presentation was intensely interesting from several standpoints.

The play is in seven parts and is written by James Gregory. It deals with the life of the great St. Anthony of Padua, and though not constructed with a very strict regard for the modern conventions of the drama, it could not be otherwise than entertaining yesterday, on account of the earnestness and sincerity which the Italians presenting it put into their efforts.

The character of St. Anthony was enacted by Joseph Mattarazzo, of Bocton, a professional performer, who appears regularly in the Italian theater in that city. The other characters of whom there were over twenty-five, were taken by a number of the young Italians of the borough, and in some cases real dramatic ability was displayed. The audience, which was quite large, was extremely enthusiastic at times and heartily enjoyed the performance throughout. The play will be repeated this and tomorrow evenings, the performances being for the benefit of St. Anthony's Italian Catholic church.

JOE CHAMBERLAIN'S LUNCHEON SPEECH

An Anglo-Saxon Friendship Means Universal Peace—The World Not Governed by Interest Entirely. Sentiment One of the Greatest of the Factors.

London, Nov. 30.—Joseph Chamberlain, the secretary of state for the colonies, in a speech at a luncheon at Leicester today, said that ever since the great split in the liberal party he had found himself a mark for the slanders and misrepresentations of the "baser sort of politicians," but that he had found compensation in the generous appreciation of the majority of his countrymen. Continuing, Mr. Chamberlain said he was deeply gratified that the foreign relations of Great Britain were so satisfactory, and he asserted that the country owed a debt of gratitude to Lord Salisbury for the great improvement in Great Britain's position. It was especially gratifying, he said, to note the friendly relations existing between the Anglo-Saxon branches, saying that the understanding between the United States and Great Britain was indeed a guarantee of the peace of the world.

This statement was greeted with cheers. It was of the utmost importance, Mr. Chamberlain further remarked, that Great Britain should not remain isolated in Europe and her natural alliance was with the Great German empire. They had had difficulties with Germany, but their interests and sentiments were the same, and an understanding between the Tonic and Anglo-Saxon races might do more than any combination of armies to preserve the peace of the world.

The world, he asserted, was not governed entirely by interest. Sentiment was one of the greatest factors. Referring to the attack of the foreign press, Mr. Chamberlain said these newspapers had not even spared "the

ALMOST SACRED PERSON OF THE QUEEN.

This, continued the speaker, provoked natural indignation, "which may have serious consequences if our neighbors do not mend their ways."

An outbreak of cheering greeted this threat of the colonial secretary. It was a matter of congratulation, Mr. Chamberlain asserted, that the worst of these "disgraceful attacks" did not appear in the German papers. A new triple alliance between the Tonic race and the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxons would, said the colonial secretary, be a potent influence in the future of the world. The speaker explained that he used the word "alliance," but it mattered little whether they had an alliance committed to paper or "an understanding which existed in the minds of the statesmen of the respective countries." A determination in every case to look for favorable motives up the part of those whose friendship was desired would be an enormous advantage to both the nations concerned and others.

REVOLUTION SPREADING.

Details Lacking but Censored Cable Dispatches Discarded. Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 30.—Columbian cables received here by the steamer Louisiana say the revolution is spreading throughout the Colombian republic and gaining great strength. Details as to the movements of the Liberals are lacking but the stereotyped censored cable dispatches relating to government successes are discarded. Several casual bands of recruits have been dispersed and a few severe reverses have been suffered on the water but the insurrection is not even fully launched yet, and is apparently awaiting further important outside aid.

INSPECTOR CAMPBELL'S REPORT

Demand for Skilled Laborers Cannot Be Supplied. Harrisburg, Nov. 30.—The annual report of Factory Inspector James Campbell for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1898, the advance sheets of which have just been issued, shows that there were 152,570 more persons employed in the manufacturing establishments under the supervision of the factory inspector in 1898 than in 1897. Mr. Campbell says that if the demand for skilled workmen and laborers could be supplied the increase would be greater. There were 27 illiterate children dismissed during the year and 228 accidents reported, three-fourths of which were due to carelessness. Sixty places have been found since July 1, 1898, where clothing was being made and contagious diseases prevailed. The goods were seized under the "sweat shop" act. Mr. Campbell says the prompt compliance of the "bake shop" orders is evidence that bake shop owners realize the popularity of the law.

GIRL'S LEAP TO DEATH.

Miss Pauline Jones Jumps from Third-Story Window at Bristol. Bristol, Nov. 30.—As the result of injuries received by jumping from a third-story window, Miss Pauline Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, lies dead at her home, on Hadeloff street. Death occurred this morning.
