Cycle Club Gets $368-The Effort to

Change Quarters. loss on the Cycle club's furnirecently damaged by fire in the Watt house on Lincoln avenue, was adjusted Saturday afternoon, the club being allowed $368. It was found upon inspection that many of the leather pieces which appeared to be in bad condition can be restored to their former beauty and durability by a few dollars each. One hundred dollars was allowed on the plane, but that amount will not cover the loss on the instrument.

The club, having an opportunity to secure more spacious and elegant quarters, is pegotiating with Landlord W. W. Watt for a termination of the lease, which wil not expire until May. 1902. Mr. Watt is much pleased with his tenants and with the rental of $30 a month, and he refuses to let the organization go save for a consideration of $400. The club is willing to pay any actual loss Mr. Watt may sustain by its removal, but cannot figure it up to quite that amount.

The chances, however, favor taking the handsome VanBergan residence on North Church street, which may be rented for three or five years. The consent of the club for an increase of dues has been asked and will doubtless be unanimously granted. The increase is to be for one year only and will be applied to the payment of Mr. Watt's

Much enthusiasm is felt over the proposed move, and a number of new members will be added at once,

REV. DUNNETT ON THE DANCE.

The long promised sermon on dancing has been delivered by Evangelist Dunnett at the Methodist church, He did not say the pastime was sinful, but that, as conducted, it is harmfulharmful in its associations and dress. Mr. Dunnett considers the theater a thousand times werse in its influence and said he would prefer to have a daughter of his at the dance than engaged playing postoffice and other kissing games in somebody's back parlor. In paying his respects to other diversions he expressed his preference for cards over dice games and told a story as to how he taught his mother to play euchre with dominoes,

COAL STORAGE PLANT.

Work is being pushed on the coal storage plant at Anthracite park and Sunday's fine weather was taken advantage of by the full weekday quota of workmen. One of the huge steel frames has been erected and the others will soon be put in position. A one hundred and ten-foot stack, which is about three feet in diameter, also changes the appearance of the place, It is estimated that the plant will not completed before February 1.

TRACTION COMPANY'S WORK.

The Traction company had a large force at work all day yesterday on Main street. The old track has been torn out from Hotel Anthracite to Eighth avenue switch, and a transfer of passengers is made between these points. The gauge was narrowed between the aforementiond switch and Main street, the new rails being bolted to metallic ties preparatory to their concrete setting.

THEATRICAL.

"The Village Postmaster."

The "Village Postmaster" will be presented at the Lyceum this evening. Just a few kind things said of the "Village Postmoster" by the press. The New York Herald: New York has "never seen a better drama of rural life than the 'Village Postmaster;' to say that it made a hit expresses it faintly." The New York World called it another "Old Homestead" and said that no other play of the same kind had been presented with such care. The New York Sun: "The Village Homestead' and 'Shore Acres.' " The Boston Globe: "Like a bit of nature transferred to the stage, or like a vacation in the country." The Boston Herald: "The play scored a success and during the four acts the audience grew positively delirious, laughing at the comical side and enjoying the realism to the echo." The Providence Tele-"The Village Postmaster gram: may be easily set down as the most thorough and interesting presentation of farm scene life that has ever been concocted." Archie Boyd and a competent company will interpret the various characters.

"The Man O' Wars Man." Mr. Shea and "The Man-o-War's Man" are both attractions that deserve crowded houses at the Academy of Music this evening. This play is in tensely American. It is played by an American star, written by an American, and on an American subject; and no matter in what section of the country it is played the same enthusiasm is always manifested. This play is not fiction, but a reality. We see hundreds of young men in this glorious republic of ours in real life rising from poverty and obscurity to fame and influence yearly. Mr. Shea, in the star part, has scored the greatest success of his career and for the simple reason that he has made it a real living character, and not one of the overdrawn herces that are so common in melodrama.

"Courted Into Court."

Of the several theatrical enterprises exploited here during the present season the production of John J. Mc-Nally's comedy, "Courted Into Court," probably takes precedence in point of interest. Opportunities for splendid comedy situations are extensively offered in the plot which Mr. McNally has devised, to enhance the value of which he has allowed the introduction of an unlimited quantity of catchy musical selections, together with novel and unique specialties. These are contributed by the several members of the Henry B. Harris company, which include besides Maud Huth and Billy S. ARMY AND NAVY FOOT BALL.

Interesting Contest at Franklin Field. Victory for West Point.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.-Yesterday afternoon the representatives of the army and navy met on the gridiron at Franklin field before a crowd of 25 . 000. The army in the persons of cleven stalwart young men from West Point won a glorious victory over the navy, as championed by a foot ball team from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, by a score of 17 to 5. Besides the sturdy boys on the field the army and navy were more than represented by grizzled old soldiers and sailors in the stands. Secretary of War Elihu Root was present cheering him self hourse for West Point, and Secretary Long was also on the field, vociferously champloning the cause of the middles. Admiral McNair, who was superseded in the Asiatic squadron by Admiral Dewey, was present at the game, as were likewise many other prominent naval officers, among whom may be mentioned in particular "Fighting Bob" Evans, of the good ship Iowa, Commander Wainright, formerly of the Gloucester, and Captain C. C. Phillips. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith occupied a box, as did also Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador. On the army side of the field were General Wesley Merritt, General Miles and many other of the famous old war

The game was a brilliant one, full of exciting and pretty plays. West Point was deemed the weaker of the two teams before the game started, but displayed an unexpected strength, and trounced the navy boys in most beautiful fashion

West Point experienced no difficulty at all in breaking the navy line, and did not try to run the ends to any great extent, simply carrying the leather down the field by hitting the line and tearing through it in terrific shape. Rockwell, Clark and Casad all played fine games for West Point, and Wade put up a strong fight at full back for the navy. It looked like a shut-out for the sallors up to the last few minutes of play when West Point lost the ball on off-side play on its own 10yard line. Annapolis then smashed through the coveted number of yards and Wade was shoved across the line for the touchdown which prevented a whitewash. The line-up follows:

GRIDIRON GOSSIP.

Williamsport High school, which recently played a tic game with the Scran-ton High school, or Thanksgiving, lined up against the Newberry Athletic club of Williamsport, Thanksgiving Day, and was victorious by the score of 34-0.

The feature of the game was the work of Vall, the Williamsport fullback. When the eleven was in Scranton this young man made a huge hit, by his line-bucking, punting and place kicking. In fact he did the best punting of any player that has stepped on a Scranton field this senson

In this Thanksgiving game, out of Williamsport's four touchdowns scored three. He kicked the goals from all four touchdown, and in addition dropped two goals from the field. gether he alone scored 29 out of Willlamsport's 34 points. This is remarkable work and it is not at all unlikely that if this promising young player ever goes to college he will win laurels on one of the larger teams.
