DEER SEASON IN PIKE.

Nearly 300 Killed During the Month of Movember.

Special to The Scranton Tribune Hawley, Pa., Dec. 4.—The deer season in Pike county has been an unusually good one for hunters. It is estimated that during the month of November nearly 300 have been taken by different parties of hunters in that county alone. Of this number, ex-Sheriff Hoffman, together with various other parties, has killed twenty. At Lord's Valley some twenty-five have been taken at various times during the season. Last Friday a party of four from Pittston, hunting near that place, shipped from here four fawns and two old deer, one of which weighed 175 pounds. The same day a party from Scranton took home with them two fawns which they had shot in the neighborhood of Lord's Val-distance, exclusively. Among our local huntsmen who have on different occasions succeeded in returning with trophies of the chase are William Quinney, Christian Lehman, August Frank, Reinhard Warg and Joseph Nell. Owing to the large number of fawns taken this year, it is doubtful whether next season will find the deer so plentiful as they have been the season just closed.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, Dec. 4.-With weakness of New York, Dec. 4.—With weakness of stocks today was a response to the world wide tightness in money. A marked effect was produced by the Supreme court decision in the Addystone pipe case, involving an infringement of the anti-trust law by an industrial combination. Strenuous efforts were made by professional operators to belittle the force of this decision on the ground that the party to the case was a flagrant illustration of this decision on the ground that the party to the case was a flagrant illustration of a trust formation and that the points in the case could not apply to the general run of industrial combinations, but the acute effect produced on the securities of these combinations argued an apprehension on the part of the holders that their value would be impaired by the decision. Stocks of the industrials fell anywhere from 1 to over 3 points and showed but a feeble rallying power. Total sales, 585,760 shares. Railroad bonds were easier in sympathy with stocks. United States 2s, new 4s and 5s advanced a nel the 5s and old 4s coupon to the fide price. Total sales, par value, 31,450,-100.
