LACKAWANNA, THE LAUNDRY
Job Penn Avenue. A. B. WARMAN

PERSONAL

Undertaker Patrick Cusick left town last night for New York where he will take charge of the funeral of Mrs. Maguire Wednesday at Calvary cemetery.
The deceased is the mother of T. J. Cu-sick, formerly electrician for the Scranton Illuminating, Heat and Power company, and now occupying the same position for the Homeless Heat and Power company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. James, of New York city, are stopping at Hotel Terrace.
Dr. and Mrs. Elliott, of Chicago, called on Miss Kate Walsh, of Spruce street, yesterday.

Mrs. I. S. Knight, of South Blakely street, Dunmore, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. A. G. Perham, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Kalmann Levy, of Monroe avenue, is entertaining her sister, Miss Packard, and Miss Lipsky, both of Syracuse, at her home.

Miss Nell Evans, daughter of Commissioner of Pennington at Washington, D. C., H. Clay Evans, is visiting at the Hotel Jermyn with Miss Luella Williams.

The Misses Agnes O'Dowd, Julia Mutcherin and May Mahoney, of Augusta, Ga., and Miss Martha Schroeder, of Alton, S. C., who have been the guests of Miss Loretta Mulhern, of West Locust street, for the last month, returned to their homes yesterday.

THEY CHANGED THEIR CLOTHES

Clothing Store in Olyphant Robbed by Three Sensible Gentlemen.
The clothing store of M. Friedman on Lackawanna street, Olyphant, was broken into early yesterday morning by parties unknown and said parties unknown, whoever they may be and they are strongly suspected to be three in number, possess new outfits as a consequence.

The theft was first discovered when the store was opened and it was found that entrance had been effected by removing a catch on one of the rear windows. Some men in their way to work a short time later discovered three old worn-out suits and several new overcoats and trousers in an open freight car a short distance from the store.

The thieves had evidently taken out a lot of clothing prematurely and then taken to the car and had on various articles of their own, leaving what did not fit behind. The value of the clothing made away with is about $150.

MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB.

Chief Feature a Paper Prepared by Dr. Dimful.
The economic section of the Green Ridge Woman's club held a fortnightly meeting yesterday which was well attended. The chief feature of the programme was a paper prepared by Dr.
Dimful, of the International Correspondence schools, relating to water supply and contained much instructive and interesting matter.

The writer did not consider that the water had been proved as being the source of such danger as has sometimes been asserted, but it recognized grave possibilities in the contamination of water from certain sources, particularly with regard to typhoid.

Dr. Alfred Mercer, of Syracuse, N.
Y., also made an address. He is a former member of the New York state board of health and gave a valuable talk, in the course of which he stated that in Syracuse the water supply is controlled by the city, is fitted with residence meters which cost the working men about 45 cents a year for the water used in his family. He is strongly in favor of the meter system, but then, as the ladies explained, he does not live in Scranton.

The remainder of the session was devoted to discussion. The question of the wicked lead pipe was taken up and so much excitement was caused by the remarks concerning the danger in school buildings, where water stands eighteen hours in the pipes, that it was decided to make a protest to the board of control. The remedies offered are iron pipes with galvanized lining, or a practice of allowing the water to run continuously during the hours when the schools are closed for the night. All of these suggestions would be expensive if applied.

The Providence Water company was also discussed. A committee has visited the upper reservoir, known as Summit Lake, and the members of that committee have returned with their report to the board of health, as the result of what they consider extremely filthy conditions at that rural resort.

A mass-meeting will be held this evening, when many addresses will be heard and the subject of water will be thoroughly discussed.

MABEY TAKEN TO JAIL.

Green Ridge Man Who Shot His Wife Went to Prison.
Stephen Mabey, the Green Ridge man who shot his wife Saturday was taken from police headquarters in the city here to the county jail yesterday afternoon. He was escorted there about 2:30 o'clock by Patrolman Perry and went along in a perfectly quiet and un-resisting manner.

Mabey claims that the shooting was entirely an accident and that he only meant to frighten his wife.

Opinions differ as to his condition.
To some he appears to be perfectly sane and rational, while others maintain that he is to some extent unbalanced.

DELBERT SMITH INJURED.

He Was Taken to the Moses Taylor Hospital.
Delbert Smith, of 1388 Luzerne street, a laborer employed at the new Lackawanna freight transfer station, was injured last evening at about 12 o'clock by the falling of a piece of cast iron from a truck.

He sustained severe bruises about the knees and was removed to the Moses Taylor hospital.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Amelia A. Carling died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Jay, 614 Spruce street, at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.
Mrs. Carling was born December 2, 1813, in Asbury, N. J. She was a daughter of James and Mary (Walker) Wiggins.
With her husband, William P. Carling, she removed to Scranton in 1849, when it was little more than a hamlet. Mr. Carling was an active business man in the community until his death in 1877, having been for a number of years the owner of James McKinley, whose widow died here last week. Since her husband's death Mrs. Carling has lived in the family of her daughter, Mrs. Jay. She was always a woman of great activity and energy of character. Her fidelity and efficiency in domestic duties are testified to not only by the members of her immediate family, but also by many men, now in middle life, who in their early residence in Scranton responded to the demands of duty or the appeals of want or misfortune with personal help or financial aid. Her spirit was patient, gentle and charitable.
Among the thousands who have known her in this community there are none who will recall of her any act or word prompted by malice, envy or ill-will.
Mrs. Carling had four children who lived to maturity. Peter C., who was the cashier of the Second National bank, and who died in 1879; William H., who served with credit during nearly the whole of the civil war, being successively a lieutenant in the One Hundred and Thirty-second and Pennsylvania and captain of Company G, One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Pennsylvania. After the war he was assistant paymaster of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company. He died in 1888. A daughter, Helen, died unmarried in 1886. The remaining daughter, Mrs. D. H. Jay, alone survives of her children. She leaves eleven grandchildren and eighteen great grandchildren.

Patrick Crane, of Twenty-first street, who was injured in the Hyde Park shaft some time ago, and afterward suffered from typhoid pneumonia, died yesterday morning at 1 o'clock. Deceased was a member of the Hyde Park Father Mathew society, Hyde Park Mine Accidental fund, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Mutual Aid and Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians. His wife and three children, Annie, James and Lee, survive him. The funeral will be conducted at St. Patrick's Catholic church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.
Interment will be made in the Cathedral cemetery.

Mrs. Annie Shaup, aged 43 years, died at her home on Larch street at 12 o'clock Sunday night. The funeral services will be conducted at the house at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and the remains will be taken to Delano on the 2 p. m. Delaware and Hudson train, where interment will be made.

David S. Cobb, who for a number of years has been a trusted conductor of the Delaware and Hudson company, died yesterday morning at the family residence, 35 New York street, from an attack of pneumonia. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Josephine, the 4-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Davis, of 229 North Ninth street, died yesterday. The funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

CORPSE SAID HELLO
TO UNDERTAKER

MAN SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD
PROVES VERY MUCH ALIVE.

John O. Davis, of Keyser Avenue, Who Apparently Died Suddenly Last Night, Is Found to Be Alive by Undertaker W. C. Price—Coroner Roberts Called to Investigate Death but Was Tardy in Going Because of Mysterious Manner of the Man Who Summoned Him.

"Hello, Price, what do you want here?" Is the salutation given the good knight South Main avenue undertaker at 11 o'clock last night by a corpse which he was about to prepare for burial.

The word "corpse" is used advisedly, too. It was not a case of mistaken identity, but an instance of a man becoming quick after he had been reported as a "sudden death" to the coroner, and after his relatives had engaged an undertaker to lay him out.

At 10:55 o'clock last night Coroner Roberts opened his office door to dismiss a patient and found standing in the vestibule an unknown man who had an heavy cloth eyeshawl and a striking look. The fact that he had not rapped and seemed a little started when the door was suddenly opened on him caused the doctor to view him with suspicion, and it was with some hesitancy he invited him to enter.

DAVIS REPORTED DEAD.

After being motioned to a seat the stranger asked, "Are you the coroner?" Receiving an affirmative answer he went on to say that John O. Davis, of 227 South Keyser avenue, had just died suddenly, and he had been asked to step in and tell the coroner.

The doctor said he would go over directly. The stranger asked which way the doctor intended going. The doctor said he thought he would take the Washburn street car, and asked the stranger if he was also going that way. The stranger replied that he was and the doctor remarked that they could go together. When asked his name the stranger said it was John Morris and indicated the Morris family to which he belonged, some members of which the doctor knew intimately.

When the doctor and Morris emerged from the office the latter joined two men who were standing near the gate and whispered something to one of them when the doctor was believed to be looking away. The doctor didn't like the looks of things and resolved that if he went to Keyser avenue at all it wouldn't be in the company of that trio.

Making an excuse that he had some urgent business up town the doctor bade his caller adieu, after giving them the impression that he might drive over instead of talking the car.

Morris asked the doctor if he wouldn't please telephone to John Lovering's in Greenwood and tell them about the death, as Mr. Davis was Mrs. Lovering's step-father. The doctor complied and found that the Loverings had already heard of the death and Mr. Lovering was on his way over to Keyser avenue.

CONFIRMATION FROM MINOOKA.

This re-assured the doctor somewhat, but he decided to take no chances and went up town to Davis' drug store.
He was relating the matter to Druggist Davis when Undertaker Price dropped in and interrupted him with a better story. Mrs. Lovering had telephoned to him from Minooka to go to Keyser avenue and tell the body of her step-father for burial.

He went there, ascended to the upper floor where the corpse was lying in bed and had just thrown down the coverlet when up spoke the corpse, as related in the opening paragraph. The undertaker took his leave before the expected commotion ensued. He wanted to get some air and a cup of strong coffee. Druggist Davis fixed him up.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS.

Adopted by the Children of Harford Soldiers' Orphan School.
At a meeting of the children of the Harford Soldiers' Orphan School, Dec.
1, 1899, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, it has been the good fortune of the children of the Harford Soldiers' Orphan School to have as their friend and benefactor, Mr. W. C. Price, of Scranton, who has kindly presented us with a number of books for our library; therefore,

Resolved, That our thanks are due, and are hereby tendered, to Mr. Norton, for his generosity and kindness; and we commend him for the interest he has taken in the soldiers' orphans of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be first sent to Mr. Norton and to the Scranton Tribune for publication.

INDEBTEDNESS OF
CITY OF SCRANTON

STATEMENT COMPLETED BY
DEPUTY CONTROLLER.

Shows That the Net Indebtedness of the City at Present Is $412,195.49.
City Has a Margin of $47,685.00 Which It Can Issue Bonds for Without Getting Over the Figure Prescribed by Law—Details of the Statement of the Controller as Filed with Clerk of the Courts.

A statement of the city's indebtedness has been finished by Deputy Controller Hartley, after about a month's work, and was yesterday sworn to by Controller Howell. The statement was prepared for the purpose of ascertaining if there was sufficient margin for the issuance of the $30,000 worth of bonds for park improvement purposes.
The present statement shows the city's net indebtedness to be $412,195.49.
The assessed valuation of the taxable property of the city for the year 1898 was $22,994,177. This leaves a margin of $47,685.00, or 21 per cent more than the proposed bond issue. The detailed statement is as follows:

AN EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Considerably Damaged the Krotosky Building at 309 Lackawanna Avenue—Origin a Mystery.

A fire broke out early yesterday morning at about 3:45 o'clock in the three-story brick building at 309 Lackawanna avenue, owned by Krotosky Brothers. The blaze had gained considerable headway when discovered by a passerby and smoke was pouring from the upper portion in volumes. An alarm was turned in from box 15, at Penn and Lackawanna avenues, and all the Central City companies responded.

The fire started on the rear of the second floor in a room occupied by D.
M. Cohen as a tailor shop, and was said to have started in the gallery of Photographer Cramer, on the third floor, when the firemen arrived. Mr.
Cramer was asleep on the third floor, but fortunately was awakened by the smoke and escaped. The blaze was extinguished after about a half hour's hard work on the part of the firemen, but not until it had eaten its way down into the Lehigh Valley Railroad company's office on the ground floor and badly damaged the photograph gallery.

The contents of the tailor shop were completely destroyed. Mr. Cohen could not be seen yesterday, but it is known that his loss is partially covered by insurance. Mr. Cramer estimates his loss at about $700, entirely covered by insurance. The loss of the Lehigh Valley company was caused principally by water and will not exceed $50. Kro-tosky Brothers place their loss at between $1,000 and $1,200, entirely covered by insurance.

While the origin of the fire is rather mysterious, the most plausible theory is that some ashes containing live coals were carelessly dumped in a bin of coal in the tailor shop, causing the coal to burn and in turn ignite the woodwork.
A large amount of ashes found among the ruins tends to lend color to this theory.

MUGGINS COGGINS ARRESTED.

Taken Into Custody By Police Officials on Suspicion.

About midnight Patrolman Feuster and Porter entered the Center street police station and ushered in Muggins Coggins, who had been arrested. He is a well known character in police circles and was arrested last night while trying to dispose of a parcel, made up of several articles of crochet and knit work, in a saloon at Penn avenue and Linden street. He took to his heels when he saw the policemen, who, however, succeeded in capturing him.

It is believed that the articles were stolen, but this is vigorously denied by the prisoner. For a long time after he was arrested he burst into a passionate strain, speaking of his home and mother. From this he rambled on into a discourse descriptive of the grandeur of the Coggins family in general, and Muggins Coggins in particular. He clinched his masterly effort by a sonorous offer to eat his own hat if what he said was not true.

MICHAEL MALONEY ARRESTED.

Charged by His Wife with Assault and Non-Support.

On Nov. 29 Mary Maloney, of 635 Elm street, went before Alderman Howe in New York street, charged with the arrest of her husband, Michael Maloney. She charged him with non-support, assault and threats to kill.

It took some time to capture Michael, but yesterday he was arrested in a house on New street, where he was boarding. He was taken before the alderman and there placed under $300 bail. He had left his wife for over three months and he will have to answer to the charge in court.

the animal was frightened by some boys standing near by, and dashed madly along. It rushed up Penn avenue and kept on its wild race until it was brought to a violent stop by running into a fence near Penn ave-overturned and Sternberger was thrown out. The horse dashed up the street, but was stopped and taken into Dorfman's blacksmith shop on Penn
