THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE- THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1899.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. BRENDEN'S COUNCIL.

Celebrated in Mears' Hall Last Evening with a Banquet and Social-Four-Year-Old Child Seri-R-fuse ously Scalded-May Not Recover. Just as Three Funerals Yesterday-Aldermanic Cases - Church Suppers. Meeting of Fourth Ward Candidates-Other Notes and Personals.

The fifth anniversary of St, Brenden's council, Young Men's Institute, was fittingly celebrated with a banquet and social at Mears' hall last evening. Three tables were spread the length of the hall, and Hanley's assistants served a palatable menu, which consisted of the following:

Roast Turkey Vienna Bread Cranberry Sauce Ollves Gherkins Salted Almonds Angel Food Cake Coffee

ice Cream

When the luncheon was finished, President John F. Durkin opened the post-prandial exercises with a few appropriate remarks, John J. Durkin was the first speaker, and he gave a re-sume of the order and its origin. Thomas McHugh spoke of the literary attainments of the members of St. Brenden's council, the fame of which has spread throughout the state. He spoke of the efforts put forth by the members in the early days of the society, and the success obtained in the literary circle. He urged the ladies to use their influence in bringing young men into the fold.

M. J. Fitzgibbons referred to the Pennsylvania Grand council and its finances, which he stated was in a flourishing condition. There are about 15,000 members in the state, he said. James Quinnan was the next speaker and in a humorous vein referred to the early days of the council. James Brown was called upon to speak for the bachelors, and gave a few pleasing remarks along that line. Edward Hurst spoke of the "light lunch club" connected with the council and told how the members conduct their semblies. Joseph Evans, of Marquette council, North Scrapton, was assigned the toast "The Ladies," and did justice to the subject in an able manner.

The Lawrence orchestra furnished music during the evening and for the dance.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Vanston, Mr. and Mrs. Crady, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cosgrove, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs M. F. Wymbs, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Is close upon us, and as usual we've made elaborate an orchestra, and invites all young women who play or who desire to learn preparations to celebrate its advent in fitting style, while at the same time we have left no stone unto play stringed instruments to join. The fee is a small one, and association turned to make its approach a pleasant and profitamembership is not necessary to become ble season for all our friends.

On Friday Morning Next

We open our grand annual display of holiday gift goods, suitable for all ages and conditions of mankind. As is well known, ours is a cosmopolitan store, catering for all the people, and at no time is that more fully emphasized than during the Christmas Holiday Season, when all the people want something to remember their friends with, and as much depends on the amount of cash available to go round.

This Year's Display Shows For Grown

Abundance of scrupulous care on our part to meet the requirements of all our friends. For those whose money must go a long ways, we show an abundance of pretty and popular and useful gifts for little money, for people who are not so particular about a few cents one way or the other, there is enough and to spare, under the most critical inspection, while for those who seek novelties or high qualities our stock offers pretty nearly all that heart can wish for.

If Course You Want to Learn

A hint or two about the things that await your inspection. 'Tis a hard task with such a multitudinous assortment before us, and so we relinquish the task right here. A fex things may be gleaned, however and a fragmentary idea gathered here and there. For instance there's a doll stock that covers the entire realm of Dolldom, from the stately dressed model beauty down to the humblest specimen of the race that's worth taking into any respectable home. There's dolls furniture, too, of all kinds, dolla' trunks and everything else that can make a good little home loving girl happy. Then there are toy books, old favorites and new comers in abundance, and so many other things that young folks like. that they're bound to be suited here.

There's no end to the variety and value of things shown. Bric-a-Brac is a handy phrase covering a multitude of pretty and often times useful odds and ends. Use it in its most comprehensive sense, and you'll find more than covered here.

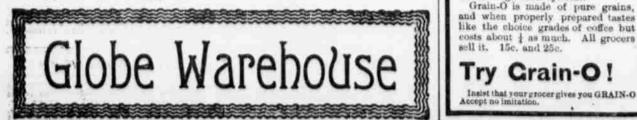

Art Pottery forms a strong feature of this season's display and choice examples from the most famous potteries in the world are shown in abundance. Fancy Woodwork, Ebony, Oak, Mahogany, etc., come in all sorts of Boxes, Holders of all kinds and Nic-Nacs general-Rich Glass and Opalescent Ware, Fine Wrought Metal, Odds and Ends, Picture Frames, Frame1 Mirrors, etc., also make a pretty showing, while the thousands and one other things make the Globe Warehouse Christmas display the most complete ever shown in
