D. & H. WRECK.

A wreck occurred on the Delaware and Hudson road near Jefferson Junetion yesterday morning, when Con-luctor Breese's train parted. The locomotive and a number of ears constituting the head section stopped for the engine to take water and the rear section crashed into it. A number of cars were demolished, but no one was

THE NEWS AND THE OCTOPUS.

The Evening News has been excep-Honally zealous in its effort for the people as opposed to the Consolidated Water Supply company, or octopus, as the News calls it. Last evening the Leader created a sensution by publishing a letter from F. B. Baker, a newspaper broker, offering the News to Joseph Jermyn, head of the water combine for $2,500. The Leader has more surprises up its sleeve.

The following is from the Paterson, J., Press and relates to the silk mill near the Episcopal church: "Paterson silk men continue to extend their enterprises to other cities and towns. At Jermyn, Pa., near Carbondale, is found the mill of the Dutton Throwing company, composed of James Dutton, long engaged in that branch of the industry at Paterson, and Robert T. Maxwell, large extension, which will double the capacity of the mill, is being made, and the Dutton equipment from Pateron will be added, making a plant, taken together, of about 3,500 spindles." Mrs. Thomas Mann, of Whitmore avenue, West Mayfield, was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends on Thursday evening, it being the anaiversary of her fifty-fifth birthday. A flashlight picture of the gorup was taken by Prof. Fowler, after which rereshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Michael Roberts, E. C. Wheeler, J. Penrose, E. Toman, J. THEATRICAL.

"The Sorrows of Satan."

At the Lyceum last night local theaergoers had an opportunity of seeing dramatization of Marie Corelli's novel, "The Sorrows of Satan." This story tells that Satan, having been cast ut of heaven, is doomed to visit the world until such a time as men shall eject his temptations. This universal ejection will bring about his forgiveness. Naturally, therefore, his earnest wish is that men shall be moral and upright, although his boast in heaven binds him to tempt them to be quite the contrary.

He, himself, is a model of propriety in human disguise. He stops at the most fashionable hotel in London, has fabulous wealth, wears perfect clothes and is known as Prince Lucio Rimanez. He meets Goeffrey Tempest, a povertystricken literary man, and to him maniges to convey a large fortune which satan hopes he will use in aid of good unfortunate Satan, much against his will, is forced to lead through all the sinfulness of London, a leadership which, of course, he is eminently fitted to assume, despite his personal repugnance. Tempest meets and falls in love with Lady Sibyl Etton, a beauti ful, ingenious and susceptible girl Sibyl, however, has fallen in love with the handsome Satan bimself, and only marries Tempest to better gain the at-fections of his satanic friend. Repulsed by her when, within he husband's hearing, she grovels at his feet and begs for one hour of hin love she commits, suicide, but in her lost agony it is revealed to her that her mad infatuation has been for the terrible Prince of Darkness. In mld-ocean the prince doffs his modern dress, appears in the fiendish garb of the conventional devil and convinces Tempest of an existence beyond the grave. It the wreck that follows the mortal cries out his faith in God and this conversich places Satan by one soul nearer his own redemention.

This unusual and dramatic story was strongly presented last night Charles Kent demonstrated his worth as an actor by his finished portrayal of the role of Prince Lucio Rimanez. Miss Emily Dodd in the role of Lady Sibyl had several strong scenes, which she carried off in a capable manner. Other clever members of the com pany were Ross O'Neal, Frank Roberts, Cecil Magnus, Marie Curtis and Anna Mortland. The play is staged in an unusually fine manner.

Engagement Closes Today

This afternoon the Shea company wi epeat "A Tule of Two Cities" at the Academy of Music, and tonight the engagement will close with a presentation of "Man-o'-War's Man.

"The Highwayman."

The Broadway Theatre Opera company announces the re-engagement of Mr. Arthur Deagon, as Captain Scarlet, in "The Highwayman." Mr. Deagon's success with this organization last season, established him as a comic opera favorite of the first quality. In speaking of the performance of De Roven & Smith's tuneful opera in Rochester, the following is quoted from the local press: "Arthur Deagon, who sings the star male role, makes an admirable Captain Scarlet, the Irish soldier of fortune, ruined by marked cards and loaded dice, who takes to the road and gains notoriety as Captain Scarlet."

It is reported that arrangements have been made with De Koven & Smith to write a new opera which will be produced early in the fall, in which Mr. Deagan will appear as a full-fledged "The Highwayman" with b presented at the Luceum next Monday

Aubrey Dramatic Company.

The attraction at the Academy o Music next week will be the Aubrey Dramatic Stock company, an organization of superior merit in a repertoir of popular successes.

The opening bill will be "The Land of the Living," a thrilling melodrama in five acts by Frank Harvey, the great English dramatist. This play is particularly interesting at the present time, as some of the scenes are laid in the South African diamond fields and in the vicinity of Kimberley, where the Boers and English are now fighting.

The piece is handsomely staged and some of the scenes are novel as well as beautiful, particularly the ones Lackawanna council, No. 54, Daugh- showing the great London bridge and Pocohontas, held an interesting the House of Parliament, London, meeting Thursday evening. "Hearts of Oak."

"Hearts of Oak," by James A. Herne a forerunner of his other successful play, "Shore Acres," is to be presented at the Lyceum next Tuesday by a company selected, rehearsed and managed by the author. "Hearts of Oak" will come to this generation of play-goers almost in the shape of a novelty, not having been seen in this city for a very long time. A splendid production is promised, a good company, and without doubt plenty of Mr. Herne's New England realism will be interjected an excellent officer and should be into the presentation. "Hearts of Oak" is divided into six acts, almost a novelty in itself in these days. In the east are E. P. Sullivan, as Terry Dennison, the part played by Mr. Horne for so long: James Herne, as Ruby Darrell: Nat Jones, as Owen Garroway; Ida Hamilton, as Chrystal, and the other parts by Thomas Hunter, Eliote Enniking, Marie Adair, Francis more street Thursday night.
