CARBONDALE.

CONSOLIDATED IS A HUMBUG AND SHAM

HAS NO LEGAL EXISTENCE IN THE CITY OF CARBONDALE.

50 Declares Ex-Judge Rhone-The Eminent Jurist Addresses a Citizens' Meeting and Points Out the Way to Municipal Water-Public Ownership of Public Utilities the Trend of the Times-Fifty-Four Per Cent. of Cities and Borough Own Their Plants.

Ex-Judge Rhone, of Wilkes-Barre, who was engaged by the committee of 100 to render an opinion as to the possibility of municipal ownership of Carbondale water plant, addressed a citizens' meeting in the Academy of Music Saturday night. The little theater was crowded to the doors with enthsulastic taxpayers eager to learn how to proceed to shake off the galling yoke of the Consolidated Water Supply company and establish a municipal plant which shall be an enduring blessing to the industrial interests of the city.

Mayor Kilpatrick introduced the judge, who prefaced als remarks by saying that he had expected to have arranged by Mrs. Lynch prevented.

Then as an introduction to the water old men present could simply act in an physory capacity, and that the munity as in others, he continued, and circumstances which make a death occasionally a good thing, but they are not to be reckened with. There are brains, energy and capital enough in your city to last until the present capitalists are all dead.

In the cases of small consumers it not so much the three cents a day increase in rates that prouses you as it is the imposition-the increase without cause. But in its discouragement to manufacturers it is more than an imposition; it is a positive hindrance to your prosperity.

TREND OF THE TIME.

is the trend of the times. This spirit has been advancing for 200 years. Everybody can do better than any-Everybody knows more than anybody, and our laws which regulate educations, mines and factories have several months past and the been passed because the welfare of everybody is of greater consequence than the welfare of anybody.

You would not tolerate private cwnership of your sewers, and it should be the same with water. In public ownership you get the largest measure of benefit for the smallest expenditure of money. Take the mails fir example. Does any one think private cornorations ought to carry the mails. Before my time it was too, in my time five, and now it is two cours postage,

Fifty-four per cent, of the cities and boroughs of this country own their water plants, and all are satisfied. I have yet to learn of a single instance in which public ownership has failed. New Orleans once became dissatisfied and allowed its water works to pass into the hands of a private corpor-ation, but conditions became intolerable and after much difficulty the city again got control. Philadelphia recently gave up a gas plant, but that cas due to fraud. It is not only your uty but economy to have municipal

EXAMPLES REPORTED.

The judge then read reports from Pennsylvania cities that have their on water and went on: Suppose It is a success and suppose it is your duty to furnish it. What then? How are you going to put it on the ground? First resolve to do it because of the Emposition; secondly, to aid industry, and thirdly, to save a large amount in taxes. If you are not mad enough now for that you never will be, and will never be done.

"be made of procedure was then outlined. Go into councils, get an engineer to make plans and specifications and find out the cost, which will somewhere between $200,000 and $306,000. Then bond the city or have it put in on a contract, the contractor to collect his interest and a certain pertion of the principal each year, and the city to have the right of purchase after ten years by paying the balance of the original cost. If you reject such an offer as this you ought to suffer

You have the right to lay pipes even if it ruins the old company. The fact is that the Consolidated Water Supply company is a humbug and sham with no legal existence in this city. There is only the Crystal Lake company and this concern on the West The others are mere marauders and have no business here at all.

COURAGE NECESSARY.

Go to councils as your servants, and after the start of the movement the first thing you will meet with will be an injunction. Don't be afraid of that. An injunction never killed anybody. You'll probably have to go to the supreme court, for all the corporations say, "The people be damned, we'll law them to death." In a year you'll have it settled and at small cost. In the meantime use just as little water as possible. Work in the spirit of millions for defense but not one cent for

The corporations will find you are masters. They enter a city on their bellies and after they get what they want they rise up us your masters. Don't be frightened by litigation. If there is no other way you can condemn the old plant and take It at cost with a certain percentage added. Get to undertake this who would rather die than submit to an imposition. Get men who want to do right. After an expression of thanks to Judge Rhone, a resolution was adopted declaring the ordinance in select counell for reduction of rates to be op-

Hogarth's band fair was greeted by full house on Saturday, the opening night, and seldom has Windsor hall contained a larger crowd of people. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and presented a very animated scene for several hours. The booths, which were presided over by Mrs. Mayne and Mrs. Burns, who were assisted by a number of young ladies, contained a large assortment of pretty things for sale and the refreshment booth in charge of Will Miller and Fred Hogarth, was well patronized. The story tells of the love of two men, the dearest of friends for the same woman and of how one man sacrifices his own happiness for that of his friend only to have the other do like-wise for him. In the cast are E. P. Snillivan, who is to be seen in Mr. Herne's old part of Terry Dennison. James Horne, Nat Jones, Thomas Huner, Ida Hamilton, Eliote Enneking and Marie Adair. The "Hearts of Oak" quartette is to be a feature of the programme, and consists of Lionel Hogarth. Charles Bates, Robert Kelly and Francis Leary.

"A Romance of Athlone."

Chauncey Olcott's new play will be presented at the Lyceum next Thursday and Friday nights. It was written for him by his manager, Augustus Fitou, author of "Sweet Inniscarra," and is entitled "A Romance of Athione." The play is in four acts and four scenes.

The period of the play is the begin ning of this century, which gives ample opportunity for magnificent costuming Mr. Olcott plays Dick Ronyane, son of Sir Philip Ronyane. He is noble, gen erous, brave, jovial and light-hearted. Mr. Olcott has written and composed five songs expressly for this play.
