CONFERRING WITH TRUESDALE

Trainmen's Committee Not Yet Returned from New York.

The committee representing the Lackawanna trainmen have carried their grievances to President Truesdale and were in New York yesterday conferring with him. They had not returned up to midnight, but a report preceded them that Mr. Trucsdale was found to hold the same views as General Superintendent Russell, namely, that the alleged gri-vances are not of a general nature and can be readily rectified by the local officials.

The report that F. P. Sargeant, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and P. H. Morrissey, head of the Brotherhood of Rallroad Trainmen. were in New York consulting with the Lackawanna committee is denied. Mr. Morrissey, however, is expected in New York next Saturday, it is said, Joseph Specta Found Not Guilty of the Charge of Felonious Wounding but Convicted of Felonious Attempt-Albert Lloyd Tried on a Charge of Larceny and Receiving. Common Scold Case from Vandling with Spicy Features-Other Cases Heard Yesterday.

Mrs. Lena Gable, who was indicted at the instance of Coroner J. J. Roberts for illegally practicing medicine, was yesterday returned not guilty and the costs placed on the county. evidence was offered on the part of the defense,

Mrs. Gable was brought prominently to the attention of the public some months ago through her arrest in connection with the death of a child of Mr. and Mrs. Hannon, who then re sided on South Filmore avenue. Mrs. Gable attended Mrs. Hannon during her confinement, and on the day following the birth of the child it died. Coroner Roberts held an inquest and on the strength of the verdict of the coroner's jury, Mrs. Gable was arrested and indicted. When the case was called for trial Monday morning neither commonwealth or defendant were ready for trial and the case was continued until the afternoon and word sent to Coroner Roberts to be present. In the afternoon when the ease was again reached Judge R. W. Archbald directed that it go to trial, although District Attorney Jones said he was unprepared, owing to the fact that Dr. Roberts had not put in an appearance.

THE JUDGE'S COMMENT.

"If the coroner was very much interested in this case he would be here," replied Judge Archbald. Just then County Detective Leyshon informed the court that he had telephoned to Dr. Roberts' office and was informed that he was on the way to the court

"We will let the case go to trial." the Judge said, "and you can proceed with the case up to the point where you need the coroner. If he does not come adjourn the court until morning and have him here then."

The case continued to the point where the evidence of the doctor would come in and then the case went over until yesterday morning. When court opened the coroner was still missing and the commonwealth rested. No evidence was offered for the defense, but Attorney C. S. Olver, who appeared for Mrs. Gable, asked for binding instructions for the reason that It had not been shown that Mrs. Gable practiced medicine. What she practheed was midwifery, which Mr. Olver held, is something which the law recognizes as different from what is generally known as the practice of medi-

Judge Gordon refused to give the binding instructions and sent the case to the jury. A verdiet of not guilty, ounty to pay the costs was returned. The coroner appeared a few minutes after the case was given to the jury,

THE SPECTA CASE.

Before Judge Archbald yesterday morning the trial of Joseph Specta, of was resumed. He was charged with feloniously wounding his father, Pasquella Speota, and attempting to feloniously wound Michal Res-Specta went on the stand and denied that he had a revolver on the night the alleged crimes were committed and therefore that he could not have shot anyone or attempted to shoot. The jury found him not guilty of felonious wounding, but guilty of felonious attempt. He was fined $25 and costs.

Louis Ackerman, a junk man of this city, was tried for the theft of iron from the farm of Fred Holderle, in Greenfield township. A barn on the farm burned down some time ago and it was alleged by the presecutor that Ackerman took from the ruins the iron remnants of certain wagons and farm implements destroyed in the fire. It was shown that Ackerman did not commit the theft charged, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and directed that the prosecutor pay the Charles Goots and Carrie Goots failed to appear to answer a charge of selling liquor without a license and their bails were forfeited and capiases issued for The ball of Charles Zelinsky, charged with assault and battery by Joseph Kutcavage, was forfelted for the same reason, but the forfeiture was subsequently stricken off on it being shown that Zellnsky is Ill. He re-entered bail, Peter Dulsky becoming his ondsman in the sum of $300.

LLOYD ON TRIAL.

Albert Lloyd, a boy of sixteen, who resides in North Scranton, was tried on a charge of stealing money from store of A. Huskovitz, of North Main avenue. The prosecutor and his brother testified that the accused is the person they saw running from the store on the night of the theft. He had a pocketbook in his hand, which he had taken from the money drawer Lloyd said he was standing opposite Huskovitz's store on the night of the theft and saw a little boy in knee breeches run out of the store and down North Main avenue. The boy did not opear to be more than nine or ten years of age. A number of Lloyd's mpanions gave similar testimony When under cross-examination Lloyd admitted that he was arrested for a number of thefts in North Scranton, and had been in the House of Refuge for his light-fingered work. He was released from the refugeabout a month sefere the theft with which he is now charged. The case was given to the Jury at 3,45 p. m. Verdicts of not guilty were returned yesterday morning in the case of Peter Burke, charged with Jarceny and recelving by Chief of Police Rabling, and Mrs. Mary Yagoda, charged by Constable Fred Addison, of Old Forge, with selling liquor without a license at that place. The cases were tried on Mon-

William Davies was indicted for being the father of the child of Martha Williams. The child has since died and a settlement of the case was effeeted. Yesterday a verdict of not guilty was taken and the costs were placed on the defendant.

WEST SIDE CASE. Frank Degnall, Jr., and William Me-Andrews were tried for committing an assault and battery on Melvin Corse The prosecutor swore that on the night of Sept. 23 he was on his way to his home in West Scranton and stepped into Connors' hotel, on Jackson street.

Both of the defendants were in the place at the time and when he left there they followed him. A short distance from Conners' place they assaulted him and tried to rob him. From

The defendants denied that they assaulted or attempted to rob Corse, Degnall said that Corse tried to pick a quarrel with them and he pushed him away, but did not hit him. McAndrew denied having laid a hand on the prosecutor in any way. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the ests equally between prosecutor and defendants, George Harvey was indicted for aggravated assault and battery on Emily McHale. Harvey is a boy, and by agreement a verdict of not guilty was taken upon the payment of the costs by the defendant.

Before Judge Gordon, in No 2, the ross-suits of Ludwig Loswiski against John Bendokos and Bendokos against Losniski were tried. Losniski was charged with attempting to criminally assault Bendokos' wife and Bendokos was accused of assaulting and battering Losniski. The jury decided there was small merit in the cases and re-turned verdicts of not guilty and directed that the defendants pay the COMMON SCOLD CASE. Mrs. Mary J. Willis was tried before Judge Archbald on a charge of being a common scold. Mrs. Agnes Hodgsons was the prosecutrix. The women live at Vandling, and Mrs. Hodgsons testified that Mrs. Willis was in the habit of yelling out on the main street and scolding the prosecutrix and others at the top of her voice. She also was in the habit of using profane language and of recklessly exposing her person to the gaze of the men, women and children of Vandling.

The defense tried to show that the prosecution was actuated by the that Mrs. Willis had upbraided Mrs. Hodgsons for trying to allenate the affections of husband of the defendant. It was stated that Mrs. Hodgsons and Mr. Willis were in the habit of enjoying a social glass together. The common-wealth rested just before adjourning hour last night and the defense will be heard today.

When court adjourned the crosssuits of the Woyshners and Hasuriks, who are neighbors in South Scranton, were on trial before Judge Gordon. Assault and battery and malicious mischief are charged,

Three Opinions Handed Down.

Judge Edwards handed down several opinions yesterday. In the case of Margaret O'Connor against the city of Scranton a rule for a new trial was refused and also in the two other cases tried with this one, in which Patrick Sullivan and Catharina Sullivan were plaintiffs. The judge decided that there was no merit in the reasons as-

A rule for a new trial in the case of Mary Timmons against the city of Carbondale was also refused. She claim. The city's attorney, R. D. Stuby M. J. Norton was discharged.

Two Divorce Cases.

Before Judge Archbald yesterday afernoon testimony was taken in the cations re Harry Finn and Nellie Allen against Benjamin Allen. The Finns were married in Hoboken N. J., Oct. 12, 1897, and on July 12, 1899, Mrs. Finn says she had to leave her husband because of his cruelty and neglect. She is nowing living with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Walker, in Park Place.

The Allens were also married in Nex Jersey, Aug. 19, 1896. March 17, 1897, deserted his wife without explaining why and has not lived with her since. Mrs. Allen and her child have since the desertion resided with Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Josephine Beels, on Olive street,

YEAR'S WORK OF BOARD OF CHARITIES

REPORTED ON AT LAST NIGHT'S ANNUAL MEETING.

The Secretary, Rev. Rogers Israel, Reported in Detail on the Work That Was Accomplished-Reports Presented by the Other Officers. Board Reorganized and Selected Directors and Officers for the Year. Mrs. Duggan Again Selected for the Position of Agent.

The annual meeting of both the directors and the members of the board of associated charities was held last evening in the Albright library. Those present at both meetings were Colone E. H. Ripple, W. Gaylord Thomas, E. B. Sturges, Rev. Rogers Israel; John Gibbons, C. H. Welles, D. J. Phillips T. J. Kelly and Mrs. W. B. Duggan.

Rogers Israel presented the annual report of the board of directors, which was read and approved. This report, which is a comprehensive resume o the work done by the board during the past year, is given below: The board of directors of the Associated Charities of Scranton present this, their sixth annual report to the public with a sense of pride in the good work that the organization has done. The work of every year must, of course, always present certain features in common, but each year new conditions arise which must be carefully considered and solved. This is true in every progressive organization to some extent, but is especially true with us, as it is human nature with which we deal, and largely human nature in a degraded condition and under most discouraging surroundings,

In the beginning our object was simply to organize a bureau of information, clearing house of charities, where every organization or benevolent individual could prove the cases applying for aid, and thus prevent importure and dupli-

We scon found it impossible with some cases of desperate need to await the slow processes of assistance by charitable organizations. When people were hungry, they had to be fed, or when cold must be warmed, and so we have been led to assist with provisions and coal in such cases of immediate need.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

In cases of contagious diseases, as our ospitals had no isolated wards, it fell upon us to provide in some way for care and attention. To this end a district nurse has been employed from time to time, as the funds permitted and the life of many a woman and child has been raved; the conditions surrounding them improved, and on their return to health the future greatly brightened by the care which had tended to their recovery, and the cleanliness which had resulted from the exertions of the nurse.

Our office thus became the center of applications, not only in cases of sickconceivable human need. Men and wo men out of work applied for situations; mothers seeking erring daughters desired advice and counsel and detective work: neighbors and friends began to report sucd the city for $1,300 damages and cruelty to children; notes and telephone was awarded the full amount of her requests came in beseeching a relief from street begging and fakirs, indeed no ill art, accordingly asked for a new triat. the city is heir to, but is now brought. The rule asked for on D. B. Roplogle for attention and cure to us—even to the securing of husbands and wives, and the seeking of advice for the getting rid of the same.

In our office now centers not only the bureau of information with 10.951 appltorded, but the distribution of immediate need; the entertainment in our emergency hespital of many worthy but miserable and distressed people who otherwise must be housed in station house cells; the nursing of poor and distressed and ignorant people, especially mothers and little children; child saving and the prevention of cruelty to children intelligence office work: rescue of girls and women; the prevention of street begging and of the imposition of fakirs. and indeed, a general superintendence of the city's morals in all things less than crime THRUST UPON BOARD.

All these various forms of charitable work have been thrust upon us by the needs of the situation. We could possibly have avoided them, but it must necessarily have been at the very great expense of the moral condition of the city. We offer no excuse for having assumed so important a role, for the need was upon us to accept the situation as we found it and to accomplish the work presented. If any other organization or clety will undertake to do these neces sary things, we will gladly return to our original basis of a simple bureau of information.

That this work is being well done our witness in a greater freedom from street and house-to-house begging: parents can testify in daughters saved from ruin or rescued and placed in institutions for reformation. The court calendars will
