side. During this scene a number of ridiculous incidents take place after each other so quickly that one's breath is almost taken away.

The second scene is a steamer's deck and what takes place here is beyond description. The third act represents an island upon which the ship has been wrecked, and here occurs a num ber of first-class specialties, terminating with a funny fire scene, one of the most laughable effects ever produced.

At the Calety Theater.

Lang's Operatic Burlesquers were the attraction offered verterday at the Galety theater. The company was hardly up to the standard. Some of the individual acts, however, were well performed, and favorably received by the audience. Fred Barth did a clever contortion act, the Niver sisters sang in good voice and Her Tiro's acrobatic work was magnificent. The performance will be repeated today and tomorrow afternoons and evenings.

Lester Walter Company.

Next week at the Academy of Music an attraction at popular prices that is said to be something of a povelty in these days of time worn plays and hackneyed features, will hold the boards.

For one week the Lester Walter Stock company, supporting the young romantic actor. Lester Walter, will be seen in a series of plays that are new to this place.
