Official Notice by the Borough Committee-The Number of Candidates | serted Free. for the Various Nominations is Very Great-Names of Those Who

Are Seeking for Them-Missionary Meeting Tomorrow-Two Pleasant Social Events-Other Notes and Personals.

The Republican committee has isued the following notice regarding the oming primaries:

The Republican primaries for the purose of nominating candidates for the everal borough offices will be held at the egular polling places in each district on Saturday, January 29, 1900. The polls will be open between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock p. m. All persons wishing to be-come candidates for the several offices nust register their names with the bo-ough chairman on or before Saturday, December 30, 1890. The following offices are to be filled: One burgess, one tax collector, one street commissioner, one treasurer, two councilmen, two school directors, one auditor. H. M. Spencer, chairman; W. D. Potter, Secretary.

The borough chairman will probably be kept busy night and day between now and December 30 registering can-didates as, to use a trite expression,

'the woods are full of 'em." For burgess there are five already in the field, namely, W. R. Wilson, nine foreman at the Mt. Pleasant mine: C. P. Savage, private secretary of George E. Smith; H. M. Spencer, superintendent of Spencer's mines: Deputy Factory Inspector E. W. Bishop, and J. F. Fear, assistant paymaster of the Pennsylvania Coal company. All of these men are equally popular and as an interested party said last night regarding their chances: "It's a toss up

For the nomination for street commissioner the candidates are just as numerous. Those who have appeared so far are John Brice, Carl Minch, Jacob Stark, W. F. Burley, D. Fetzer, Eber Branning and A. J. Wagner, The following are desirous of being put up for councilmen: C. H. Webber, James Wilson, N. N. Demmett, J. L. Medway and Max Chapman. A large number of candidates for the nomination for school director have also appeared. They are as follows: E. C. The Standard Union of Brooklya comments as follows on the performance of Francis Wilson in "Cyrano," which is announced for the Lyceum theatre tonight: "At the Montauk theatre last night one of the largest audiences of the season greeted Francis Wilson in his musical and humorous version of 'Cyrano de Bergerac.' The medium whica the odd and active little comedian has chosen for the display of his talents is called a comic opera, and is in reality a clover treatment of the famous play in such a manner that without violent changes in the story every incident is made to appear in a cheerful and ludicrous light. Of course, Cyrano does not die in the end, but the curtain falls on the charming Roxane making good progress toward becoming accustomed o the assertive nose, whose owner at last receives her love. The music is by Victor Herbert and the words by Harry B. Smith. Both sustain their reputation, which has been gained by many popular successes. Anything pitch during all the evening."

with intense pains in the stomach. He was removed to his home and medical aid summoned. On Thursday last the attending physicians deemed an operation necessary, as the symptoms showed signs of appendicitis. The operation was performed and it was learned that a blood vessel had burst and clotted blood had formed about the stomach. His condition grew wors : and worse and on Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock the end came, He was aged 41 years. He was well and favorably known throughout the valey and has held many positions of trust under the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and large coal concerns, He was a prominent memoof the Kingston lodge, Free and Ac-cepted Masons, and a past emitent commander of the Wilkes-Barre com mandery, Knights Templar.
