THE TURKEYS WERE RAFFLED.

bell

There were more turkey raffles in this city last week than were ever before conducted here in the same length of time. The result was that the usual ante-Christmas street scenes were missed. Instead of a couple of scores of wagons on Salem avenue and Main street loaded with turkeys there we:? three. The farmers said their turkeys were bought up weeks ago by those who intended to raffle them. Hence this spirit of gambling is responsible for the scarcity of that fowl at the meat markets.

WORKED IN THE RAIN.

A large force of faithful employes of the Traction company worked all day yesterday in the driving wind and rain. The operations in hand are apt to be interrupted any day by a hard freeze-up or big snow storm and as this would not only leave the company but the city streets in bad shape, ev erybody is interested in the progress of the work.

THE CHILDREN'S INNING.

Special music was rendered in all the churches yesterday, although the congregations were small, owing to the very bad weather. The children have their inning tonight when the Christmas exercises and presentation of gifts will occur at all the churches except the Congregational. HENRY J. ANDERSON.

MUSICAL GOSSIP.

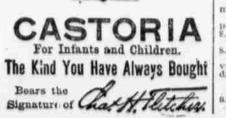

Mr. Sumner Saller, who succeeds Mr. Jervis in association with Miss Hardenbergh, is a musician and teacher well-known not only in New York. but throughout the country. His reputation before the general public is perhaps greater as an organist than a planist, but in recent years he has devoted himself more closely to artisthe plane teaching. For three years Mr. Salter was the editor of The Pianis and Organist, a high class monthly musical magazine. He was president of the New York State Music Teachers' association in 1897-1898, when the annual meeting was held for the second successive year in Binghamton: owing to the great success of the meeting the previous year when Mr. Salter was chairman of the committee in charge of the programme. Mr. Salter is at present the warden, or chief executive officer of the American Guild of Organists, a body including in its membership the representative organists and choirmasters of the country. He has been for six years the organist and director of music at the West End Collegiate church (Reformed Dutch) at Seventy-seventh street and West End avenue, New York, His choir, consisting of a solo quartette, with Mme. Anita Rio, soprano, and Mrs. Katherine Bloodgood, contralto, is one of the finest in the metropolis.

Mr. Salter is an ardent advocate of the Clavier system of plano study as a means to an artistic musical end The soundness of the principles underlying this method he demonstrated for himself years ago and his great success in teaching is due largely to his intelligent practical application of them to the needs of plano players. Mr. Salter is associated with Mr. A. K. Virgil, the inventor of the practice clavier and author of the clavier method, in the Clavier company's plane school, New York. Thoughtful people will realize that the opportunity for music-study with an artist of Mr. Salter's temperament and qualifications is an important one: and that his connection with the Hardenbergh school of music and art will still further sustain the excellence and high stending to which this school attained from the outset.
