SOCIAL EVENTS.

A delightful Christmas dance was given at the Scranton Bicycle club house last night by subscription. It was under the patronage of Mrs. Timothy Burke, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien and Mrs. John W. Fitzgibbon. Lawrence furnished the music and Hanley served a luncheon at midnight.

Decorations appropriate to the season were tastefully arranged by Clark. About one hundred couples enjoyed the affair, many of them being from out of town.

Among the latter were: Miss Margaret Mayock, of Miners Mills; Miss Nellie O'Brien, of Brooklyn; Miss Nagle, of Hoboken, N. J.; Miss Anna Barrett, of Carbondale; Miss Houlihan, of Susquehanna; Miss Julia Hincliffe, of Paterson, N. J.; Miss Magrhan, of Binghamton; Miss Grace O'Malley, of Pittston; A. T. Walsh, of Pittston; George O'Brien, of Pittston; Dr. Congdon, of Binghamton.

Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fitzgibbon.

Tonight the great society event of the year, the famous Bachelors' ball, will be held in the Lyceum theater. The arrangements are perfect for the most elaborate event in the history of this series of brilliant affairs. The committee, Messrs. J. H. Brooks, P. B. Bell, F. C. Fuller, Worthington Scranton and M. B. Fuller, are congratulating each other on the assured success of the much-talked-of dance. There will be the largest company ever assembled in this city on a similar occasion. The decorating was begun yesterday in the supper rooms, where there are many changes in the plans pursued in the past. This morning Florist Clark will have an army of men at work in the preparations, which will contain many new features.

Caterer Holland promises a surprise in the menu which will be served to-night and will surpass all previous efforts on similar occasions in this city. The orchestra will be the largest provided for dancing here and Bauer will prove to society folk that he is capable of satisfying even the most fastidious demands. Alexander's Military band, of Wilkes-Barre, will provide the alternate numbers. The programme is unique and will excite the utmost enthusiasm by reason of the choice selections.

The boxes have all been sold. They number sixteen and are admirably arranged. The decorations of draperies by Watkins will be exceptionally striking, as will also the Oriental rooms. There are many out-of-town guests in the city, and while the assembly at Wilkes-Barre, which also takes place tonight, will keep a number away, the presence of strangers will be notable. The Penn avenue entrance will be used, the eastern corridor being occupied by the Turkish rooms. The music for dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. There will be forty-four numbers on the programme, with a probability of extras.

Colonel and Mrs. George Sanderson gave a dancing party last evening in honor of their daughter, Miss Helen. Their picturesque home on North Washington avenue had a Christmas-like effect with its decorations of green, intermingled with red. About seventy-five guests were entertained. They were:

Miss Hoxsey, of Paterson, N. J.; Miss Emma Wilder, Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Kingman and the Misses Sterling, of Orange, N. J.; Miss Shotwell, of Gloversville, N. Y.; Miss Waterman, Southport, Conn.; Miss Waring, Plainfield, N. J.; Miss Frances P. Simpson, New York; Miss Jadin, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. Charles Hickok, Harrisburg; Mr. Frank Janeway, New Brunswick, N. J.; Mr. Hallstead Little, Morristown, N. J.

Miss Bell, Miss Welles, Miss Boles, Miss Jane Dickson, Miss Elizabeth, Miss Joseph, the Misses Archibald, Miss Pennypacker, Miss Parke, Miss Eleanor Reynolds, Miss Gertrude Sprague, Miss Sturges, Miss Van Cleef, Miss Dale, Miss Anderson, Miss Bennell, Miss Helen Hand, Miss Linn, Miss Anna Archibald, Miss Watson.

Mrs. Moffat, Langley, James, Merrill, Parke, Holland, Scanton, Snyder, Torrey, Thorne, Welles, Boles, Walker, Watres, Gearhart, Bedford, Laithrope, Nettleton, Chase, Archibald, Paul B. Bell, J. H. Brooks, James Blair, Jr., La Petite Belle, C. A. Bell, L. T. Hise, Maxwell Bessell, T. S. Fuller, M. B. Fuller, F. C. Fuller, Robert Frey, A. G. Hunt, S. H. Kingsbury, L. B. Fuller.

A number of young girls belonging to the junior set had what they gravely termed an "old maid" dance at the Country club last night. They all went home declaring that never in all their lives did they have such a perfectly lovely time. The company was chaperoned by Miss May Kingsbury and was composed of Misses Katharine and Lella Stuch, Anna McCann, Mary Dickson, Eleanor Moffat, Margaretta Bell, Ruth Hawley, Elizabeth Blair, Gertrude Courson, Marjorie Warren, Grace Law, Mary Gearhart, Dorothy Bessell, Lois Tracy, Jeannette Schiager, Marjorie Platt, Helen Boles, Elizabeth Parke, May Blanchard, Gertrude Hamilton, Candace Watson, Gertrude Beckwith and Helen Jones.

Colonel and Mrs. George M. Hallstead gave a dinner last night in honor of their guests, Miss Waters, of Buffalo, and Miss Swartz, of Rochester, N. Y. Covers were laid for ten.

THREE EXTREMELY IMPORTANT CASES

SUPREME COURT WILL HEAR THEM IN FEBRUARY.

The Decision of the State's Highest Tribunal With Reference to the Cases Will Have a Far-Reaching Effect—In Each of Them Important Constitutional Questions Are Involved—Two of the Cases Are Being Re-Argued at the Request of the Members of the Court.

Three of the most interesting and far-reaching cases that will be argued before the state Supreme court next year will be Lackawanna county cases. In all three of the cases important constitutional questions are involved. That the court considers them of first importance is demonstrated by the fact that in two of the cases re-arguments have been ordered. All three cases will be heard during Lackawanna county week at the Supreme court, which begins Feb. 19.

The Lackawanna county list for that week will be headed by the school board case, which the Supreme court has ordered re-argued. This case has in reality already had three hearings before that body, the Pittston school board case, which embodies exactly the same facts, having been argued twice and the Scranton case once.

The purpose of the proceedings which the Supreme court will be asked to pass upon is to decide whether or not a board of twenty-one members is legal. If it is not, then the district must be satisfied with a board of six. The decision of the Supreme court will be affected largely by what Justice Brown and Justice Metzger talk about the proposition. It is generally supposed that the court at present is evenly divided as to the merits of the case and therefore ordered a re-argument before a full bench.

SUPPOSED TO BE AGAINST.

The two new judges will take their seats the first of the year, and it is about this time that there is an impression that they will not look with favor on the large board and consequently there is a renewal of interest in the selection of members of the board of six at the spring election. Chief Justice Sterritt, who retires from the bench tomorrow, was generally believed to favor the large board.

The John Gibbons contempt case it will also have a re-argument before the Supreme court in February. Whether this case was argued late last spring the judges were evidently so much impressed with the belief that Mr. Gibbons was guilty of contempt that after his attorney had concluded his argument they decided not to hear from the opposition.

A more extended consideration of the case evidently caused the members of the court to change their minds. They saw they were confronted by a grave constitutional question that would be a precedent and have a great influence on the conducting of elections in this state in the future and they decided to get additional information on the subject before giving their opinion.

The third important Lackawanna county case will be an appeal from the decision of Judge H. M. Edwards in the poor board case. In the quo warranto proceedings brought in the name of the commonwealth by District Attorney John R. Jones, to test the right of the present members of the board to hold office, Judge Edwards decided that the Act of 1866, which was attacked, was constitutional. This vests in the present judge of the court the power to appoint members of the board.

AN ELECTIVE OFFICE.

The judge's conclusions were that under the Act of 1862 the office was an elective one, but the people having failed to avail themselves of this privilege the present judge was properly exercising his appointive power to fill vacancies, as the law provides.

Proceedings were then begun in the name of John J. Murphy, one of the members-elect, to test Frank J. Dickert, the member appointed for the district Mr. Murphy was elected to represent, and the case is still pending in the local court.

To have the case reviewed by the Supreme court during the coming year an appeal will be taken from the opinion of Judge Edwards declaring constitutional the Act of 1866. If the Supreme court decides against the local court on this question, the poor board falls back entirely on the provisions of the Act of 1862, and the appointing power in case of death, removal or resignation in the hands of the judges of the court of quarter sessions.

FUNERAL OF J. C. COON.

Interment Made in Washburn Street Cemetery.

Services over the remains of the late J. C. Coon were conducted at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. David's Episcopal church, West Scranton, by the rector, Rev. E. J. McHenry. The only mourners were the deceased's daughter-in-law and grand-daughter.

The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Alfred Twining, associate editor of the Times, and the members of the Scranton Typographical union. Only a few of the latter were in attendance. The pall-bearers

SUNDAY SCHOOL EXERCISES.

Held at Grace Reformed Church on Wyoming Avenue.

The Sunday school of the Grace Reformed Episcopal church held its Christmas exercises last evening in the edifice on Wyoming avenue. The platform was decorated with plants and greens, and three large Christmas trees were very much in evidence.

The exercises were opened with singing by the Sunday school and prayer by Rev. G. L. Alrich. The newly-elected officers of the Sunday school were announced as follows: Superintendent, C. F. Hess; assistant superintendent, William McCulloch; secretary, Laura Waugh; assistant secretary, George De Wilde; librarian, Robert Kuschnia; assistant librarian, James Lawson; treasurer, R. W. Weisenbach.

PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss Mary A. Vegard United to Frank A. Richards in the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church.

One of the prettiest church weddings ever seen in Green Ridge was the marriage yesterday at noon of Frank A. Richards to Miss Mary A. Vegard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Vegard, of 1647 Munroe avenue.

The ceremony was performed in the Green Ridge Presbyterian church by Rev. George A. Alrich, pastor of the Grace Reformed church.

The Green Ridge church was probably never before so beautifully decorated for a wedding ceremony as it was for yesterday's. The front of the pulpit was solidly banked with palms and ferns, as was also the front of the enclosed space for the choir. The large organ was beautifully entwined with smilax.

The large auditorium of the church was crowded with the friends of the happy couple as they came down the aisle to the strains of a wedding march played by a full orchestra. The bride wore a tight-fitting tailor-made traveling costume of gray cloth with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss J. Care Vegard, sister of the bride, was similarly attired. The groomsmen were Archie Courtwright, of Clark's Summit and the four ushers were Albert I. Hollander, Jack Hitchcock, Charles Ross and George Nye.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the young couple were driven to the Lackawanna station, where they took the 1 o'clock train for New York. They will spend their honeymoon in that city and will also probably spend some time in Boston before their return to the home.

ACCIDENT AT JOHNSON'S MINES.

Louis Kerlick Badly Injured Yesterday Morning.

Louis Kerlick, of Johnson's patch, was yesterday morning taken to the Lackawanna hospital from Johnson's mines, where he is employed as a miner. While at work yesterday forenoon he was suddenly and fatally injured and Kerlick was caught under it.

When received at the hospital it was seen that Kerlick suffered from a scalp wound, his head was badly cut, and he also had a contusion of the back.

FRANK MANLEY COMMITTED TO JAIL

CHARGED WITH MAKING MOONSHINE WHISKEY.

His Still Was Located Near Hawley and Was Seized a Short Time Ago by Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Evans—Accused Was Arrested at Brownstown, Luzerne County, Where He Was in Hiding at the Home of His Mother-in-Law—Given a Hearing.

Frank Manley, whose illicit still was captured some time ago near Hawley by Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Evans of Carbondale, was arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Lowry, in Brownstown, Luzerne county, where he has been in hiding for some time past. He was later given a hearing before United States Commissioner George Taylor and committed to the county jail.

Just after the still was raised some two weeks ago Manley disappeared from Hawley. As that town is in the eastern United States court district, while Scranton is in the Western district, the officials in Philadelphia were notified of Manley's whereabouts. Deputy Marshal Foster, of that city, accordingly came on, but after a several days' hunt was unable to find him.

A few days ago Marshal Lowry heard that Manley had been seen in Pittston. He did some quiet detective work on his own account and finally located him at his mother-in-law's house in Brownstown. Mr. Lowry left this city at a very early hour yesterday morning and surprised Manley before he got out of bed. The latter was in bed, and he did not know that Lowry used just a little gentle persuasion and he finally came.

DIME DIRECTORS DINED.

President Charles DuPont Break Entertained in Honor of the Deposits Reaching $1,000,000 Mark.

Charles DuPont Break, president of the Dime Deposit and Discount bank, gave a dinner at the Scranton club last night, in celebration of the bank's deposits having reached the $1,000,000 mark.

There were present Vice-President R. G. Brooks, J. W. Garney, C. S. Seaman, E. J. Lynett, David Sprules, George B. Jermyn, C. H. Schult, A. L. Francois, James Fitch, M. H. Dale, Solomon Goldsmith, W. J. Lewis, directors; H. G. Dunham, cashier, and Cornelius Comery, attorney.

The dinner was served in the banquet room and was quite an elaborate affair. The guests were seated about a large oval table, on which were three floral pieces of beautiful design, one at either end being a representation of a dime and the largest one, in the center, bearing the inscription $1,000,000. The table also had attached to them with a ribbon a new dime, the reverse side of which was shaved and inscribed with the guests' initials.

At the close of the dinner there was informal speechmaking. President Break opened it with a congratulatory remark, during the course of which he gave a brief review of the growth of the bank from its inception, March 2, 1891, to the present. Jan. 1, 1892, the bank had 2,463 depositors, $159,665.15 in deposits and a surplus of $1,704.10. Jan. 1, 1895, there were 7,265 depositors; deposits amounting to $428,655.73, and a surplus of $27,091.10. Dec. 19, 1899, the number of depositors had increased to 29,447; the deposits to $1,680,696.64, and the surplus to $101,759.42.

BLOOD POISONING FATAL.

West Scranton Resident Died Yesterday From Its Effects.

William D. Morris, an aged resident of West Scranton, died yesterday at his home, 1818 Washburn street, as a result of blood poisoning. Deceased sustained a cut on his hand about a week ago, while at work in the mines, and but little was thought of the injury at the time, but when the injured member became discolored it was evident that the hand was poisoned. Everything possible was done to aid the man, but without avail and death resulted.

Mr. Morris was 59 years of age and had been a resident of this city a number of years. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son—Mrs. Singer, Miss Annie Morris and Frank Morris. The funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Washburn street cemetery.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

All who attended the Christmas services at All Souls' Lutheran church Wednesday evening pronounced it a very pleasant entertainment. Singing, recitations, readings and a fine march by the children and a Sunday school, together with the Christmas tree, were the main features of the evening. Mrs. Bonham, the superintendent, and Professor Richards are deserving of much praise in the arrangements of the drill.

Professor W. E. Dunley will speak tonight at the Rescue mission. Every one welcome.
