

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN PLYMOUTH CHURCH.

Addresses Were Delivered by Rev. L. R. Foster and Rev. A. E. Boyd. Watch Night Party of St. Leo's Battalion—Entertainment of St. Paul's Pioneer Corps—Robert Carson Entertained a Number of His Friends—Donation Day at the West Side Hospital—Others Notes.

The auditorium of the Plymouth Congregational church was filled last evening, the occasion being a memorial service held in honor of the late D. L. Moody, the noted evangelist who was a member of the Congregational church.

Rev. Boyle introduced Rev. Foster as a man that had been closely associated with Mr. Moody in his work at Chicago. Rev. Foster said in part as follows: "I first met Mr. Moody in Chicago in the summer of 1885, and was closely affiliated with him. In the death of Mr. Moody, I believe, that the greatest light of this century has gone out. His life was as simple as that of a child. He was human and had his faults like the rest of us. He was a man of God, his only aim being to lead souls to Christ. I believe over-work and worry over his work brought on his death. Moody was a jovial man, full of life, but strict. Mr. Moody in his travels found a large number of young men and women who wanted to preach, but were unable. The needs of these young people is what caused him to establish his school at Northfield. His only requisite for admittance being equalness. Every pupil desiring admission must sign a paper, that they will do an equal amount of work and treat each other equally."

In concluding Rev. Foster paid an elegant tribute to the noted evangelist. After the singing of "Only Remembered," one of Moody's famous songs, the pastor, Rev. A. E. Boyd, said: "Moody's life and work is a standing answer to every foe of Christianity. His success came not from scholarship, for he was no scholar. Like Lincoln he was educated at the university of nature. His firm faith in a plain gospel was the secret of Moody's power. D. L. Moody died as he had lived, a victor, now different that funeral from those which we so often see."

No crane, no hoarse, no funeral music, no tolling bells; no wailing lamentations, no bitter heart-breaking utterances, no black veils to hide faces suffused with tears, for the calmest faces in the church were those of the immediate family. They looked as Elisha might have looked upon the ascending Elijah. His citizenship was in heaven, and dying was but going home. His last words were: "I see death receding; heaven is opening, and God is calling me."

MR. CARSON ENTERTAINS. Robert Carson, son of former school Controller George Carson, entertained a few friends on Friday evening, 400 Main avenue on Friday evening. A most enjoyable time was had by all. Diversions incident to such occasions were merrily indulged in. Dancing formed the feature of the evening's enjoyment. At the conclusion of the party, Carson, assisted by her daughter, served refreshments.

Among those present were: Misses Bessie Davis, Diana Rosenkrantz, Lydia Davis, Ethel Bevan, Bessie Fraunzier, Mabel Spencer and Ella Shaw, and Messrs. Robert Carson, John Bradley, Frank Macgovern, Edward Davis, Edward D. Morse and Leo Campbell.

DONATION DAY. Today is the annual donation day at the West Side hospital. For some years past this day has been set aside by the institution for the giving of gifts. On January 1, 1885, the hospital was formally opened.

Cash, wearing apparel and edibles will be received and heartily appreciated by the recipients. During the past year the hospital has been continually filled and on numerous occasions patients have been turned away. The work done at this institution for suffering humanity has been excellent and the citizens of this side should show their appreciation of the same by liberal contributions. Anything and everything of usefulness will be acceptable and appreciated. Miss Sarah A. Smith, the superintendent, will be present and receive the donations.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES. Miss Daisy Case, of Ninth street, entertained the Cadet club at her home on Friday evening. An enjoyable time was had by all.

The pastors of the English speaking churches of this side are requested to send their members of the Rev. Dr. Moffat, on Washburn street, on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, to make arrangements for the holding of union services during the week of prayer, January 7 till January 14, inclusive.

Excursionist P. J. Kane, of Philadelphia, will conduct meetings at the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church for two weeks, commencing January 15. Rev. Kane is an able speaker and is well known throughout this city, having conducted meetings here on several occasions.

The choir of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church will repeat their Christmas music next Sunday evening under the direction of Prof. William Jones.

The Baptist Young People's union and the congregation of the First Baptist church conducted a union service last evening.

The barbers of this side will close their respective shops a noon today. The students of Park university, known as the Jubilee Singers, will give

Mrs. Barnard Thanks Mrs. PINKHAM FOR HEALTH.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM, NO. 18,992] "DEAR FRIEND—I feel it my duty to express my gratitude and thanks to you for what your medicine has done for me. I was very miserable and losing flesh very fast, had bladder trouble, fluttering pains about the heart and would go so dizzy and suffered with painful menstruation. I was reading in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I wrote to you and after taking two bottles I felt like a new person. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. J. O. HANSARD, MILLTOWN, WASHINGTON CO., ME.

An Iowa Woman's Convincing Statement. "I tried three doctors, and the last one said nothing but an operation would help me. My trouble was profuse flowing; sometimes I would think I would flow to death. I was so weak that the least work would tire me. Reading of so many being cured by your medicine, I made up my mind to write to you for advice, and I am so glad that I did. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and followed your directions, and am now well and strong. I shall recommend your medicine to all, for it saved my life."—Miss A. P., Box 21 ABBOTT, IOWA.

A concert in the Jackson street Baptist church tonight evening. Admission 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

The Christmas music was repeated last evening at the Washburn street Presbyterian church. A delightful programme was rendered.

A missionary meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Young Women's Christian association rooms on South Main avenue. Miss Marilla Mott was in charge.

The streets and bridge committee of the West Side Board of Trade and the members of the select and common councils of this side will meet at Dr. Struppeler's office on South Main avenue on Tuesday.

The funeral of the late William D. Morris was held on Saturday afternoon from his late home on Washburn street. A large number of friends and relatives were in attendance. Interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Fourteen Friends Entertained Last Night—Christmas Festivals Yesterday—Other News Notes.

The Fourteen Friends held their annual New Year's reception last night at the Hotel. The members and their lady friends assembled in large numbers to watch the old year out and the new year in, and proceeded to make merry until the midnight hour should arrive.

They were entertained by Peter McCormack, cornetist, and Patrick Haggerty, violinist. As the new year dawned the assemblage proceeded to the large dining hall, where a banquet was served. The numerous tables were laden with all the delicacies of the season and were beautifully decorated with vases filled with cut flowers.

OTHER EVENTS OF THE DAY. On Saturday evening the Krueger Verein, an association composed of soldiers who served in the German army, held its annual Christmas festival at Zuleger's hall on Pittston avenue. The members and their families assembled and spent a very pleasant evening around the Christmas tree. Recitations were given by the children and music was furnished by Prof. Schmidt.

The Scranton Saengerfunde yesterday afternoon held their Christmas festival at Athletic hall, an excellent programme, consisting of recitations and vocal and instrumental music, was given. The affair was a source of much enjoyment for the children of the members, as they were abundantly supplied with candy.

Yesterday afternoon the Arbitr Fortbrilgrun Verein had their annual Christmas festival at their hall, corner of Prospect avenue and Alder street. The members and their families assembled in large numbers and the affair was very much enjoyed by all. Recitations were delivered by the children and vocal music was rendered by the singing section of the Arbitr Verein and by the Junger Maennerchor. Prof. Gust Schmidt presided at the piano.

SMALL ITEMS. The Young Women's Christian association will hold their annual New Year's reception this afternoon and evening from 4 to 10 o'clock at the rooms, 102 Cedar avenue. A special musical programme has been arranged and gentlemen as well as ladies are invited to attend.

The funeral of James O'Connor will take place this afternoon from the home of his brother, John T. O'Connor, on client street.

Miss Clara Boyer, of New York city, is spending the holidays at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Schunk, of Pittston avenue.

Messrs. Charles Graf, Conrad Pell, Thomas Ruddy and George Engert returned on Saturday from a very successful fishing trip to Lake Como.

GREEN RIDGE. Miss Evelyn Jones, of Adams avenue, gave a lunch Saturday afternoon to the following young ladies: Hattie Lindsay, Mabel Fordham, Louise Connolly, Jessie Callender and Nellie Bliss.

HAPPENINGS OF NORTH SCRANTON

WATCH-NIGHT SERVICES CONDUCTED LAST EVENING.

A Union Service Was Conducted in the Methodist Episcopal Church and Addresses Delivered by Several of the Pastors—Midnight Mass at Holy Rosary Church. Funeral of Catherine Haggerty. Other Funerals of the Day—Interesting Bits of News and Personal Notes.

Watch-night services, welcoming the New Year, were held last night in several of the North Scranton churches, and in each instance they were well attended. The Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregational and Christian churches united in the service which was held at the Providence Methodist Episcopal church, and which began at 9 o'clock.

The music was in charge of Prof. J. H. Cousins, and the selections rendered were from the Hymnal. The sermon was preached by the pastor of the church, Rev. William Edgar, and addresses appropriate to the occasion were made by Rev. W. D. Clymer, of the Christian church, and others of the clergymen present. There was also a testimonial and praise service and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed. As the midnight hour was announced the organ broke forth in melody and the whole congregation joined in singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Beginning at 11:30 o'clock a watch-night service was the feature at Holy Rosary church, in which there was a midnight mass. This was the first service of the kind to be observed in the church and consequently there was a large congregation of devout worshippers in attendance. A high mass, commemorative of the New Year, was celebrated at midnight by Rev. N. J. McManus, rector of the church. Special music was rendered by the choir, Mrs. John Lynch sang "Adeste Fideles" at the offertory and also rendering the solo, "Holy Night." There was also benediction of the Blessed Sacrament after the mass.

A special watch-night service was held at the North Main avenue Baptist church, led by pastor, Rev. S. G. Reading. There was a song service under the direction of Chorister Reese Watkins and many testimonials were offered by those present.

FUNERAL OF CATHERINE HAGGERTY. The funeral of Miss Catherine Haggerty occurred on Saturday morning from the home of her parents on North Main avenue, near Jones street. A large outpouring of friends and relatives attested the warm place in their affections which the deceased had secured, while a mass of floral tokens of many designs gave evidence of the kindly regard of those who mourned her and symbolized the purity of her character.

From the home the remains were taken to Holy Rosary church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. O'Toole, Rev. J. A. O'Reilly being deacon, and Rev. J. V. Moylan sub-deacon of the mass. There was no sermon. At the offertory Mrs. John Lynch sang "Ave Averum," and as the body was borne from the church she sang, "Nearer, My God, To Thee."

The pall-bearers were: Myles Gibbons, Michael Mahon, Thomas Grady, John Conoran, Patrick McAndrew and Patrick Salmon. Interment was in the cathedral cemetery.

OTHER FUNERALS. The funeral of Charles Brady, of Keyser avenue, who was instantly killed Friday morning while at work in the Cuyaga mines, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body was taken to the Holy Rosary church, where a mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. G. J. O'Toole. Interment was made in cathedral cemetery.

The deceased was employed as a driver in the mines and had his car at the foot of the plane when another car came down the incline and with-out a moment's warning young Brady was squeezed between this and his own car. This is the third death which has occurred within the past year in the Brady family. Charles Brady, sr., the father, was killed last April while coupling some cars on the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and his mother died a few months prior to this.

The following brothers and sisters survive: John, Phillip, Mrs. Joseph McAllister, Mrs. Dominick Kline and Nellie Brady, all of whom have the sympathy of the community.

The funeral of Joseph, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, of Boulevard avenue, was held yesterday afternoon from the home. The Rev. Mr. Prosser, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church, officiated. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

TOLD IN BRIEF. After the Sabbath school exercises in the Providence Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, the teachers and officers held a meeting in regard to the death of Ambrose Mulvey, who has been identified in the work of the school and church for many years. Next Sunday afternoon a memorial service will be held.

This afternoon an informal reception will be held from 4 until 10 o'clock. An interesting programme will be rendered each hour. Refreshments will be served.

PERSONAL BRIEFS. John Loftus, of Jefferson Medical college, is the guest of his parents on West Market street.

Messrs. Katherine and Lucy O'Boyle, of William street, are visiting friends in Carbondale.

Miss Edyth Martin, of Church avenue, who attended the wedding of her brother in Wilkes-Barre last Thursday, has returned home.

Dr. J. F. Stanton, of West Market street, left for New York Saturday evening on professional business. He is expected to be home this morning.

OBITUARY. James FitzGibbon, of 242 Tenth street, one of the oldest employees of the Delaware and Hudson coal and coke company, died at 6 o'clock last evening at his home. The deceased was born in Ireland in 1841, and emigrated to this country in 1850, settling at Rhinebeck-on-the-Hudson. He came to this city in 1881, and has resided here ever since. He secured a position as machinist under the Lackawanna company, which he held until a few years ago, being compelled to retire on account of ill health. He was a member of St. Patrick's church. He was succeeded by a daughter and two sons, Miss Mary FitzGibbon, principal of No. 19 school; M. J. FitzGibbon and J. W. FitzGibbon, superintendent of motive power on the Lackawanna road. The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Interment will be made in Cathedral cemetery.

John Reed, an old and respected resident of West Scranton, died at his home, 251 North Sumner avenue, yesterday morning shortly before noon. The deceased had been ailing for over a year. The cause of death was heart trouble. Mr. Reed was born at Carbondale in 1849 and has resided here for seventeen years. He was quite prominent in the Improved Order of Red Men and was secretary of the Pancake tribe, No. 14, also a member of Electric City excommuniq. Knights of Malta, and of the Capouse Mine Accidental fund. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at noon from his late home. Interment will be made in Brookside cemetery near Carbondale.
