Montrose, Pa., Jan. 2 .- A sad accident occurred at Ayers' planing mill this morning, which will probably cause the death of Leonard White, a young man about 18 years of age, who was employed there. From information gathered by The Tribune representative it appears that White had gone to the basement of the building to get some machine oil which is kept

Rev. Leonard Cole, who resides here, was his conference classmate, they having joined the Wyoming conference in 1853. A strange coincidence is worth relating. On New Year's morning Rev. Cole related the dream he had the night before, the night Rev. Peck died and this is the way he relates it: "Brother J. K. THE MARKETS.

New York, Jan. 2.-The strength de-reloped in today's stock market in the degree to which it extended was a surprise to traders. Last week's considerable advance in prices offered inviting profits and it was expected that selling on this account would be sufficient to feed the new demand. The selling to take profits in the first hour of the trading was in fact on a very large scale, sharp advances at the opening helping along the process.

Last week's demand and the large gains in prices were a paradox in Wall street business and the professional traders were very persistent in selling the market on any advances. This element was watchful today for any opportunity to swoop on the market and break prices to a point to which they could buy in at a profit. When the profit taking became manifest they made a vigorous attack on Brooklyn Rapid Transit, forcing it down over three points and bringing the business in the general market to a halt. So far the course of the market was about as hard as expected. The money market was firm and the demand incident to the active speculation in stocks pushed the money rate up to 11 per cent. during the day. Thus all things seemed to confirm the expectations of the reactionists, who, however, failed entirely to properly guage the outside demand for stocks. This absorbed the sales to take profits and then proceeded to follow u all other offerings available. The bear party became alarmed at the proportions of the advance and hastened to cover. The money rate ran down late in the day became buoyant. The most striking gains and the greatest activity were which sugar was the leader. The iron and steel stocks, especially the common were also in eager demand at advancing prices, and the strength spread to other industrials. The same time there was a confident and well-distributed demand for the railroad stocks. The grangers showed the argest advances, owing to the rebound from last week's weakness, due to the St. Paul and Burlington statements of earnings and the trunk lines, including Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and the Great Trunk were the central traffic lines, such as Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St.

Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago failed to respond. The striking declines in discount rates abroad aroused some confidence that the exportation movement of gold will not extend further, though the financing of the South African war expenditures must be reckoned with and may have been the motive of the strenuous efforts that have been making to bring about easier conditions in the London money market. As for the domestic situation,
