COUNCILMEN AND BOARD OF TRADE MEN CONFER.

Met and Discussed the Proposed Viaduct for West Lackawanna Avenue-Committee Will Attend Council Meeting-Entertainment at St. Patrick's Fair Tonight-Installation of Officers in Patriotic Americans-Jubilee Singers' Concert. Thurch Meetings and Other Notes.

The streets and bridges committee f the West Side board of trade, and he select and common councilmen from the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Eighteenth wards held a conference in Dr. Struppler's office on South Main avenue last evening and discussed the proposed viaduct and the ordinance now in the councils for final passage. About the only thing accomplished was the appointment of a committee to attend Thursday night's meeting of select council in the interest of the viaduct. The ordinance now in councils, which is fully described in another column of this issue, was discussed at length and the different arguments advanced for its construction on the southerly side of West Lackawanna avenue and by way of Nealis court. It was the consensus of opinion, however, that the viaduct should be built, and that the board of trade and counclimen should work together in the interests of the viaduct and the sewers. President Daniels stated the position of the board and wanted to know what councils propose to do in the way of furthering the proposition. It was finally decided to appoint a committee to attend the meeting tomorrow evening and use their persuasive powers with the members who are opposed to a viaduct. D. D. Evans, Jenkin Reese and H. D. Jones were ap pointed. Mr. McCann was of the opinion that there would be no opposition in the select branch, and Mr. Williams said that Mayor Moir was ready to sign the ordinance.

Those who attended the conference were Select Councilman O'Boyle, Mc-Cann, James Williams, Thomas, Fellows, Common Councilmen Godshall. Morris, Calpin, Watkins; board of trade, Messrs. Holmes, Reese, Evans, Jones, Struppler, Oliver and Daniels. board will hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening, when several matters suggested last evening will be acted upon. Before adjourning the representatives tendered a vote of thanks to Dr. Struppler and also to the councilmen for attending.

[LETTER TO MES. PINERAM NO. 72,896] "You have saved my life, snatched me from the brink of the grave almost and I wish to thank you. About eighteen months ago I was a total wreck, physically. I had been troubled with leucorrhos for some time, but had given hardly any attention to the trouble.

"At last inflammation of the womb and ovaries resulted and then I suffered agonies, had to give up my pro-fession (musician and piano player), was confined to my bed and life became a terrible cross. My husband summoned the best physicians, but their benefit was but temporary at best. I believe I should have contracted the morphine habit under their care, if my common sense had not intervened. "One day my husband noticed the advertisement of your remedies and immediately bought me a full trial. Soon the pain in my ovaries was gone. I am now well, strong and robust, walk, ride a wheel, and feel like a girl in her teens. I would not be without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it is like water of life to me. I am very gratefully and sincerely your wellwisher, and I heartily recommend your remedies. #### OBITUARY

General Edwin S. Osborne, who died in Washington, D. C., on Monday, was for years a prominent figure in the political life of this part of the state making his home at Wilkes-Barre. He born in Bethany, Wayne county, Pa., August 7, 1839, and was consequently 60 years old. He was educated at the University of Northern Pennsylvania at at Poughkeepsie, graduating in 1860 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. The same year, at the age of 21 years, he was admitted to the Luzerne bar. In the meantime he had read law in the office of Hon. Charles Denison in Wilkes-Barre. Shortly afterwords, on the breaking out of the Civil war, he was one of the first to volunteer, enlisting as a private in the Eighth Pennsylvania infantry, and despite his youth and lack of previous military education he rose rapof distinction. Owing to his energy and faithfulness he was the Curtin to recruit a company, which was mustered in with limself as captain, the company being part of the One Hundred and Forty-ninth Penrsylvania.
