THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1900.

BIG INJUNCTION CASE.

Hearing in the Delaware Valley and Kingston Railroad Affair.

Special to The Scranton Tribune. Honesdale, Jan. 4 .-- The hearing in the injunction case wherein the Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad company against the Erie Railroad company, growing out of the proposed Delaware Valley and Kingston tailroad, was commenced before Judge George S. Purdy in the court house here today, at 11 o'clock. A large display of legal talent was present.

The attorneys present in the interest of the Erie and Wyoming are John G. Sherman, of New York; C. W. Bull, of Milford, Pa.; J. H. Torrey, of Scran-ton; A. H. McClintock, of Wilkes-Barre, and Homer Greene, of Honesdale. The attorneys present for the Erie Railroad company were E. N. Willard and Everett Warren, of Scrantop, and A. T. Searle, of Honesdale, Up to the noon hour three witnesses were called, namely, President George B. Smith and Controller Williams, of the Erie and Wyoming, and Charles E. Webster, civil engineer of the Erie and Wyoming and Delaware Valley and Kingston railroads. The minute book of the board of directors of the Erie and Wyoming and a number of deeds to show purchase of land at Lackawaxen were put in evidence; also deed dated November 11, 1839, conveying the Delaware and Hudson canal property to the Cornell Steamboat company: and another deed conveying that portion of the Delaware and iludson canal property in Pennsylvania between Lackawaxen and Honesdale by the Cornell Steamboat company to the Erie and Wyoming Railroad company. To all of these the counsel for the defendants filed objections and hearing will probably last some days.

MONROE COUNTY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Stroudsburg, Pa., Jan. 4 .-- During the past six months only 130 persons died in Monroe county. There were 238 births. Of the former, 77 were males and 53 females. Dr. N. C. Miller is confined to his home with sickness. Judge Schoch, the oldest editor in the state, has been seriously ill for the past few days. Rev. B. F. Apple during the past year solemnized twenty-two weddings.

Miss May Welter has been acting as a substitute teacher for Miss Bertha Morey, who is suffering from a severe cold. The services in the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by Evangelist George L. Barker, are largely attended. Miss Carrie Schoonover has returned to Mt. Holyoke school.

Principal W. H. Ramsey and teacher Thomas Ward, of the local schools, still continue sick and no school is held in their rooms.

There is to be a change in the management of the Burnett house. George W. Frable, landlord of the Tannersville hotel, has rented the place.

The charter for the new Analomink

G. P., has arranged for a fair to be given here during the week commencing Jan. 15, proceeds to go toward building an armory for the company. A number of articles have been donatble. ed for the purpose and are on exhibition in various windows around town. Entertainment will be furnished in the Susquehanna, Jan. 4 .- The approaching marriage of Thomas J. Carrigg and Miss Ella Hoolihan, estimable Susquehanna young people, was on Sunday anounced from the altar of St. John's Catholic church.

Wilkes-Barre capitalists are investing in Susquehanna property. The Erie has commenced cutting in at Ararat, for the Jefferson division. The remains of the late Robert Taylor, years ago a resident of Great Bend township, who died in Watkins, N. Y., arrived here this morning and were interred in McKune cemetery. Deceased was a veteran of the Civil war, and a brother of Henry Taylor, of Oakland. Frank Swingle died at his home in Uniondale on Thursday, from the effects of injuries received by the running away of his team. He leaves a widow and six children. The funeral took place on Wednesday, with interment in South Canaan, Wayne county, The Epworth league of the Metho dist church presented its retiring president, William Epas, with a handsome Morris chair.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and its auxiliary have removed from Odd Fellows' hall to the Knights of Pythias hall, Exchange street.

Wilkes-Barre capitalists have purchased the stock of the Susquehanna Water company, paying therefor a good price. The property purchased is one of the finest plants in the state. There is a good supply of the purest of spring water, and the reservoirs are new and first-class. There will be a stiff advance in rates at once, in consequence of the change in ownership. Mrs. LeGrand Tillman, years ago a resident of Susquehanna, died sul- dividend of three per cent. denly in Hornellsville, N. Y., on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Eastabrook and daughter, of Grand street, are in Hornellsville, called there by the death of Mrs. LeGrand Tillman. C. E. Fuller, the new assistant master mechanic of the Susquehanna shops, was formerly master mechanic of the Erie shops in Jersey City. Of late he has been master mechanic of shops on the Hartford and New Haven road. He is a young man. There are rumors of impending changes in the officials of the Erie.

Great Lakes with the Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico. From the Philadelphia Ledger. The Chicago Drainage Canal is designed primarily to relieve that city of its sewage and enable it to obtain supply of pure water from Lake Michigan, which is now contaminated by the overflow from the city's sewers. It is also intended, however, to be the beginning of a ship canal from Chicago to the Mississippi river, and was built required that the rock sections should be so cut as to admit the passage of vessels, and this requirement increased the cost of the work from about $12,000,000 or $14,000.-00, which would have been sufficient to dispose of the sewage, to $33,000,-000. All this has been done by the city of Chicago, but it will ask the government to continue the work by deepening the Illinois river. HIGH ENGINEERING SKILL has been of such a nature as to require the exercise of the highest engineering skill. The total length of the canal, from Chicago to the terminus at Lockport, Ili., is twentyeight miles, the line extending south-westward from Chicago and following down the Desplaines valley, the course of an old glacier, abundant traces of the progress of which are found. The valley varies in width from a half mile to a mile, and through it flow the Desplaines river and the malodorous Illinois and Michigan canal, evaluat both of which the Drainage cannt has had to be safeguarded at various points. The Desplaines river is a straggling stream of greatly fluctuating volume. Sometimes its whole discharge would go through a sixinch pipe, but at the time of the spring floods its volume is fully $99,690 cubic feet a minute, and then it spreads over the whole valley. Necessarily this insubordinate stream had to be disciplined, and the task has been effected by the construction of the Diversion channel." River This work involved the excavation of thirteen miles of new river channel, in which the Desplaines is now flowing, the Drainage canal occupying part of the old bed of the river, and the building of nineteen miles of levce between the main Drainage channel and the River Diversion channel.

THE DRAINAGE CHANNEL.

The main drainage channel has been onstructed with a view to meeting the requirements of the Chicago of the future, with a population of 3,000,000, when a flow of 600,000 cubic feet a minute will be necessary; although a flow of 309,060 cubic feet a minute will be ample for the needs of the present population, and will be the volume maintained for some time after th completion of the canal. From Locksort, the southern terminus, to Willow Springs, a distance of fifteen miles, the canal is in the main cut through solid rock, Niagara limestone. Northward
