LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Complaint as to Car Service.

Editor of The Tribune-Sir: Allow me, through the columns of your valuable paper, to say that it is nothing short of an outrage for Manager Silliman to give such service as he do on the Peckville line. Now I am not a ekvillian, but I am a regular patron of this line and have been ever since it built, and I know whereof I speak when I say there is only one decent car on the line and that is a Carbondale car. returning from Scranton on Saturday evening, I waited forty-five minutes for a car, about 6 o'clock. Finally along came the smallest, foulest little car with true and thirty-seven ignored bills extremely contracted space. We waited were returned.

Among them were true bills against the cheerful cry, "change cars," Then scramble for a seat into another cold car. In this way one and one-half hours were consumed in going six miles. James Salmon and Mamie Crow for burglarizing the Bevan, Jones and may one call that anything but the most any one call residences. The full return was as follows:

October 1908 and 1908 and 1908 any one call that anything but the most miserable of service? If any one murmurs at the *mall flat-wheeled cars (when longer ones are needed) the conductors reply "these cars are good enough for Hungarians." This is one of the best patronized lines in the city, and I voice the sentiment of a good many very respectable people when I say we demand better cars and better service.

Olyphant, Pa., Jan. 4. Ilt is fair to the Traction company to say that a large number of enlarged cars have been ready for use in every way save that the trucks which were ordered for them several weeks ago have been delayed on account of the prevalent iron famine.]

Remedies for Crime.

Editor of The Tribune-Sir: In your issue of Dec. 29, there appeared an editorial under the caption, Lackawanna's Exhibit of Crime. editorial containing a statistical table setting forth an appalling condition of atfairs in said county. The closing sentence was: "Are there any suggestions?" As a citizen of another county, perhaps I have no right to speak in reply to the question, but as all counties are suffering from the same curse, and being a venture to make a few suggestions as to the means to be employed to lesson this scourge.

THEATRICAL.

"Shannon of the Sixth."

No one can well complain of the slight advance in the price of seats for the Power company's presentation of Shannon of the Sixth," which opened a three days' engagement at the Academy of Music last evening. It is quite a pretentious performance and very thoroughly pleased the large audience which witnessed its initial production. The play, dealing as it does with life in India during the Sepoy rebellion gives opportunity for picturesque star ing and other accessories, and the opportunity is taken advantage to the fullest limit by Manager G. D. Johnston.

The capable company presenting it i headed by W. H. Power, with Miss Ethel Woodman as his leading lady Anthony Andre, as the Brahmin priest does a clever piece of work, and C. M. Charles, the villainous captain, acts a difficult role gracefully and naturally. The climax of the third act, in which the heroine is rescued from the uncomfortable predicament of being firmly bound against the muzzle of a large cannon that is about to discharge, is followed by applause that is alon worth the time and money to hear. The play will be repeated afternoon and evening, today and tomorrow. Rose Hill Company.

The Rose Hill English Folly com pany produced something at the Gaiets theater yesterday which was reminiscent of the boller shop in many respects. In fact it was an entertainment calculated to make an impres sion upon the tympanum if nothing else. Whatever may be its defects in the company otherwise, there is no question that their lung power is in first-class condition.

Though noisy in nearly every in stance merit was disclosed in many of the specialty turns, Berry and Hughes, the musical artists, Sullivan and Web ber, and Miles and Raymond were or iginal and amusing. The burlettas presented the usual menu in form of the Standard Burlesque company and the Uncle who comes in from the country with money to burn. The Rose Hill company will be at the Galety the balance of the week with matinees

The world-famous Herrmann will appear at the Lyceum next Monday evening. His entertainments are immens: ly popular and are eagerly looked for ward to as an event of importance. Herrmann always brings many novelties with him upon each succeeding visit, something out of the beaten tracks of magic. Novelty has become so much expected with the Herrmann entertainments, that the something odd must be something odd, indeed, to attract more than ordinary notice, so when it is said that never before has so unique an entertainment or have such marvelous illusions been presented by a prestidigitateur as the great Herrmann will present upon his present visit to this city.

"Special Delivery" Monday.

Maude Hillman, supported by her exellent company, will begin a week's engagement at the Academy of Music next Monday, with matinees commence ing Tuesday. Monday night (ladies' night) she will present David Sully's very funny comedy-drama, "Special Delivery."

Every play will be presented with appropriate scenery, mechanical and electrical effects and elegant costumes This season Miss Hillman carries her own concert orchestra, a feature that adds much to the entertainment.

An Anecdote of Millet.

Carl J. Blenner, the portrait painter has in his studio in the Sherwood building a study in oils, the subject of which is a French peasant woman sitting at her spinning wheel by the window of her cottage, says the Now York World. The painting was denin France, and Mr. Blenner had much difficulty in securing a model, owing to a superstitious dread of the simple peasants. In the provincial town where he made his headquarters he had formed a slight acquaintance with a taciturn Frenchman whom he judge 1 to be an artist like himself. Owing to the man's knowledge of the peasants' patols, Mr. Blenner begged him to use his persuasion to secure a subject for a sitting. Mr. Glenner was surprised and delighted when he found that his companion knew many of the peasants by name and readily found willing and desirable model.

While Mr. Blenner was at work on the rough sketch the Frenchman watched him critically, and occasionally offered, with due deference, not a few valuable suggestions. When the two returned to the village Mr. Blenner cordially thanked the Frenchman they parted.

"And may I ask your name?f" to quired Mr. Blenner, graciously. "Millet, monsieur." replied the painter of "Angelus."
