At 8.45 the board proceeded to reorganization and Mr. Fuller was elected president pro tem. Reese G. Crooks was reappointed as president of the board and was unanimously re-elected. LITTLE CHILD KILLED. Abraham Jones, Aged 6 Years, Was Struck by a D. & H. Train Near the Marine Breaker.

Abraham Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, of No. 7 Arthur street, was killed yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock by a Delaware and Hudson passenger train, near the Marine breaker. The boy was 6 years of age and was walking on the track when the down train struck and tossed him several feet in the air and to one side of the track. When picked up by some trackmen working nearby, the lad was alive, but unconscious. There was a gaping hole in the left side of the skull, from which the brain protruded. Dr. N. E. Wells was summoned, but he could do nothing and the remains of the child were removed to the home of its parents. Just how such a young child came to be walking on the rail-road track is not known.

RECOGNIZED HER MOTHER. Mrs. McCracken, of Nicholson, Deserter Her Little Daughter.

About 1.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Patrolman Lona Day, walking his Lackawanna avenue beat, was accosted by a Mrs. Schrader, of Hickory street, who had with her a 4-year-old little girl. She told the officer that two days ago a woman whom she did not know at all came into her home and asked if she would take care of the child for a little while until she returned. Mrs. Schrader, good naturedly took charge of the infant, but the mother did not come back, and she decided yesterday to inform the police of the case. Patrolman Day thought it best to visit some of the reports on lower Lackawanna avenue, in search of the mother, and by a lucky inspiration started with the Hotel Dewey.

Together with Mrs. Schrader and the child, he entered, and there at a table, drinking with a couple of men, sat a woman. As soon as the little one saw her she broke away from Mrs. Schrader, and, running forward, extended her hands and called "Ma-ma." It was the child's mother, who was immediately taken to police headquarters in the city hall. The Mrs. Dugan, agent for the Board of Associated Charities was notified of the case and took it in charge. The woman gave her name as McCracken and said she came from Nicholson. She told a pitiful tale of her leaving her home there, being enticed to Scranton by a man, who after she had arrived, threw her aside. Mrs. Dugan intends to give the case a thorough examination and says that in all probability she will be sent back to Nicholson, where she has a sister living.

NEW HOSE DISTRIBUTED. The 2,000 Feet Divided Between the Crystals and the Nays-Augs.

The 2,000 feet of cotton hose received this week for the use of the fire department was yesterday distributed between the Crystal and Nays-Augs companies, it having stood excellently on Thursday afternoon an hydraulic pressure of 400 pounds at the South mill. Both the Crystal and Nays-Augs companies were each given 1,000 feet of the hose. 400 feet of the rubber hose they have been using was also left with them. This gives each company 1,200 feet, allowing 600 feet to be always in the wagon while the other 600 feet is lying in the tower. The remaining 1,200 feet of rubber hose divided by these two companies was divided between the General Philineys and the Liberty and Niagara, the General Philineys receiving 600 feet and the other two companies the remainder. The hose which has been in use by the Crystal and Nays-Augs for eighteen years old, will be subjected to a pressure of 250 pounds and that which stands it will again be divided among the North End companies. The 2,000 feet of new hose is guaranteed for five years, and the company has deposited a bond with the city clerk.

"I wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's advice at Lynn, Mass., and took her medicine and began to get well. I took several bottles of the Compound and used the Sensitive Wash, and can truly say that I am cured. OPINION IN AN OLD EJECTMENT CASE

RENT PAID BUT CAN'T HAVE POSSESSION. In the Suit of Hull, Assignee, Against Kennedy & Carter and Others, Judge Archibald Discharges the Rule to Strike Off the Compulsory Non-Suit—Judge Simonton Makes a Decision in a Case in Which the Local Judge Could Not Agree—Other Court Matters.

In the case of John L. Hull, assignee, against Kennedy & Carter and others, Judge Archibald yesterday rendered a lengthy opinion discharging the rule to take off the compulsory non-suit granted at the fall term of common pleas. The plaintiff was assignee of his brother, who in 1896 opened a store in the Kennedy & Carter building, under a five years lease. After a few months had elapsed and when the assignee had closed out the business the store was vacated. The landlords entered a claim for the full five years' rent under the terms of the lease and the auditor who was appointed to distribute the funds arising out of the sale of the estate allowed the claim. The building was shortly afterwards leased by the landlords to Hull & Connell. Then Hull came in with a claim for the rental which Hull & Connell was paying, and upon being refused attempted to enforce its collection by a suit in ejectment. When the case came to trial Judge Archibald granted a motion for a compulsory non-suit and now, after having heard arguments at length on the law in the case, refuses to strike it off. Two opinions were received yesterday from Judge J. W. Simonton, of Harrisburg, containing decisions in local cases in which he specially presided. One of them was the case of the Commonwealth, ex rel. M. J. Martin, administrator of the estate of Letty Ann Buland, deceased, against S. B. Swick, justice of the peace. A judgment was given against Martin in his representative capacity by the justice of the peace, in a small debt claim. Martin made application for a transcript for appeal, but the justice refused it, until all the accrued costs were paid. The administrator alleged that he did not have to pay the costs inasmuch as he defended in a representative capacity, and to enforce his contention he applied to court for a writ of alternative mandamus to compel the justice to furnish the transcript of appeal without the costs being paid. When the case came up at the last term of argument court Judges Archibald and Edwards failed to reach an agreement and suggested to the parties that they take the matter before Judge Simonton, who was at the time hearing an argument in the superior court room. Judge Simonton decided that Mr. Martin was right in his claim and directed that a peremptory mandamus issue against the justice of the peace. The other opinion is in the case of Conrad Vernan against the German Building and Loan association No. 6, of Scranton. He discharges the rule to strike of the non-suit.

Suit Against the Trolley Company. Attorneys P. W. Gallagher and O'Brien & Kelly yesterday brought suit against the Scranton Railway company to recover $5,000 damages for John F. Mullen, who claims he was injured by that extent in an assault made upon him by the conductor and motorman while he was a passenger on a Providence car on December 23, last. He wants $50 for torn clothing and $4,950 for the injury to his feelings and the humiliation and disgrace he suffered.

Grand Jury Is Through. The grand jury finished its work yesterday and will make a final report this morning. About 300 cases have been passed upon and District Attorney Jones is loud in his praises of the expeditious manner in which the jury handled them. Yesterday afternoon was spent in inspecting the county buildings.

Madams of the Big Assignment. Madams M. Johnson, who was in charge of the ladies' tailoring department of the Leader, brought a suit in replevin yesterday against R. A. Zimmerman, assignee, to recover possession of a number of articles valued at $75 which are detained in the store and which she claims are her personal property. These include a sewing machine.

OPINION IN AN OLD EJECTMENT CASE

RENT PAID BUT CAN'T HAVE POSSESSION. In the Suit of Hull, Assignee, Against Kennedy & Carter and Others, Judge Archibald Discharges the Rule to Strike Off the Compulsory Non-Suit—Judge Simonton Makes a Decision in a Case in Which the Local Judge Could Not Agree—Other Court Matters.

In the case of John L. Hull, assignee, against Kennedy & Carter and others, Judge Archibald yesterday rendered a lengthy opinion discharging the rule to take off the compulsory non-suit granted at the fall term of common pleas. The plaintiff was assignee of his brother, who in 1896 opened a store in the Kennedy & Carter building, under a five years lease. After a few months had elapsed and when the assignee had closed out the business the store was vacated. The landlords entered a claim for the full five years' rent under the terms of the lease and the auditor who was appointed to distribute the funds arising out of the sale of the estate allowed the claim. The building was shortly afterwards leased by the landlords to Hull & Connell. Then Hull came in with a claim for the rental which Hull & Connell was paying, and upon being refused attempted to enforce its collection by a suit in ejectment. When the case came to trial Judge Archibald granted a motion for a compulsory non-suit and now, after having heard arguments at length on the law in the case, refuses to strike it off. Two opinions were received yesterday from Judge J. W. Simonton, of Harrisburg, containing decisions in local cases in which he specially presided. One of them was the case of the Commonwealth, ex rel. M. J. Martin, administrator of the estate of Letty Ann Buland, deceased, against S. B. Swick, justice of the peace. A judgment was given against Martin in his representative capacity by the justice of the peace, in a small debt claim. Martin made application for a transcript for appeal, but the justice refused it, until all the accrued costs were paid. The administrator alleged that he did not have to pay the costs inasmuch as he defended in a representative capacity, and to enforce his contention he applied to court for a writ of alternative mandamus to compel the justice to furnish the transcript of appeal without the costs being paid. When the case came up at the last term of argument court Judges Archibald and Edwards failed to reach an agreement and suggested to the parties that they take the matter before Judge Simonton, who was at the time hearing an argument in the superior court room. Judge Simonton decided that Mr. Martin was right in his claim and directed that a peremptory mandamus issue against the justice of the peace. The other opinion is in the case of Conrad Vernan against the German Building and Loan association No. 6, of Scranton. He discharges the rule to strike of the non-suit.

Suit Against the Trolley Company. Attorneys P. W. Gallagher and O'Brien & Kelly yesterday brought suit against the Scranton Railway company to recover $5,000 damages for John F. Mullen, who claims he was injured by that extent in an assault made upon him by the conductor and motorman while he was a passenger on a Providence car on December 23, last. He wants $50 for torn clothing and $4,950 for the injury to his feelings and the humiliation and disgrace he suffered.

Grand Jury Is Through. The grand jury finished its work yesterday and will make a final report this morning. About 300 cases have been passed upon and District Attorney Jones is loud in his praises of the expeditious manner in which the jury handled them. Yesterday afternoon was spent in inspecting the county buildings.
