FATALLY BURNED.

Mrs. Katherine P. Rippard, an Aged Lady, Meets a Terrible Death.

Special to the Scrarton Tribune. Pittston, Jan. 7 .- Mrs. Katherine P. Rippard, aged seventy-six years, for past forty-five years a resident of Wilkes-Barre, was fatally burned at her home in that city Saturday after-noon. The aged lady occupied two rooms in the family homestead on North Main street, the remainder of the house being occupied by Mrs. Blanchard and family. About 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon smoke was seen issuing from the old lady's rooms. Mrs. Blanchard rushed upstairs to investigate, but found the door of the room locked. Assistance quickly arrived, and when the door was burst open Mrs. Rippard was found lying on the floor in an unconscious condition, and her clothing in flames. A doctor was hastly summoned, but found the aged woman had been terribly burned, and was beyond human aid, and efforts were directed toward relieving her suffering. She lingered until 7 o'clock Saturday evening, when her spirit took its flight.

It is not known exactly how the affair happened, but the theory is advanced that she was building a fire in a small stove in the room and her clothing accidently ignited. She was a peculiar old lady, and usually kept doors of her room locked. She was the mother of T. H. Rippard, teller of the Wilkes-Barre Deposit and Trust bank, and A. N. Rippard, trust officer of the Anthracite Savings bank.

AVOCA.

A. H. Smith, who was, until about two weeks ago, editor of the Avoca McTague acted as chairman, and John Argus, was found in a dying condition in his room in O'Malley's hotel. Avo-ca, yesterday morning. When Mrs. O'Malley was passing his room she she at once aroused her brother-inlaw, Mr. Hungerford, who occupied the next room. When they opened the door they found him breathing heavfly and could not arouse him. Seaman was called in, but he did not prescribe for the patient, as he realized that the end was near. In a few minutes he was dead, without regaining consciousness. Mr. Smith was about 60 years of age and was little known in Avoca, having been there but two years. He spent the greater part of his life in Montrose and Brooklyn, Pa. He has a sister, Mrs. Hungerford, residing in Wilkes-Barre, and two daughters in Scranton. It is not yet known what disposition will be made of the body. Mr. Smith possessed a quiet, retiring disposition. He was always attentive to his duties and courteous to his acquaintances, but he seldom conversed with people and seldom referred to his past. The funeral arrangements are not yet completed. On account of it being Sunday telegraphic messages could not reach relatives in Spragueville, N. Y. The borough council will meet this evening.

There will be a special meeting of the hose company this evening. The Ladies' auxiliary, St. Aloysius society, will meet this evening.

LIVELY TIME OF FIFTEENTH WARD DEMOCRATS.

Langan Had Control of the Hall and Refused to Allow Caucus to Proceed-A. B. Lidstone Nominated for Select Council in Thirteenth Ward-Democrats Endorse A. B. Stevens-T. J. Jennings Defeated William Larkin for School Controller in the Fourteenth Ward.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to hold a Democratic caucus in the Fifteenth ward Saturday evening and the result was that the meeting came to an abrupt ending. The friends of Horatio T. Fellows, who was defeated for the Republican nomination by Joseph Oliver, had rented Foy's hall for the purpose of nominating Fellows on the Democratic ticket, and William Langan, the ward committeeman, was slated for chairman.

Friends of John Donohue, engineer at the Bellevue mine, had arranged to place his name before the caucus, and Thomas Noone was their candidate for chairman. When the choice was made Noone proved to be the more popular and accordingly took his seat on the platform and called for nominations for secretary. At this juncture, Langan, who claimed to have become gecurity for the hall rent, walked upon the platform and announced that inasmuch as no one had come forward to pay the rent the hall could not be used. When his position was disputed, Langan took down the only lamp in the hall and extinguished the light, leaving the voters in the dark. crowd finally made its way out, Langan held possession of the hall and refused to permit any one to re-enter. After a long walt the crowd finally dispersed.

LIDSTONE NOMINATED.

The Stevens men evidently refused to participate in Saturday's Republi-can primaries in the Thirteenth ward, as the tally showed only one vote for A. B. Stevens and 155 for A. B. Lid-stone. Alderman A. C. Balley was renominated by an unanimous vote of 160. Out of the 150 votes on the question of permanently adopting the Crawford county system for the ward primaries, all but slx votes were in the affirmative. District officers were elected as follows:

First district-Judge, George T. Bugden; inspector, Isaac Williams; register, Geo. E. Haldeman. Second district-Judge, C. B. Gardner

Pursuant to a call for a Thirteenth ward Democratic caucus, which appeared in Saturday afternoon's papers. a large number of Democrats assembled at Nettleton's hall Saturday evening and endorsed the candidacy of A. B. Stevens for select councilman. and A. C. Bailey for alderman.

James Roach was offered as a candidate for council, but received only 12 votes to Mr. Stevens' 48. John J. J. Varley as secretary. John J. Kearcaucus being held last night. THE TENTH WARD. Jacob Schaefer, for school controller, and John Nageli, for common councilman, were re-nominated by the Tenth ward Republicans, Saturday. Mr. Schaefer was opposed by Hoffman, and Mr. Nageli by Henry Baustian. The vote was as follows:

sulted in an easy victory for Thomas J. Jennings, for school controller, and Charles Wenzel, for common council. The former was opposed by William J. Larkin and the latter was nominated without opposition.

Jennings' total vote in the two districts was 206, while Larkin received 97. In the First district Eugene Cosgrove was nominated for register of voters: James Durkin, judge of election, and M. J. McAndrew, inspector of election. The nominations in the Second district were: Register of voters, John Barrett; judge of election, Charles Canavan: inspector of election, Frank McCann. The vote for school controller resulted as follows:

The Republicans of the Fourteenth ward will hold a caucus at Co-operative hall Wednesday evening to nominate a candidate for school controller. Charles R. Acker is the party choice and will receive the unanimous endorsement.

Another Democratic caucus in the Third ward is scheduled for Wednes-day evening. It is called by the supporters of Prof. J. I. Costello, one of the candidates for select council. They claim that the former caucus which nominated J. J. Kearney for councilman, and Henry J. O'Malley for school controller was irregular, and attended by only about half a dozen voters.

principally on the body and arms. Only two of them are serious, one being a in the left lung. Dr. A. H. Bernstein is attending the injured man, and was pleased yesterday with the progress the latter made, as he had passed a very good day. Opiates, however, had to be given to ease his pain, and it is very doubtful whether he will recover from his injuries. The fracas occurred near Joseph Hans' saloon, at the corner of Ash and Cross streets. Kneirim and a friend, John Christ, had left the place, and near the corner met a crowd of the men living in the neighborhood. Bowman was one of them, and had with

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 6.—The stock market suffered today from a continuation of the liquidation for Berlin account. The volume of this sciling in New York was not formidable, but the sentimental effect of it was decisive in driving prices downwards throughout the list and discouraging buying of stocks. The friction between Germany and Great Britain over selzures of German mail steamers was not left alone as an explanation, the reported movements of Russian troops toward the frentiers of Alghanistan aroused the apprehension of further embarrassments for Great Britain. A leading authority on the sterling exchange market recorded his opinion that as long as the Transvaal war continued gold would continue to go out from New York. The board of trade's returns of Great Britain's foreign trade for December showing a decrease of over $25,000,000 in imports and an increase of $5,30,000 in exports, taken in connection with the heavy selling of securities in New York for Longelling of securities in New showing a decrease of over $23,00,000 in imports and an increase of $5,300,000 in exports, taken in connection with the heavy selling of securities in New York for London account goes to explain London's continued control over the international exchanges and ability to draw gold at will. The lightness of the outward movement of cotton from this country also keeps up the rate of sterling exchange. While the selling for foreign account was being executed, there was no disposition to keep prices above the London parity, and pressure against some leading industrials, especially Sugar, was added. With the cessation of the London selling and the appearance of the bank statement there was an improvement in sentiment. Logros were partly recovered and the closing was firm on a good volume of business. Total sales, 234,900 shares. The bond market has bean less active than business. Total sales, 23,500 shares. The bond market has been less active than stocks, the level of prices on present re-turns. United States 3s. old 4s. new 4s and 5s advanced ½ in the bid price.
