ing him arrested about two weeks ago on the same complaint. SWITCHMAN INJURED.—William Ryder, of Railroad avenue, a Lackawanna switchman, had a four-inch gash cut in the back of his head by coming in collision with the upright of a switch while leaning out from the side of a moving car in the yard yesterday. He was able to walk home after having the wound sewed up.

PNEUMONIA CAUSED DEATH.—Geo. Cole, aged 39 years, died at Philadelphia Saturday morning under seemingly suspicious circumstances. He was employed as a hostler and boarded with a family named Green. Coroner Roberts held a post-mortem examination and found that the man's death was due to pneumonia. An inquest was not necessary.

CHAUTAUQUA MEETING.—The regular meeting of the Chautauqua circle of Elm Park church will be held this evening, Jan. 8, 1900, at 7:30 o'clock. The programme committee, has arranged for the following numbers: Paper, "Blissfulness," Mrs. F. L. Peck; paper, "Socialism," C. M. Acker; piano solo, Miss Wagonhart; vocal music, Mrs. Emery; reading, recitation, "Washington's Farewell Address," Thomas H. Dale. Responses to roll call will be quotations from Washington Irving.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY.—Thursday evening, in Guernsey hall No. 2, will take place the installation of the officers of the Sons of the American Revolution, Knights of the Macabees. The ceremony will be conducted by Past Grand Commander Watson, of Williamsport. An entertainment will follow, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, addresses, etc., after which refreshments will be served. The ladies of the Macabees having accepted an invitation, will be present in a body. The installation is not intended for the public generally.

GIRL ASSAULTED.—Katie Ford, a young lady residing in Bellevue, employed in one of the central city stores, was assaulted by an intoxicated man late Saturday evening while on her way home from work. She was walking along with her mother, Mrs. J. Ford, and had just reached a dark spot underneath the Lackawanna railroad bridge when a man sprang at her and attacked her. She fought desperately with him, however, and screamed loudly. Fearing detection from her cries, he ran away. Miss Ford's clothing was torn in the struggle and she was badly frightened.

WAS DISCHARGED.—Mayor Moir Saturday morning gave a hearing in police court to Mrs. Frances M. Cracken, arrested Friday afternoon by Patrolman Lona Day. The woman was charged with leaving her baby girl with Mrs. Schrader, of Hickory street, and not returning for the child. At her hearing she said that she came from Nicholson, looking for employment and left the little one with Mrs. Schrader. She did not return immediately and the story got out that she had abandoned the baby. Mrs. Cracken is a member of the board of charities, has taken charge of the child and the Cracken woman was discharged.

THOMAS BILBOW KILLED. Former Resident of This City Met His Death in Butte City, Mont.

Miss Nellie Kearney, of Pine Brook, has received a telegram announcing the death of her brother-in-law, Thomas Bilbow, formerly of this city, who was killed in an ore mine at Butte City, Mont. Mr. Bilbow, with his wife and family of seven children, left this city about a year ago, to seek his fortune in the far west. He was a widely known resident of this city, and was one of the organizers of St. Leo's Battalion, being one of the most active temperance workers in Lackawanna county.

WAS THE OIL STOLEN? P. C. Langan Charges Charles Wartosky with Larceny.

Jan. 5, P. C. Langan, of Dunmore, sold Charles Wartosky, a junk dealer, some miscellaneous articles, including two barrels. Subsequent investigation proved that each of these contained twenty-five gallons of oil, which Wartosky claims now belongs to him. Langan, however, charges him with the larceny of the oil, and at a hearing before Alderman Howe Saturday the defendant was held in $500 bail for his appearance at court.

THIRTIETH REGIMENT NOTES. Major Frank Robling will conduct an election for first lieutenant in Company H, of North Scranton, tonight.

Members of Company D, of the Thirtieth Regiment, of this district, held a company drill will be held at the army Thursday evening, January 11, instead of Friday evening, the 12th. This change is made on account of the resignation of Company F's armorer, Friday evening.

William H. Stanton, son of ex-Judge W. H. Stanton, has been appointed principal musician of the Thirtieth Regiment, in place of Thomas Miller. Mr. Stanton is a very proficient cornet player. This week the annual spring inspection of the companies of the Thirtieth Regiment will be conducted by Major W. S. Miller, of this city, the brigade inspector.

SEMI-MONTHLY PAY LAW. United Mine Workers Will Take Steps for Its Enforcement.

Shamokin, Pa., Jan. 7.—At a meeting of the executive board of United Mine Workers of this district, held here last night, a committee was appointed representing, it is said, 20,000 members to confer with committee of Nos 1 and 7 districts of the Lackawanna and Wyoming and Luzerne regions at Scranton next Tuesday to discuss the enforcement of the semi-monthly pay law and agree on a schedule of prices for mine supplies. Notices were sent out inviting nine companies to have representatives from this region at the conference. The other districts also invited the companies in the respective sections to have representatives take part in the proceedings.

FREIGHT TRAINS WRECKED. Traffic Blocked for Many Hours Near Lancaster.

Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 7.—Twelve cars of west-bound freight train were wrecked at Lancaster Place this afternoon by a Jenney coupler falling on the rail. All the four tracks were blocked, causing considerable delay to travel. Last night ten cars of an east bound freight were wrecked at Gordonville, blocking all the tracks.

NEW PASTOR OF THE CALVARY REFORMED

REV. M. L. FIROR HAS ASSUMED CHARGE.

He Preached His First Sermon Yesterday and Made a Fine Impression—He Is a Distinguished Clergyman Who Has Been in the Ministry a Number of Years—Sketch of the Career of the Most Recent Addition to Scranton's Army of Religious Workers.

Rev. M. L. Firor, the new pastor of Calvary Reformed church, delivered his first sermon last evening before the members of that congregation. Rev. Mr. Firor is full of activity, and preaches with much conviction and force.

He spoke last evening on the second chapter of Matthew which describes the coming of the three wise men and their worship of the new-born Christ. He told of their position in far-off Persia, whence they came, how they were considered to be astrologers and learned above other men. He traced their coming after they had seen the star of Bethlehem and how their coming to see the Christ child and the great interest taken in His birth by so many was but a fulfillment of the ancient prophecy, "A little child shall lead you."

CAME FROM AFAR. He said they came from afar off when they saw the star, because they were susceptible to good impulses and a desire to better themselves, and God always attracts the susceptible and the seekers after light and truth.

He stated that they were the first fruits of Gentile Christianity, the first fruits of that mighty movement that has come down through the centuries. In conclusion, he said: "May the Lord help us to be like the three wise men, true seekers after the truth and life, and may He give us the grace to walk therein."

Rev. Firor was born in Maryland, and when a child the family moved to Adams county, Pa. He attended the public schools in winter and subscription schools in the summer, working on farms in the meantime. At the early age of nineteen he was impelled to study for the ministry, and began preparatory under the Rev. Dr. J. M. Litzel, now pastor of the First Reformed church in Scranton, Pa.

At the end of one year Dr. Litzel returned to Western Pennsylvania, and the young student struggled along alone. September 15, 1873, he entered college on probation at Mercersburg, Pa., and at the end of the year stood at the head of his class and continued there until the end of the junior year. He began the study of theology at the beginning of the junior year, and owing to falling health and financial difficulty, he was compelled to discontinue his college studies at the end of 1876, but resumed the same during the spring and summer of 1877 and passed an examination when he was duly graduated on the basis of examination. He was licensed to preach by the Maryland church, June 1, 1878, and on November 15, 1878, assumed charge of a newly organized congregation in Baltimore consisting of fifty-six members. He continued pastor there for eleven years, during which time a church property valued at $15,000 was secured and paid for, and the congregation increased to 428 members.

SAVED THE PROPERTY. May 1, 1891, he went to Atlanta, Ga., and assisting to accept a call in the Southern Presbyterian church, he went to Sioux City, Iowa, where he remained for one year, saving the church property at that place from the sheriff. He returned east and labored three years at Union Bridge, Md., where 112 members were added to the church. July 15, 1894, he moved to Williamsport, Pa., where he labored five and one-half years, during which time 187 members were added to the church, $9,400 raised, a parsonage built, a number of old debts paid off, and the large mortgage nearly paid for. Preferring missionary work to all others, and the live city of Scranton to much slower cities, he removed here.

RELIGIOUS NEWS NOTES. "An Ideal for the New Year," was discussed last night by Rev. W. J. Ford in the Green Ridge Baptist church.

"What God Wants" was the topic from which Rev. C. E. Robinson, D. D., preached in the Second Presbyterian church last evening.

The week of prayer was begun in the West Scranton churches yesterday morning with sermons by the various pastors on "Christ and the Church."

Last evening in the North Main Avenue Baptist church Rev. S. G. Bonding spoke on "Sowing and Reaping," and in the morning on "A New Year's Resolution."

The usual monthly communion services at the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church were held yesterday morning and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Hugh Davis.

The anniversary of the Junior League was observed at the Ash Street Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. The exercises were in charge of Miss Katie Miss Lockheart's LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 67,191]

"I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I have taken five bottles of the Compound and two boxes of Liver Pills and feel better in every respect. I had suffered for years with dropsy; the veins in my limbs burst, caused from the pressure of the water. I had the worst kind of kidney trouble, fainting spells, and I could not stand long at a time. I also had female weakness and the doctor said there was a tumor in my left side. The pains I had to stand were something dreadful. A friend handed me a little book of yours, so I got you and it has saved my life. I felt better from the first bottle. The bloating and the tumors have all gone and I do not suffer any pain. I am still using the Vegetable Compound and hope others may find relief as I have done from its use."—MISS N. J. LOCKHEART, Box 16, ELIZABETH, PA.

Only the women who have suffered with female troubles can fully appreciate the gratitude of those who have been restored to health. Mrs. Pinkham responds quickly and without charge to all letters from suffering women. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Hartmann, superintendent, and Miss Ann Corey, assistant superintendent. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Austin, gave an illustrated talk on "Fishing."

"Facing the New Year" and "Sowing and Reaping" were the topics respectively of the morning and evening sermons preached yesterday in Penn Avenue Baptist church by Rev. H. F. Y. Pierce.

The union prayer services will be held this evening at the Summer Avenue Presbyterian church, when Rev. S. F. Matthews will speak on the subject of "Prayer." Contributions of all the churches are invited to attend.

Rev. S. F. Matthews spoke at the First Baptist church services last evening on the justification of faith. The discourse was the fifth in a series of discourses which have been very interesting and instructive. Communion service was also observed.

Rev. Dr. Gilin spoke on "How to Have a Happy New Year" last night in Elm Park church. A very large congregation was present. The subject was made most profitable by the use of illustrations. The New Year contrasts, whose reputation as a church singer is very favorably known, sang at both services.

He has a powerful, flexible voice, and although suffering greatly from a sore throat, gave a most satisfactory rendering of the difficult music employed. Her middle register is especially resonant and clear. It is probable that an effort will be made to engage her in a big, full contract voice to carry with Miss Thomas' splendid soprano and the music of yesterday was most pleasing in this respect.

ANTHRACITE COAL TRADE. Business Somewhat Slack During the Past Week.

Philadelphia, Jan. 7.—The Ledger in its coal article tomorrow will say: "The anthracite coal trade was somewhat slack during the past week, the short working at the mines, due to the holiday season continuing and the restricting the output of the mines. It is thought that for the past two weeks the fresh mining has barely reached half the usual amount, but the companies have made good use of the time in clearing their congested yards and stages of loaded cars and moving coal forward. There is expected to be a much better working this week and they will be increased to promptly meet the demand and raise prices, and freight rates to western points have been advanced for the new year on the basis of fifty cents additional per ton to Chicago. Ice is interfering considerably with seaboard shipments. The anthracite output for December is estimated at 4,299,000 tons and for the year 1899 this brings up the total to 47,660,173 tons. A conference of operators and miners is expected to be held here in Scranton to adjust various trade matters upon which there are differences, including the regulation for charging for powder used by the miners."

JACKSONIAN BANQUET. Will Occur at Omaha Tonight—W. J. Bryan Will Open His Campaign.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 7.—The annual banquet of the Jacksonian club, which occurs tomorrow night, will be a function of more than usual importance, for a list of the speakers of national reputation, William J. Bryan will open the banquet with a presidential nomination. The banquet will be held in the main dining room of the Paxton hotel, and it is expected there will be not less than 400 guests in attendance. The club will give a reception at its headquarters from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and the banquet will begin at 9 o'clock. G. M. Hitchcock, editor of the Omaha World-Herald, will be toastmaster. Among the toasts will be "Imperialism," Congressman E. W. Carmack, of Memphis; "Democracy, What It Stands For," ex-Governor William P. Fry, of Texas; "Our Nation," W. J. Bryan.

JEALOUSY CAUSES MURDER. Two Quarrymen Were in Love with the Same Girl.

New Castle, Pa., Jan. 7.—Jealousy was the cause of a most deliberate and cold-blooded murder last night, but the authorities were not notified until today. Raphael Ambrosia and Peter Varavade, quarrymen, were in love with the same girl, Gracie Veltra. Last night Ambrosia, with two male friends, started out to visit a neighbor. Varavade lay in ambush for his rival and when the latter came abreast of him, Varavade drew a razor across Ambrosia's face, cutting a frightful gash. He then drew a revolver and shot Ambrosia dead.

The murderer waved the other two men back with his revolver and calmly walked back to the boarding house, where he changed his coat and vest and left in the darkness, and has not yet been found.

JURISDICTION OF COURT. The jurisdiction of the Superior court, extended originally to all criminal matters except murder cases, civil proceedings involving less than $100 and in the quarter sessions, which generally included road cases. A summary of the result during 1895 is scarcely possible, both courts being in a stage of transition, but the statistics for the succeeding years give this showing:

1896—Superior court, 653 appeals, 58 per cent; Superior court, 482 appeals, 42 per cent. 1897—Superior court, 718 appeals, 55 per cent; Superior court, 590 appeals, 45 per cent. 1898—Superior court, 628 appeals, 58 per cent; Superior court, 654 appeals, 42 per cent. 1899—Superior court, 669 appeals, 52 per cent; Superior court, 602 appeals, 45 per cent. It will thus be seen that the appellate jurisdiction was, excepting during 1895, not divided into equal parts, the Superior court taking about 30 per cent more cases than the Superior tribunal. The result for the past year was greatly affected by the recent amendatory act of the legislature, extending the jurisdiction of the Superior court to include civil cases involving $150 and under, and proceedings in divorce. This statute went into

ANNUAL SESSION OF SUPERIOR COURT

OPENS THIS AFTERNOON IN THE SUPERIOR COURT ROOM.

Large Lists for the Two Weeks. Judge Mitchell Will Make His First Appearance on the Bench. No Opinions Will Be Handed Down Till Next Monday—Decision in the Little Libel Case Is Expected Then—Resume of the Work That Has Been Done by the Court.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock will commence the annual Superior session of the Superior court, to last two weeks. Four of the judges, the court attaches and many out-of-town lawyers have already arrived to attend the sessions. The first judge to put in an appearance was Hon. John I. Mitchell, of Wellsboro, Tioga county, former United States senator, who was elected to the Superior court last fall, and who will make his first appearance on the bench today. He succeeded Hon. Dimmer Beeber, of Philadelphia, who was appointed in 1888 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Reeder, of Easton. Judge Mitchell arrived Saturday and is stopping at the Jermyn. Yesterday he was entertained by his son-in-law, Deputy Attorney General Fred W. Pleitz.

Judges George B. Orndy, of Huntington; William D. Porter, of Allegheny, and William W. Porter, of Philadelphia, arrived last evening and are also at the Jermyn. President Judge C. B. Rice will come up from Wilkes-Barre at noon. Judge James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, is to arrive at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Judge P. Smith, of this city, is away from home and will not sit with the court.

WHAT THE ACT SAYS. Court Crier W. K. Taylor and his assistant, Samuel Collins, of Philadelphia, came on Friday. They were accompanied by Tipstaff John T. Connolly, a veteran politician of Montgomery county, who has a clever, no little distinction as the leader, in his neighborhood, of the insurgent forces. There will be no opinions handed down until next Monday. The decision on the appeal in the Little Libel case is among those that are looked for at this time.

The first week will be devoted to two cases transferred from the Pittsburgh district and the cases from Carbon, Columbia, Monroe, Montour, Wyoming, Luzerne and Lackawanna counties. The Lackawanna list will be called Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Dauphin, Bradford, Susquehanna and Wayne county cases will be heard next week.

One of the important cases to be heard this week is the appeal of Banker Samuel Hazlett, of Washington, Pa., from his conviction for embezzlement in the county seat at Washington county. He conducted a private bank in Washington, that had deposits amounting to nearly half a million. March 18, last, he closed the doors of the bank and two weeks later made a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The depositors claim he was insolvent and knew it for a long time prior to the failure, and that his assets do not amount to more than twenty-five cents on the dollar.

OFFICERS OF COURT HERE. Under the Act of 1889, a banker who accepts deposits when he is insolvent and knows it is guilty of embezzlement. He was tried under this statute and convicted. His defense was that he is not insolvent, but only temporarily embarrassed, so that he was unable to pay every cent of his debts. District Attorney Alex. Templeton and Attorney Albert S. Sprohls, of Washington, represent the commonwealth. Colonel W. W. Arnett, of Wellsboro, Pa., is attorney for the defendant.

Next week will be heard the celebrated child labor case of the Commonwealth against Bailey, in which the factory inspector act is attacked on the ground that it is unconstitutional.

Proposed the first 1900 session of the court the following course of its work, will be interesting:

The Superior court, while the youngest tribunal in the commonwealth in point of years, has reached a stage in its history when it is possible to estimate the practical results of its work and to compare them with the statistics of calculations having an interesting bearing on the subject.

The act of assembly creating the court went into effect on July 1, 1895, the object of the statute being to relieve the Supreme court, the only appellate tribunal of the state, of a mass of business which it was embarrassed to adequately handle. The growth of this court's business may be judged from the fact that in 1873 the appeals in 978 cases were taken to it, while the number here in 1899 was 1,179 in 1894, and during 1896 1,272 appeals were taken to both appellate tribunals.

Of the total number twenty-nine were discontinued; ninety not-prosessed; three certified to the supreme court; 45 continued and 378 argued. The average time of argument was forty minutes.

Philadelphia contributed 141 cases; Allegheny, 138; Lackawanna, 11; Luzerne, 18; Lancaster, 22; Erie, 5; Westmoreland, 15, and Delaware, 14.

BLACKBURN THE MAN. He Is Responsible for the Goebel Election Contest.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Urey Woodson, of Kentucky, national Democratic committee man from that state and a member of the ways and means committee, who came to Chicago to attend the Jackson banquet, said:

"Mr. Goebel will be in possession of the governor's office between January 22 and February 1. Senator Blackburn and not Mr. Goebel, is the man who insisted on carrying the contest up to the legislature.
