BELECT COUNCIL ACTS.

Passes Resolution to Promote Municipal Ownership of Water Plant. Select council met Saturday night and took another step for the furtherance of the municipal water project. The following resolution, introduced by James Thompson, was adopted:

That the first step in the direction of municipal water is the securing of the names of all consumers of water in the city to a contract for ten years at the rates charged by the Crystal Lake Water company prior to October 1, 1899; and that the city solicitor be and is hereby instructed to draw up a form of contract between the city and the consumers and when said contract is ready the citizens' committee of one hundred be and is hereby instructed to secure contracts with all water consumers without expense to the city."

Council then adjourned. The result of this effort will show just what proportion of consumers desire municipal water and thereby go far toward determining whether it can be had without paying too big a price. In other words, if money can be had at all to build the plant, without issuing nds. it will be secured on the strength of these contracts.

This measure, springing just at this time from the Republican side of the house, will also be good campaign ammunition for the approaching election.

PECKVILLE.

Escaping death by a very narrow margin was the experience of Miss Davis, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Davis, yesterday at about 11.30 o'clock. Miss Davis was crossing the street at the Wilson hotel, when car 204 came down the street at a reckless rate of speed. She evidently underestimated the speed at which the car was approaching, for she undertook to cross the tracks. The rapidly approaching car quickly closed the gap and she was caught by the fender and hurled several feet in the air, striking the roadway upon her face. Several people witnessed the accident and hastened to her aid. She was unconscious when picked up, and was carried into the Wilson house parle:, and Dr. J. B. Frover was summoned. It was learned that the thumb on the right hand was broken and her body was a mass of bruises. She was taken later to her nome on Hickory street. Car 204 ...ich struck Miss Davis, ran nearly two hunired feet by the point where the accident occurred. The rapidity with which the cars approach this crossing makes t most hazardous for pedestrians. + il ears are supposed to come to a full stop at this crossing, but not one car in a dozen does it. They gain great momentum coming down the Decker oridge hill and a break-neck pace is kept up until Ketcham's corners are

We Know is Hard to Control.

Our Vinol is Making a Wonderful Record in Curing This Dangerous Disease.

CALL AND LET US TELL YOU ABOUT IT.

Here is a letter that has just come to our attention. It will interest people suffering from bronchial troubles. It is from Mr. Geo. W. Brown, of So. Han-over, N. H., and reads as follows:

"I have suffered with bronchial troubles for over a year; tried two doctors and have taken three or four kinds of medicine, none of which did me any good. At times I was so hoarse I could not speak. Then I heard of Vinol. After taking three bottles of it my voice has perfectly returned to me. I can see that in a short time I will be all right. When I began to take it I was very weak, but it has built me up and given me a good appetite.

This is what Vinol always does. This is the way Vinol accomplishes its mission of doing good.

Vinol, as we wish every one to know, owes its power of accomplishing the cures that it effects to the fact that it contains the most wonderful medicinal elements known to science for the cure of all wasting diseases, as well as being in itself a marvelous tonic. These a scientific process the necessary curative properties of the cod-liver oil have been separated from the fat and grease which formerly made cod-liver oil preparations so objectionable.

As long as Vinol does not contain any of the vile-smelling oil, and is pre-pared by combining the sought-after properties with a delicate table wine, it is a most delicious and palatable preparation.

We know of what we speak when we recommend Vinol, and because we do know that Vinol does all we claim for it, we unhesitatingly endorse it, and guarantee at any time to refund the money paid for the remedy if you are not satisfied it will do all we claim for it.

TEMPERATURE OF THE SUN.

Recent Experiments Which Bear Upon the Question of Sun's Heat.

The temperature of the sun has been held of late years to be probably between 8,000 and 9,000 degrees centigrade, this being the result obtained from a careful investigation made by Messrs. Wilson and Gray, in 1893. Recently Professor Wilson has conducted what may be considered a supplet mental investigation of "Radiation From a Perfect Radiator," an account of which is given in the Astrophysical Journal, which has led him to conclude that his former figures were too low, and he now gives 11,300 degrees centigrade-instead of 8,700-as mot probably the sun's "effective temper ture."

This temperature can be ascert of course, only from a study of the ef-ficiency of the sun's heat at our distance from it of about 92,700,000 miles. or, in other words, from the power of the sun's heat radiation at the earth's surface, and in order to work out the problem from this easily ascertained datum it is necessary to know the law of heat radiation from a "perfect radiator." which the sun is assumed to be. It may easily be found by experiment that the rapidity with which a hot body cools, or in scientific phraseology, radiates its heat, varies greatly with the temperature of the body. A very hot body cools much faster than one at a lower temperature. But only after a long series of carefully con-ducted experiments has the law of this variation been made out, at least approximately. Wilson and Gray found that the radiation is very nearly proportional to the fourth power of the temperature, a conclusion which will Greek to the unscientific reader, but which can be illustrated thus: If a body at a certain temperature, say 100 degrees centigrade, throws to a certain distance from it a certain amount of warmth—which may be measured by means of some one of the delicate heat detectors now in usethe same body raised to a temperature of 200 degrees will affect the instrument, not twice as much, but 16 times as much, 16 being the fourth power of two. Or to give another illustration, if the sun's temperature were to be doubled the potency of its heat rays upon the earth would be 16 times as great as it now is, and were it to be trebled the heat which we should then receive from the sun would be $1 times why the earlier investigators of the sun's temperature made it out to be vastly higher than it probably is. Fa-ther Sacchi estimated it in millions of legrees, and other scientists made it tens of thousands of degrees.

The method pursued by Wilson and Gray in their investigation was "first to study the law of radiation from a platinum strip, which was raised any desired temperature by an electric current, and the radiation from which then balanced the radiation coming from the sun, the balancing instru-ment being a duplex Boys' radio-micrometer, especially designed for this work. It was assumed that the radiation from this strip was only thirtyfive hundredths of that from a "per-fect radiator." Protessor Wilson now thinks this to have been an errorthat the radiation was nearly perfect. Hence his correction of the result then obtained, as above stated-11,300 degrees, as the sun's temperature, instead of 8,700 degrees.

THEATRICAL.

Herrman, the Magician.

The name of Herrmann is an illustrious one to those who love magic. Too much in praise cannot be said of the Herrmanns who have entertained and delighted the theatregoers all over the world. Not to have seen Herrmann means that you live where theatres are not to be found, providing the city is large enough to attract a visit from this famous entertainer.

Leon Herrman, the present Herrman the Great was born in Paris, March 13, 1867 and traveled with his father, Karl Herrman, when but a boy. There can be no doubt but that he inherits the love of magic, and that is one reason why he is so proficient medicinal properties exist and have here-tofore been found only in cod-liver oil. of the name of Herman, all of one Vinol contains these elements. For by family whose fame has increased with the years and the succession. First Karl, then Alexander and new Leon, all called "Great," have astonished and mystified theatregoers for the past sixty years. He will be seen at the Lyceum tonight.

Maude Hillman Company.

Snellings vaudeville entertainers are this season furnishing the specialties between the acts of the Maude Hillman company. The acrobats, "The California Trio," head the list. The reputation of Messrs. Coogan, Fulton and Rhenan, who compose the trio, as acrobats is well known from coast to coast. Billy Dillon, brother of the well known Dillion brothers, song writers and publishers, in parodies and dances, Little Lotta, the wonderful child actress, in songs, and W. E. Chamberlain, the phenomenal baritone in illustrated songs.

The Hillman company opens a week's engagement at the Academy this evening.

It was inevitable that "The Sorrows of Satan," translated into almost every spoken tongue and read in America to the extent of more than a million copies, containing many unique and strangely interesting characters and crowded with situations of the most intensely dramatic nature, should be turned at once into stage form. The wisdom of this was shown by the success of the play at the Shaftsbury Theatre, London.

The production made by Wm. A. Brady, which is to be given under the management of Arthur C. Aiston for the second time here next Wednesday at the Lyceum, is the only one in this country, and the phenomenal popularity of Marie Corelli in America would indicate that in "The Serrows of Sa tan" the owners have one of the best pieces of dramatic preperty on tour this season.

"Paul Kauvar."

The revival of "Paul Kauvar," which will be seen at the Lyceum theatre or next Thursday evening, as interpreted by E. R. Spencer, is given on a very high scale of excellence, the production itself being entirely new, The scenery is from the studios of the very best artists on this continent, and the costumes all being new, elaborate and historically correct.

The supporting company is far super ior to any that has been seen in a simillar play in this part of the country for many years. The cast includes Miss Isabel Pengra, formerly of Daniel Frohman's forces, of the Lyceum theatre, New York; John A. Lane, who has appeared in the leading support of Edwin Booth; Lawrence Barrett, both the older and younger Salvinis: Madame Ristori, Madame Modieska and others of equal prominence; John Milton, for years lading juvenile man with the late Thomas W. Keene: George Morton, formerly of Augustin Daly's company, of Daly's theatre, New York, and Joseph Zanher, late of Stuart Robson's company.
