ALMOST A RIOT.

Policeman Defied at the Democratic Convention Last Night.

The Democratic convention met in Academy of Music last night, and before it got down to business bloodshed was narrowly averted. Mayor Kilpatrick was there as a delegate and he insisted on having Chairman Boylan and Secretary Moffitt, of the city committee, act, while a majority of the delegates thought otherwise. No motion to the contrary would be entertained by Chairman Boylan, and the delegates nominated John Bridgett. When he attempted to take the platform both factions stripped their coats for action. Then there was a pause. After considerable talk and delay a motion to make Joseph Brennan chairman and John Bridgett secretary was carried. Mr. Brennan seated himself at a table in front of the stage and commenced to do business. The mayor said to Officer Hud-"Put that man out for disturbing the peace." The delegates and their friends, who were decidedly in the majority rose for the conflict and the officer's good judgment in accepting the inevitable without striking a blow prevented a serious riot.

Finally the mayor and his party withdrew and the convention made the following nominations: Second ward-Poor director, John Lynch: common council, J. J. Loftus, P. F. Devine. Third ward-Poor director, A. L. Cook; school director, J. J. Gallagher; alderman, John Atkinson, Fourth ward-Poor director, William Loftus; common council, Messra Walsh and Kennedy. Fifth ward-Poor director, John Mc-Cabe; select council, Thomas Mona-Sixth ward-Poor director, M. H. Clune; common council, Joseph Harris, James Lavery; alderman, M. H. Sullivan.

When President Van Siekle called Monday night's meeting of the council order, four members were absent, Messrs. Foley, Gillespie, Marks and Burke. Secretary O'Malley read the minutes of the previous meeting. After he had finished. Mr. Howard asked why he had made no record of the business transacted after several of the members had departed from the previous meeting. The secretary replied that he did not think that any business transacted by the five members who re-mained in the room was legal, because the meeting was left without a quorum A majority of the council sustained the secretary's action, and the minutes were approved as read. The following bills were then paid: Street commissioner's time for December, $179; Olyphant Record, $4.90; police officers, $90 Mrs. Wheeler, $4.25; Olyphant Water company, $205; Treasurer M. J. Lavin, $19.55 for interest; employes at electric plant, $273; supplies, $107. A bill from Prothonotary Copeland was returned for explanation. The burgess then made his monthly report. He stated that notice of the permanent injunction from the court, refraining the borough from interfering with the work of the Olyphant Sewer and Drainage company, had been served upon him by the sheriff, and recommended that the case be appealed. He also stated that Caleb Jones, a property owner in the Second ward, was about to bring suit against the borough for damages caused by the sewer to his property. Two opinions were heard from Borough Attorney Lynch. He recommended that duplicate order be drawn in favor of Green, Tweed & Co., of New York, and also that the bill of the Globe Mutual Insurance company be paid before the penalty is added. Council decided to dispose of the damage claim of G. H. Prokopovitz, who had a coach damaged on Delaware street last spring. by arbitration, by appointing a special committee from the council to act in onjunction with the representative of the Water company, together with the borough attorney and Mr. Prokopovitz. Mr. Lawier offered a resolution authorizing the borough attorney to appeal the injunction which the Sewerage company has obtained against the borough. It was passed unanimously, The board of health having resigned recently, President Van Sickle appointed new board, as follows: First ward, . C. Farrell, four years; Second ward, David E. Lewis, five years; Third ward, Martin Curran, three years; Fourth ward, J. A. Williams, two years: Dr. A. F. Crans, one year. A bill from John Murray was taken from the table and passed. It amounted to $52.62. That much-talked-of borough map then came in for its share of discussion. Mr Gallagher said it cost the borough several hundred dollars to have a new map made some years ago, but since South;" tomorrow afternoon, "East that time the map has never been seen. Davis stating he had given up the insurance agency, and advising the board that he should not renew the $11,000 policies was present and requested to have the business hitherto given the doctor. The matter was left over until next meeting. The purchasing of four dozen drawing books was authorized. Mr. Hunter spoke of the heating and ventilating system of the schools and especially the smell so frequently complained of in one of the rooms. At the close of the meeting the board went down into the room and made an examination, which disclosed the fact that the register in the room was directly over the vaults and at times when the air passes up, instead of drawing down the register the air must be most foul and dangerous. It was decided to at once make some alterations and repairs that will abolish this danger. Messrs, Blake, Grant and

Baptist church on Feb. 8. The members of the Taylor Silver Cornet band are leaving nothing undone whatever for their coming entertainment and social, which will be held at Weber's rink on Jan. 22.

The Tuxedo Club.

The Fred. Waldman Specialty company will close its engagement at the Galety with performances this afternoon and evening.

Commencing on Thursday afternoon the Tuxedo Club will open a return engagement at the Gaiety. This organization left a very good impression when seen here early in September last. So much so that Manager Walsh offered special inducements in order to secure a return engagement. But little can be said of this organization but that is good, and the patronage will undoubtedly be large.

"The Sorrows of Satan."

This evening at the Lyceum the company which recently produced "The Sorrows of Satan" here, will play a return engagement.

The interpretation given so recently here by the organization directed by Arthur C. Aiston was so admirable that an immediate demand was made when here a few weeks ago, and the same care will be observed in every detail of the production.

A Farcical Romance.

"His Excellency the Governor," which comes to us with the record about to expire. Insurnace Agent Dunn of a most unqualified and unexpected success in New York during the spring and summer just passed will be at the Lyceum next Friday. The unusually surprising circumstances of its New York hit are generally known. and will no doubt provoke curiesity to see the play which, put on to fill the last two weeks of the season, ran nearly ali summer, and was profitably revived at the opening of the present season.

Marshall of the British army, a "far-cleal remance." Charles Frohman has selected a competent cast for the engagement here. Including Ethel Barrymore, Charlotte Crane, Ida Vernon, Edwin Stevens, H. Reeves Smith, F. Newton Lindo, Edward See and others.

"Children of the Ghetto."

The best writers in this country who have seen Mr. Zangwill's famous play, "The Children of the Gnette," which is soon to be presented in this city. with the original New York and London cast, have given the author credit for having striven honestly and laborously to strike a new line, which he, they claim, has successfully accomplsihed. They further claim that he has displayed courage in putting on the stage realistic pictures of human habitation; that he has made the most accurate portrait painting, and observed all the accepted dramatic unities the development of a plot with an intensely human basis. More than $50,000 was expended in completing every essential feature for the presentation of the play. More than two car loads of scenery are used: the play was staged by Mr. James A. Herne, whose reputation in this country is without an equal as a master in the art of stage realism. More than forty people make up the entire east of which the following are the principal players: Wilton Lackaye, William Norris, Robert Edeson, Gus Weinberg, Adolphe Lestina, Gus Frankel, Emil Hoch, Frank Cornell, Fred Lotto, Rosabel Morrison, Mine. Cottrelly, Mabel Tallsferro, Ada Dwyer, Laura Almosnine, Ada Curry, Ellen Berg. Louise Muldener, and Alice Evans.

"The Children of the Ghatto" will be given at the Lyceum theatre on next Monday evening, and there is every reason to believe that it will be given a most generous reception by the theatre-going public of this city, not necessarily because it is a play that has attracted almost universal attention throughout the United States and England, but rather upon the basis of its intense interest, its dramatic supremacy, its pathetic story, tion to religious decrees, and the artistic and splendid marner in which it will be presented by, perhaps, of the best dramatic organizations that

THE PHILIPPINES MUST BE KEPT

The Whole Question Elemental.

Mr. President, this question is deeper than any question of party politics; deeper than any question of the isolated policy of our country, even; deeper even than any question of constitutional power. It is elemental. It is rucial. Oed has not been preparing the English-speaking and Teutonic peoples for a thousand years for nothing but vain and idle self-contemplation and self-admiration. No! He has made us the master organizers of the world to establish system where chaos reigns. He has given us the spirit of progress to overwhelm the forces of reaction throughout the earth. He has made us adepts in government that we may admirister government among savage and senile peoples. Were it not for such a force as this, the world would relapse litto barbarism and night. And of all our race, He has marked the American people as Hts chosen nation to finally lead in the regeneration of the world. This is the divine mission of America, and it holds for us all the profit, all the glory, all the happiness possible to man. We are trustees of the world's progress; guardians of its right-cous peace. The indement of the Master is upon us; "Ye have been faithful over a few things; I will make you ruler over many things."

What shall history say of us? Shall it say that we renounced that holy trust, left the savage to his base condition, the wilderness to the reign of waste, deserted duty, abandoned glery, forget our sordid profit even, because we feared our strength and read the charter of our powers with the doubter's eye and the quibbler's mind? Shall it say that called by events to captain and command the proudest, ablest, purest race of bis tory in history's noblest work, we declined that great commission? Our fathers would not have had it so. No! They founded no paralytic government, incapable of the simplest acts of administration. They planted no retreating flag.

God's Hand in All.

Thet flag has never paused in its on-The Whole Question Elemental.

God's Hand in All.

God's Hand in All.

That flag has never paused in its enward march. Who dares halt it nownow when history's largest events are carrying it forward—now when we are at last one people, strong enough for any task, great enough for any glory destiny can bestow. How comes it that our first century closes with the process of consolidating the American people into a unit just accomplished, and quick upon the stroke of that great hour presest upon us our world opportunity, world duty, and world glory which none but a people webled into an indivisible nation can achieve or perform? Blind, indeed, is he who sees not the hand of God in events so vast, so harmonious, so benign. Reactionary, indeed, is the mind that perceives not that this vital people is the strongest of the saving forces of the world; that our place, therefore, is at the head of the constructing and redeeming nations of the curth; and that, to stand aside while events march on is a surrender of our interests, a betrayal of our duty as blind as it is base. Craven, indeed, is the heart that fears to perform a work so golden and so noble; that dures not win a glory so immortal.

Do you tell me that it will cost us money? When did Americans ever measure duty by financial standards? Do you tell me of the tremendous toil required to overcome the vast difficulties of our task? What mighty work for the world, for humanity, even for ourselves, has ever been done with case? Even our bread must we can by the sweat of our faces, Why are we charged with power such as no people ever knew, if we are not to use it in a work such as no resople ever wrought? Who will dispute the divine mening of the fable of the talents? Do you remind me of the precious blood that must be given, the broken hearts of loved ones for their slain? And this is indeed a heavier price than all combined. And yet as a nation every historic duty we have accomplished, has been by the sacrifice of our noblest sons. Every hely memory that glorifies the flag is of those heroes who have died that its onw it that makes it precious to us. That flag is woven of hereism and grief, of the bravery of men and women's tears, of righteousness and battle, of sacrifice and anguish, of triamph and of glory. It is these which make our flag a holy thing. Who would tear from that sacred banner the glorious legends of a single battle where it has waved on land or sea? What son of a soldler of the flag, whose father fell beneath it on any field, would surrender that proud record for the heraldry of a king. In the cause of civilization, in the service of the republic anywhere on earth, Americans consider wounds the noblest decorations man can win and count the glving of their lives a glad and precious duty. Pray God that spirit never falls. Pray God the time may never come when Mammon and the love of case shall so debase our blood that we will fear to shed it for the flag and its imperial destiny. Pray God the time may never come when American heroism is but a legend, like the story of the Cld, American faith in our mission and our might a dream dissolved, and the glory of our mighty race departed.

And that time will never come. We will renew our youth at the fountain of new and glorious deeds. We will exalt our reverence for the flag by carrying it to a noble future as well as by remembering its ineffable past. Its immortality will not pass, because everywhere and always we will acknowledge and discharge the solemn responsibilities our sacred flag, in its decrease everywhere and always we will acknowledge and discharge the solemn responsibilities our sacred flag, in its decrease everywhere, ent hearts, where dwells the foar of God, the American people move forward to the future of their hope and the doing of His work. it that makes it precious to us.
