Conditional Verdict Returned in One and the Jury Reports a Disagreement in the Other.

The jury in the case of Duncan Mc-Murtie against Old Forge township, which was tried at length before Judge Edwards last week, returned a special verdict Saturday morning as follows: "Our verdict is in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant. The amount of the verdict is made up of two items. The first item is for the balance due for the building of the abutments and other charges about which there is no dispute, amounting, including interest, to $7$3.97. The second item is for extra work in building retaining or wing walls on the east and west sides of the Lackawanna bridge and for excavation and filling in connection with the same, amounting altogether, with interest, to $1.-534.32. We find for the plaintiff for the first item of $783.97, and for the second item of $1,534.32. But our find-ng as to the second item is subject to question of law to be reserved by the court." The question reserved by the court is as to whether or not the oral agreement under which the extra work was done constitutes a valid contract. In the case of William Stoddard against Old Forge township school board, the jury on Saturday reported it could not reach an agreement and vas discharged. Stoddard sued on a claim assigned o him by Contractor VanLoan for a balance due on the contract for the construction of the Old Forge High school, and for extra work and materiais which entered into the same. The defense admitted the claim for the balance of the contract, $2,592, but opposes payment of the bill of extras, claiming that the estra work was unauthorized. The board also claims it held responsible for a $160 order given by VanLoan to Haupt & Son, of Wilkes-Barre.

That seems quite fair, and one is ready to listen to a man who talks in that fashion. Facts-Facts about "Christian their circumstances. First, by shorten-ing their hours of labor: second, by ad-Science"-that is what Judge Ewing promised to give his audience, and that is precisely the point that he carefully and adroitly evaded. Judge Ewing has takexception of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western miners, inaugurated a strike en a brief to defend "Christian Science, and his enthusiasm as an advocate has utterly disqualified him to act as a rightnor for the advancement of wages, but it was for the establishment of a system cous judge. SUDDEN DEATH OF EXPIRED YESTERDAY FROM A STROKE OF APOPLEXY.

> Was One of the Best Known Military Men in the State and a Popular and Efficient Officer-Served as Musician, Chief Musician, Armorer, Quartermaster and Inspector of Rifle Practice-An Expert Rifle Shot and Coach-A Man of Many Fine Traits of Character.

The Thirteenth regiment of this city suffered an irreparable loss when yes-terday morning Rees Watkins, its inpector of rifle practice and for many years quartermaster sergeant, died at his home on Edna avenue, Providence. of an attack of apoplexy brought oa by the rupture of a blood vessel. Mr. Watkins had been a prominent figure, both in military and musical circles, ever since his advent in Scranton over twenty years ago, and his sudden death will come as a shock to numberless friends.

Besides his regimental duties he be ing the official armorer, he was the chorister of the North Main Avenue Baptist church and had charge of the singing in the Providence Presbytarian Sunday school.

Saturday night he complained of pains and yesterday morning was unable to rise from his bed.

Dr. W. G. Donne was summoned, but before he arrived Mr. Watkins died. His wife is the only surviving member of the family.

Rees Watkins was born in Brecon Wales, in 1847, and when 21 years old married Miss Elizabeth Sage. Fly years later the couple came to this country and took up their residence in Scranton.

CHARGE OF THE ARMORY.

Mr. Watkins secured the position of attending to the armory and for eight years lived with his wife on Adams avenue, near the building. Then they moved to Providence, where they have since dwelt. He was a splendid musician, having all that true love for music which seems inherent in every Welshman. He was an expert cornetist and also was possessed of an excellent voice.

He then joined the Thirteenth regiment band, when under the direction of Professor Cogswell, as cornetist, and remained with it all through its existence, serving later as chief musician of the drum corps. He next joined the regiment proper. It is acknowledged by the workingmen of the country that they resort to three means or methods to elevate and better in Company A, then commanded by Captain Charles C. Mattes, and speed lly gained distinction as a steady, true soldier, and specially as a marksman. He served as coach of all the shooting teams and was universally liked and popular wherever he went.

He was soon promoted to the position of quartermaster sergeant of Company A. and in 1889 was appointed as regimental quartermaster and range master.

On March 15, 1898, Colonel Courser appointed him inspector of rifle practice, with the rank of first lieutenant, and soon after this the Thirteenth regiment was summoned out, the Spanish war being then on.

APPOINTED INSPECTOR.

Mr. Watkins accompanied the regiment to Mt. Gretna, but as his office was done away with under the regular

The God of the Bible and the God of should be called, to continue until the market would get firm and healthy. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Christians, is an unknown God to "Chris-tian Science." Judge Ewing says that "Christian Science" urges its votaries to niners took a boldstand against adouting this, and well can I remember at a mass meeting held in Fellows' hall in Hyde Park, about the 12th day of June, 1929, the urpracticalness and unfairness believe in and to worship "one God and Father of all," who is "infinite in wisdom, justice, goodness,mercy, truth, and love." Undoubtedly some "Christian Schutists" do believe in and worship this God. But

Pize, the urpracticalness and unfaitness of the plan were stated by such men as Thomas Barrow, James Oliver, Law-tence Duhigg, Patsy Mahon, William J. Price, David Mosler, Henry Leightner, Thomas T. Morgan, John P. Lewis and For proof of this assertion note this fact: "Christian Science" denies the per-sonality of God. It teaches that "the host of others, too numerous to mention-men as good as steel in the labor of God and man are un-personality known." and it says specifically that God is "not a person." (Science and Health, page 377). It teaches that "man redects the impersonal God" (P. 2%). It teaches that "the divine principle, not person, is the father and mother of man and the universe" (P. 120). This teaching runs through the whole text book of "Christian Science." NOT THE BIBLE IDEA.

Now it is plain that this idea of God is not the Bible idea. The Bible teaches us to call God our Father; it represents Him as a person-as our Creator, Presor-ver and Redecmer; it tells us that He has spoken to us, and that we may spead to Him; it urges us to love Him, and trust Him, and pray unto Him. But if miners would not suspend work with all God be not a person, but only a princi-ple, then this Bible idea of God is untrue. Nothing could be more absurd than to see, or hear a man praying to a principic. It would be absurd to pray to chemistry, or to astronomy, or to electricity, or to the atmosphere. Has gravitation, or chemistry, or the laws of nature eyes to see or ears to hear a sinner when he cries? Yet this is Mrs. Eddy's God-a principle, but not a person-and this is the only god of "Christian Science." If Judge Ewing knows this "fact" of "Christian Science," he ought to have manifiness enough to state it. But instead of this he deceived his audience by stating that the Christian's God, and the god of "Christian Science" are identical Being a skillful advocate, the judge tried to cover up the facts by specious reasoning, and by a liberal use of flowers of rbeteric "Christian Science" rejects the Bible christian Science' rejects the bise doctrine of the Trinity. "Christian Science" says: "The theory of three persons in one God suggests a heathen god" (p. 121). Yet Judge Ewing, apparently, recognizes the Divinity of Jeeither Thomas T. Morgan or John P. Lewis, but it's immaterial about that.

God." In this, as in many other things, he differs widely from the doctrines of "Christian Science." His text-book, which he praises so highly, says that "Jesus by His demonstration of the di-vine principle" (not person) is "entitled" to "Sonship in Science." and that the Holy Ghost is "Divine Science" (D. 152). Again, on page 535, the Holy Ghost is defined as "Divine Science." In both places it is "Christian Science" that is meast. This doctrine is taught on page 501, where it is said: "The Holy Ghost, or Divine Science, overshadowed the pure virgin-mother with the full recog-nition that being is Spirit." Thus "Chris-tian Science" throws to the winds the Bible doctrine of the Trinity-a doctrine cussions; all the privilege that they were willing to grant him was a shent seat in the council. So he withdrew from the council and returned home, and they were the sole dictators in our business interest, and, by the way, if I am not greatly mistaken, we are drifting to en dure the same treatment at the hands o the United Mine Workers of America that we had in the year 1809, when we were driven into a strike for three months through agitation and intimidation of outsiders.
