Before Judge Edwards, in court room No. I, the first case called was Arthur Frothingham against C. H. Welles, an action in ejectment for the Lyceum theater and the ground connected with Mr. Frothingham did not appear and was not represented by counsel. A non-suit was thereupon directed by Judge Edwards. Later in the day an other action in ejectment was brought by Mr. Frothingham for the same property.

The suit of W. F. Smythe against Mary Shamrock was next put on trial The plaintiff sued to recover $100 which he alleges is due him as a commission for a loan he tried to obtain for her on property she owns at Throop. He alleges thate he was to get the commission for trying to get the loan. The defendant said there was no agree-ment as to price, she merely promising to pay the plaintiff whatever his services were worth for obtaining the loan if he was successful. The case went to the jury at 4 o'clock. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney C. H. Soper and the defendant by Aat-

He took it from the jury and directed a verdict for the defendant, ruling that it was not an action in assumpsit. The Supreme court reversed this finding and ordered a new trial. Judge Edwards next tried it and a verdict was found for the defendant, but some defect was shown in the trial and a new trial granted. In 1832 Hermans assigned his interest to James Anderson, who in 1845 purchased what he claimed was the legal paper title coming down from the ommonwealth, and which all the time had been in the possession of the Fisher family, of Philadelphia. In 1851 a special act was passed to enable Bidlack's widow to sell his land and she sold his one-half interest to Price & Pancoast, who leased it to the Pancoast Coal company. Anderson held the surface and his half of the coal until 1867, when he sold to Allen Anderson, his son, and James Savage, his son-in-law. A year or two later Allen Anderson sold his share to W. W. and A. H. Winton. W. W. Winton sold his interest to the Winton Coal company, and now the court is asked to decide whether he sold an eighth or a quarter interest.

The plaintiff claims Allen Anderson owned a half-interest. The defendant says it was only a quarter interest The defendant company is now paying royalty on eight eights. The amount involved is about $20,000.

New Trial Refused.

Judge R. W. Archbald handed down an opinion yesterday discharging a for a new trial in the case of Matilda Fahrig, administratrix, agains, Eugene Schimpff. In his opinion Judge Archbald says:

"If an arrangement was made by which the administratrix (Mrs. Fahrig) through his (Schimpfi's) intervention was the real purchaser that is a personal matter between the two; it was a fraud upon the estate to make it. legally, if not by intention, for which the sale at the instance of those interested could have been set aside. Attorney Clarence Ballentine, the master in the case, filed the jury's re-port with Clerk of the Courts Daniels yesterday. It recommends that the petition be granted and says that while under the law the turnpike company could recover $35,000, the jury of view would not be willing to allow more than half that amount, which is the principal that would produce the presnt net income of the road.

It is understood that the Scranton Railway company controls the pike and is satisfied with the jury's award. ## TELLS OF POLITICS IN PUERTO RICO

VICTOR PINCKNEY HOME ON FURLOUGH.

Dunmore Soldier Boy Who Contributed a Number of Interesting Articles to The Tribune in Puerto Rico, Tells the Present Political Conditions of the Island and Other Matters-It Is an Ideal Place to Live in as far as Climate Is Con-

Victor Pinckney, of 128 Bloom street, Dunmore, returned Sunday afternoon from San Juan, Puerto Rico, where he is occupying a government position, being now employed as a clerk in the office of the inspector general of the island, after having served in the milltary ranks.

Mr. Pinckney enlisted in the Eleventic regiment, on June 14, 1828, and left the city on June 16. His regiment, which was in the brigade commanded by General Schwan, was mobilized at Tampa, Fig., and set sail for Puerto Rico July 23, 1898, landing on August

The regiment of which he was a member had a very large number from this vicinity and the surgeon of the brigade was Dr. P. H. McAndrew. of this city The orders given to the brigade were to march through the Island and capture and occupy all Spanish strongholds.

Mr. Pinckney saw a good deal of active service during the execution of this command, especially at Horomigueros and Las Marias, where spirited battles were fought. In the first mentioned engagemen the entire brigade was engaged, but in the latter one battallon. Both contests occurred in the mountains, where the Spaniards were strongly protected. both by natural and artificial redoubts., and in both of them the American troops suffered very little loss and gained their objective point.

On December 23 Private Pinckney was advanced a step and became Corporal Pinckney. After this very little real fighting was participated in by the regiment, and for awhile Corporal Pinckney was utilized at division headquarters, where he was made chief clerk. Later on he was moved into the inspector general's department, and there his clerical duties became so heavy that it was impossible for him to attend to both them and his military obligations. He was, therefore, April 13, 1859, given his honorable discharge from the army and transferred into the civil service, where he has since remained.

FIRST TIME AUDITED.

Colonel C. H. Heyl is at the head of his department, and the work done consists principally of auditing the Spanish accounts of the island, its internal receipts, customs, etc. This is the first time that they have been audited, and it is a very difficult task as the Spaniards left the records in a vretched condition.

Mr. Pinckney, when seen by a Trioune man, spoke entertainingly of the sland and expressed his belief that in time, under the proper administration, Puerto Rico will become one of the richest and most flourishing colonies that any nation possesses. "At present," said he, "the in great political turmoil. Two parties, the Federal and Republican, are striving for leadership, and are constantly embroiling and quarreling. The Republican party is the more liberal in its views and is perfectly satisfied with American rule. Dr. Bartossa is the leader. The Federals, led on by Monos Riviera, are more of an anarchistic turn of mind and desire home rule, having as their aim a monarchy with Riviera as king. Their emblem is a five-pointed star, lone and solltary, while on the Republican banner is emblazoned an eagle perched over two golden banners. "The Republicans have gained all the principal points of the island and are really the sovereign party. general sentiment of the people of the island is towards the United States, and even the haughty old Castilians are gradually coming around and making advances. "The administration to now opening up gold and copper mines, government ice plants are being established and every effort is being made to develop the country. The trade of the country is chiefly in the hands of the Spanish who easily monopolize. "One of the greatest evils of the country and what threatens to be its oane is the number of saloens estabished. They are crowded, day and night, and are responsible for a great amount of lawlessness and disorder. Phis latter, moreover, cannot be easily checked, as the only guardians of the law are native policemen, who are worse than useless. They stand in mortal fear of the American soldiery on the island and the latter naturally, taking advantage of this, the state of iffairs is at times almost unendur-

NEED SOME POLICEMEN.

If a few of our big, burly bige-coats from these sections could be sent, Rod Mill Workers at Four Plants down the status of law and order of the island would be increased in a wonderful degree.

"San Juan is finely protected. It is entirely fortified by a large wall, which runs the entire distance around it, and from which the cannon point down on the bay. Two thousand, five hundred American troops, the Eleventh infantry, commanded by Colonel Russy, and the Fifth cavalry, by Colonel Rafferty, are stationed at San Juan, but in case of trouble men would, of course, be hurried there from all over the island.
