Malone, of St. Paul's church, Green Ridge, and Rev. John J. Loughran, of St. Peter's cathedral, will return Friday from Baltimore and Washington, where they are spending several days. O. F. Byxbee, who will leave town in a few days to assume the position of business manager of the Scranton Tribune, was surprised on Saturday evening by the receipt of a handsome framed picture, the gift of employees in the composing department of the Press, who spent three pleasant hours at his home on Fair street—Paterson Press.

COMPANY C EXAMINED.

Major Millar Inspects Captain Burkhouse's Command. Company C of the First Battalion of the Thirtieth Regiment was last night inspected by Major W. S. Millar. E. H. Burkhouse is captain of this portion of the Thirtieth, Joseph P. Helriegel is first lieutenant and Bernard Haggerty, second lieutenant. The men were put through a lively pace and made a very good showing. Prior to their inspection the field, regimental staff and non-commissioned staff of officers of the regiment were examined, being put through the sword manual and like exercises.

SOME FEW CITIZENS ARE DISSATISFIED

SLIM ATTENDANCE AT WATER RATE MASS MEETING.

Those Who Did Attend, However, Left No Question in the Mind of the Listener That They Consider the Meter Rates All That They Should Not Be—Mr. Scranton Contributed a Letter, in Which He Had Something to Say About the Board of Trade.

If one was to judge the sentiment of the community on the question of water rates by the "mass meeting" held last night in the council chamber, he would be led to the conclusion that there was no general complaint in this connection.

By actual count there were present just eighteen citizens, none counting Messrs. Chittenden, Roche, Melvin and Schneider, of the light and water committee, on whose invitation the meeting was held. These eighteen were H. E. Paine, insurance agent; O. B. Wright, pension agent; Marshall Keller, harness dealer; J. J. Brown, cigar dealer; P. J. Zetser, druggist; Dr. F. Struppeler, dentist; John J. Harie, clerk; Joseph Nolan, laundryman; F. E. Pratt, civil engineer; W. S. Diehl, lawyer; C. W. McKinney, agent; M. P. Flynn, W. H. Whyte, John Majernik, John Burke and C. R. Kinsley, C. W. Fulton and Stephen Spruks, the special committee of the board of trade, delegated to represent that body at the meeting. The small manufacturer who most complains against exorbitant water rates was conspicuous by his absence. The water companies were not represented, but the representatives of the Scranton Gas and Water company, sent a letter. Those who did attend were far from being satisfied with the present meter rates.

PURPOSE OF MEETING. When Chairman Chittenden announced that the purpose of the meeting was to gain enlightenment for the committee, that it might deal the more intelligently with the Melvin ordinance, by which the city contemplates fixing the rates to be charged by the water company, there was forthcoming a flood of enlightenment along certain lines that was certainly creditable in the matter of volume to such a limited gathering.

The certain line in question was the alleged exorbitant charges under the meter system. Mr. Paine argued that the 20 cent rate to small consumers is practically prohibitive. The rate for a party using 10,000 gallons or less a day should be brought down to 12 cents. He thought this thing of wholesaling water is inconsistent, he said. It costs no more to make water run down hill through a small pipe than through a large pipe. At all events, he said, big users can and do make private contracts.

Mr. Kinsley expressed the opinion that the meter rates are too high and that the rates in the Melvin ordinance are very fair. Mr. Kinsley, as chairman of the board of trade committee, presented a lot of figures culled from reports made to the board of trade through its committees. The Scranton Bedding company's case was cited as an example of the high rate to small manufacturers. This company, in a letter to the board of trade, stated that its yearly contract rate was $6.75 a month, but that after the meter was put in the company paid for water $21.39 in October, while its coal bill for the same month was $21.55.

The Lackawanna laundry case was also cited. The laundry had a yearly rate of $100, but after the meter was put in at the 10-cent rate its first month's water bill was $68.74. The estimated water cost for the year would be $900. Mr. Kinsley also told of how certain parties who use less than 50,000 gallons a day intentionally waste enough to make the meter register more than 50,000 gallons, so that they will come under the 15-cent rate. In other words, by using 51,000 gallons a day they will be called upon to pay $25 less than if they used 49,000 gallons. In closing Mr. Kinsley said that it was the sentiment of the board of trade that the discrepancy between the minimum and maximum meter rates is palpably an injustice to the small consumer and that the maximum rate must be lowered.

MR. WHYTE'S LETTER. Mr. Whyte presented as embodying his complaint, a letter which he sent to Mr. Scranton last June. It was a very interesting document. On a business of less than $15,000 a year Mr. Whyte was called upon to pay, as he put it, a water tax equal to 15 per cent of his gross receipts. It averaged about $30 a month or about a dollar a head for every guest at his hotel. "This is not a tax, but a connection," Mr. Whyte went on to say in his letter, "and if it was general there would be a revolution."

Mr. Whyte supplemented his letter with an argument that a hotel is nothing more or less than an abiding place of a large family and for this and the further reason that many of its benefits are used gratis by the general public, which pays water tax on other properties, it should be given the benefit of the domestic rate. He then told that, last week, he inspected a fifty-family apartment house in New York city and though it was 150x250 feet and ten stories high, with hot and cold water in every apartment, the monthly water rate was only $40, just about $10 more than he paid for his small hotel with its average of twenty-five guests.

In answer to a question by Mr. Roche, he expressed the opinion that an eight-cent rate was high enough for a hotel such as his. His yearly rate formerly was $100. The meter rate now is $30 a month. M. P. Flynn, proprietor of the Lackawanna Valley house, next gave his experience with the meter. His yearly rate was $240. The introduction of a meter brings him water bills of $55 a month. The first month the meter was working his bill was $40. When he had recovered consciousness he went to see Mr. Scranton.

MR. SCRANTON'S ADVICE. Mr. Scranton advised him to tighten up his plumbing and prevent waste. Mr. Flynn religiously followed this advice and economized in every possible way in the use of water. The next month his bill was higher than before. The last bill he received was $55. Mr. Flynn believed that every consumer should be charged the same rate. There is no reason, that he could see, why one man should pay more than another for a thousand gallons of water.

CONTROLLER WANTS TOO MUCH School Board Committee and Mr. Howell Disagree on Terms.

President B. T. Jayne and the finance committee of the board of school control met yesterday afternoon to discuss the question of engaging City Controller Howell to audit the school accounts. Deputy Controller C. A. Hartley and City Solicitor A. A. Vauxburg were present. The committee expressed itself as favoring the idea of having the controller act as school board auditor, but they did not like the terms on which the controller offers to do the work. He asks a percentage allowance that will amount in a year to about $1,500. The committee is not disposed to pay over $75 a month. Nothing definite was done at the meeting, but it is likely some conclusion will be reached at the next meeting, which is to take place Friday night of this week.

In case the board and the controller fail to come to terms, it is the purpose of the board committee to recommend to the board that the board's own auditing committee supervise the accounts for the remainder of the year, at least, and, if the supreme court affirms Judge Archbald's opinion, steps can be taken to adopt this or some other expedient as a permanent idea.

DINNER OF DENTISTS.

Served in the Private Dining Room at the Jermyn—Those Who Surrounded the Tables.

The third annual dinner of the Luzerne and Lackawanna County Dental society was held last evening in the Hotel Jermyn. The dinner was served in the small private dining room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and just thirty members sat down at 8 o'clock to the three tables arranged.

After the excellent menu provided had been discussed, a number of the members responded to toasts, Dr. B. M. Smith, of Wilkes-Barre, acting in a happy manner as toastmaster. Dr. B. M. Cray, of Wilkes-Barre, the first speaker, spoke wittily on "Briefly the Soul of Wit." He was followed by Dr. Alfred E. Bull, who told of "The Dentist in Athletics." "The Ladies" were looked after by Dr. Tallen Phillips, of the city, and Dr. P. J. O'Hara, also of this city, spoke on "Dental Education." The subject of "Charges" was aired by Dr. H. M. Beck, of Wilkes-Barre, after which the rather witty question of "Imperialism" found an able advocate in Dr. H. N. Young, also of Wilkes-Barre. "I'd rather be right than president," that famous declaration was spoken on by Dr. W. H. Spencer, of Carbondale, and the last speaker was Dr. E. T. Wheaton, of this city, who spoke on "The Past and Future."

Those present at the dinner were the following: Dr. H. M. Beck, Dr. B. M. Cray, Dr. B. M. Smith, Dr. D. B. Williams, Dr. A. E. Bull, Dr. Thomas W. Thomas, Dr. H. N. Long, Dr. D. B. Gearhart and Dr. C. S. Beck, all of Wilkes-Barre; Dr. G. H. Parkington, Dr. Albany N. Dr. C. Sherman and Dr. George B. Ware, of Philadelphia; Dr. A. C. Shoemaker, of Pittsburg; Dr. W. A. Spencer, of Carbondale; Dr. O. H. Richards, of Moosic; Dr. P. J. O'Hara, Dr. E. T. Wheaton, Dr. Tallen Phillips, Dr. George C. Knox, Dr. T. C. Lunge, Dr. Charles E. Zintson, Dr. J. L. Fordham, Dr. Thomas A. Eynon, Dr. E. J. Donagan, Dr. E. M. Green, Dr. B. C. Fern, Dr. P. F. Struppeler, Dr. R. M. Stratton and Dr. C. C. Laubach, all of Scranton, and Dr. E. P. Cary, of Dunmore.

SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED A WEEK. Dr. Allen Has Decided This Length of Time Is Sufficient.

Health Officer Allen has decided that all schools to be closed hereafter on account of the prevalence of diphtheria and scarlet fever, and it is intimated that there are several more to be closed, are to remain shut for one week. It is expected that a number of the schools at present closed will be opened either today or tomorrow.

In closing Mr. Kinsley said that it was the sentiment of the board of trade that the discrepancy between the minimum and maximum meter rates is palpably an injustice to the small consumer and that the maximum rate must be lowered.

SMOKER AND ENTERTAINMENT. The Scranton Clerks' association, No. 211, last night held its regular business meeting at Carpenters' hall, after which a smoker and entertainment was enjoyed by the members of the club and their friends. An excellent program was rendered, Joseph Custard giving several selections on a phonograph, Albert Davis singing a fine tenor solo, and speeches being made by John Knowlton, of the Carpenters' union, and several other representatives of labor organizations of the city. In the course of the evening fifteen new members were initiated into the organization.

TRYING CASE WITH ELEVEN JURORS

A. C. RENSHAW WAS EXCUSED FROM SERVING.

The Heirs of His Deceased Grand Aunt Are Interested in the Outcome of the Case in Which He Was Sworn as a Juror—Moscow Case Over a Note Occupied the Attention of the Court for a Time. An Oilyphant Trespass Case—Other Matters in Court Yesterday.

When common pleas court opened yesterday morning the trial of the case of the Winton coal company, limited, against the Pancoast Coal company was resumed before Judge Cyrus Gordon. Attorney S. B. Price, of counsel for the plaintiff company, objected to A. C. Renshaw continuing on the jury. He was a grandnephew of the late Mrs. B. H. Throop and the plaintiff is interested in the Pancoast company.

After some consultation on the part of the attorneys it was decided to excuse Mr. Renshaw from further duty as a juror in the case and the trial then proceeded before eleven jurors. Mrs. Pelton sought to recover on a promissory note for the plaintiff. All of that part of the evidence was not in when court adjourned. Mrs. Mary A. Pelton was the plaintiff in an action against I. C. Cobb tried before Judge H. M. Edwards. Mrs. Pelton sought to recover on a note given by Cobb to J. R. Osgood, which passed into the possession of Mrs. Pelton. There was no dispute that Cobb gave to Osgood a note for $25.

BOTH SIDES OF CASE.

The plaintiff alleges that Osgood owed her a bill for groceries and its security for it gave her the note in question. She had the note renewed by Cobb a number of times to give Osgood an opportunity of paying the bill. He did not do so and she is now trying to recover on the note. Mr. Cobb's defense was that he owed nothing to Osgood and that the note was an accommodation that he might raise some money at the First National bank in this city. The bank required another endorser and Osgood did not get the money. He held the note for a time and then Mrs. Pelton obtained it from him, she finding it necessary to borrow some money and getting it as Osgood did, merely as an accommodation. Cobb admits having renewed the note several times, but this too, he said, was for the purpose of accommodating Mrs. Pelton. Attorneys M. J. Martin and J. H. Towry appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney A. D. Dean for the defendant. The case went to the jury at 2:55 o'clock. Up to the hour of adjourning a verdict had not been returned.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

In the case of W. F. Smyth against Mary Shamrock which was tried on Tuesday, a verdict in favor of the defendant was returned. In the case of Angelina Hendrick against M. P. Gillock, administrator, a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $2,619.17 was directed, no defense being offered. A verdict was also directed for the plaintiff in the case of John F. Stansbury against W. Townsend. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant. The verdict was for $391, the full amount of the claim with interest.

When court adjourned for the day the case of William Pfeiffer against William J. Shubmehl was on trial. Pfeiffer rented a building on Lackawanna street, which was used by Shubmehl and went in the jewelry business. The latter issued a landlord's warrant and placed it in the hands of Constable William Reese, who levied on the goods of Pfeiffer. The latter alleges that the seizure of his goods was without warrant and he sues to recover for their value and for the injury done to his business by the action of Shubmehl and Reese. Pfeiffer is now a resident of West Scranton. He is represented by Attorneys M. J. Mahon and M. A. McLaughlin and the defendants by Attorney E. C. Newcomb.

RULE FOR NEW TRIAL.

In the case of Duncan McMurtree against the township of Old Forge, tried last week, court yesterday granted a rule to show cause why the verdict of the jury should not be set aside and a new trial granted. It is returnable to argument court.

A rule was also granted to show cause why judgment in the case should not be entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for the sum of $783.97, and not for any other or greater sum. This is also returnable to argument court.

MUST PAY ALIMONY. In the divorce case of Pauline Scheuer against Henry Scheuer, Judge H. M. Edwards yesterday handed down the following order: "The respondent is directed to pay to the libellant for counsel fees the sum of $50 within ten days from this date, and he is ordered further to pay said libellant the sum of $20 each month for alimony beginning with the month of January, 1900, the said sum to be paid on or before the 20th day of each month until otherwise ordered by the court."

WANTS TO POSSESS HER DAUGHTER. Mrs. Mary Ann went before Judge Archbald yesterday and complained that her 15-year-old daughter, Mammie May, is being subjected to unnatural abuses at the home of her aunt, Mrs. May, of Charles street, Providence, where she has been living for a number of years. The mother asked to have the child taken from her aunt and turned over to the petitioner's care. Judge Archbald granted a writ of habeas corpus forthwith, drafting the petition himself and superintending the Mason & Hamlin Pianafortes. Were found worthy of a HIGHER DISTINCTION than all others at the Philadelphia National Export Exposition, 1899.

The Mason & Hamlin Pianos received the very Highest Honors and were the only pianos to receive such at the Philadelphia National Export Exposition, for in the case of the Mason & Hamlin Pianos the Jury of Awards did not rest by giving the Highest Medal in the R power, but finding these instruments so distinguished by their tone quality and general superiority as to place them in a class by themselves, the Jury referred them to the Committee of Science and Arts of the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, specially recommending that an extra exceptional Medal be bestowed. The Pianofortes of no other maker were recognized by the Jury of Awards as meriting this signal distinction. A complete stock of these instruments may be seen at the warehouses of the Scranton representatives, L. B. POWELL & CO., 131-133 Washington Avenue, Scranton.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD.

The Body of Herman Harris Brought to This City. Funeral services over the body of Herman Harris, late of this city, whose remains were brought to the city from Los Angeles, Cal., where he died of typhoid fever, were conducted yesterday at the home of the mother of the deceased, Mrs. H. Harris, 915 Pine street.

The house was crowded with acquaintances of the dead young man, come to manifest their respect for their departed friend. He lived here nearly all his life and in that time made a host of devoted friends, all of whom heard the sad news of his death with the greatest pain and sorrow. The services at the home were very beautiful and impressive as conducted by Rev. E. Chapman, of this city, and Rev. C. H. Salzman, of Wilkes-Barre. This morning at 8 o'clock the body will be removed to Philadelphia and there cremated.

SMITH HELD IN BAIL.

Charged with Assaulting and Abusing His Sick Wife. Charles Smith, of 739 Capouse avenue, was yesterday arraigned before Alderman P. De Lacy and held in $300 bail on the charge of assault and battery on his wife, Kate, while the latter was in a very delicate condition. The circumstances surrounding the case are of such a nature that Coroner J. F. Roberts and Mr. Duggan, agent for the board of associated charities, are investigating it.

On Monday a child was born to the couple without any doctor being in attendance and four hours later it expired. Both the coroner and Mrs. Duggan were notified of this circumstance, the father having been known to visit the mother even during her confinement and there being room for suspicion that this was the cause of the very weak condition of the infant.

Monday night about 8 o'clock Smith wrote to about his wife and struck her. Mrs. Murray, a sister of the latter, immediately went before Alderman De Lacy and had a warrant issued, charging Smith with assault and battery and threats to kill. Patrolman Potter served the warrant and took Smith to the central police headquarters, where he was held over night and yesterday morning given a hearing. Coroner Roberts, after making an examination of the deceased child, decided that it had died from natural causes, but that it had been prematurely born.

Smith is a teamster by occupation. His wife is in a terrible physical condition, being a complete wreck and it may be that she will be taken to some institution where she will receive proper treatment. She tells a pitiful story of neglect and ill-treatment by her husband and some of her children.

EVE OF THE REFORMATION.

Historical Society Hears an Able Paper by Attorney Murphy. At last night's meeting of the Catholic Historical society and Newman Magazine club an interesting paper on "The Eve of the Reformation in England" was read by Attorney John J. Murphy.

It was a review and discussion of a work on that subject published by Rev. Father Gasquet, a Benedictine, and tended to prove by authoritative references that the alleged ignorance and laxity of the priesthood in that period was the most absolute of calamities. Next week the society will hear an address on "The Greek Church" by Rev. P. J. Loughran, S. T. L., and at the succeeding meeting the monthly review of the current magazine literature will be the feature.

DR. McLEOD AND CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Those Who Heard or Read Dr. McLeod's Sermon Will Be Interested in Reading Judge Ewing's Lecture. In view of the general interest in the lecture of Judge Ewing, of Chicago, which has been aroused by Dr. McLeod's sermon on "Christian Science," copies of the lecture referred to can be obtained free of charge or they will be mailed free to any address. Also if called for a copy of "Science and Health" with key to the scriptures, by Mary Baker G. Eddy, will be loaned to any one wishing to read it. Call on or address First Church of Christ, Scientist, 519 Adams ave., Scranton, Pa. Every one will read with interest Judge Clark's (of Omaha) reference to Dr. McLeod's subject, printed in yesterday's Scranton Republican.

WILL PROBABLY DIE.

Recovery of Henry Slattery Is Almost Despaired of. Henry Slattery, of Oak street, Providence, who was run over on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad tracks Monday evening and both of whose legs were cut off, yesterday rested quietly at the Lackawanna hospital. He passed a good day and did not seem to suffer a great deal of pain, but still his recovery is well-nigh despaired of, and late last night it was thought that he was likely to die at any hour.
