EAGAN'S BODY CREMATED.

Expense Defrayed by a Brooklyn School Teacher.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, Jan. 19.—The remains of the late James J. Eagan were cremated at the United States Crematory Association's plant at Fresh Pond Long Island. The expense, $40, was defrayed by Miss May J. Carr, a Brooklyn, N. Y., school teacher. When Miss Carr was in Montrose last summer she called at the jail.

When Eagan expressed a wish that his body might be cremated, as he feared that there might be objections to its burial in the cemeteries, Miss Carr thereupon promised that she would have the cremation performed, and she was present when it was done. The sealed can containing the ashes will be given to Mr. Smith, Eagan's foster brother, who resides near Windsor, N. Y.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 19.- The duliness and apathy which have prevailed in the stock market all week gave place in the late dealings today to a considerable show of animation and strength. Business broadened out and embraced a greatly extended list of stocks and practically all that were dealt in advanced briskly to a level substantially above that of last night. The immediate metive of the buying movement was the premilinary estimates of the gains in cash far the week by the associated banks. The professional traders themselves turned in a body to the long side of the market, ofter having made a savage drive in the morning at Third Avenue, breaking that stock over 19 points. The amount of stocks brought out on a decline did not prove very encouraging and the rest of the market was not acutely affected. A number of positive points of strength also developed, notably in Missouri Pacific, in which there was evidence of operations by a pool. The metal group was strong, led by Steel and Wire, which was bought in anticipation of dividend action. Sugar was a prominent figure in the advance on heavy dealings in which the demand from the shorts was a large factor. Total sales, 344,390 shares. The market for railroad bonds continued broad and active all day and strength was general throughout the lost. Total sales, par value, $2,29,000. United States 3s declined is and new is coupon advanced is in the bid price.
