DEFENDANT WINS

IN BIG COAL CASE

JUDGE GORDON GIVES THE JURY BINDING INSTRUCTIONS.

Suit Hinged on Points of Law and the Court Decided Them in Favor of the Defendant Company—Judge Edwards Also Relieves a Jury of the Responsibility of Passing on a Complicated Land Case—Friday Afternoon Jury That Didn't Stay Out Marvellous to Say.

Binding instructions in favor of the defendant were given by Judge Gordon yesterday to the jury in the case of the Winton Coal company against the Pancost Coal company which had been on trial all week, and which had been tried three times previously.

The court ruled that there was nothing for the jury to pass upon in the matter of the question of title by adverse possession on the part of James Anderson as he went into possession under the Knapp title which was admittedly gained by adverse possession. In the second place, the title through Fisher, on which the plaintiff also rested, was declared by the court to be invalid, as it was never proven. Sketched, the case is this: Knapp squatted on the land in 1858. After twenty-two years he let it go by sheriff's sale and Bidlock bought it in Bidlock sold to Herman, reserving a half interest in the coal. Herman sold to James Anderson, the party in favor of the above mentioned half interest in the case. Anderson therefore came into only a half interest.

SOLD TO ANDERSON. Anderson sold to Allen Anderson, his son, and James Savage, his son-in-law. The son sold to A. H. and W. W. Winton. A. H. Winton sold to the Winton Coal company and the latter is suing for royalties on a two-eighths interest in the coal. The company struck in January, 1898, which in its turn had shown heavier business than in any year preceding. It cannot be expected that such a gain will be repeated.

Sales of foundry pig at reduced prices declined two for 10,000 tons and No. 1 pig at 44, but Bessemer and grey frogs at Pittsburgh are held unchanged, though without sales. The copper output of this country in 1899 was 282,206 tons, greater by 91,000, or 53 1/2 per cent., than in 1898, while the foreign product last year, $9,240 tons, declined in the four years by 3,962 tons. The price of copper and lead are unchanged, with tin higher at 27 1/2 cents. Perhaps the most important industrial event is the success in marketing wool goods for the new season at prices averaging 18 1/4 per cent. higher than last year.

Business in cotton goods begins to increase, though in staples still moderate. The goods now averaging 29.7 per cent. higher than a year ago, and with the rise this week to 7.81 cents cotton is 4 per cent. higher.

The market for breadstuffs is not active. The price of wheat in prices of wheat been of any consequence, but the active main option shows a sharp decline. Atlantic exports continue far below last year's, in three weeks 6,092,325 bushels against 13,224,982 last year, and Pacific exports in the same weeks were 3,227,575 against 8,594,894 last year. Western receipts were in three weeks only 8,623,132, against 13,005,482 last year. Corn receipts are smaller than last year by 5,000,000 bushels for the three weeks, while exports have been 10,385,185, against 5,510,459 last year, and the active movement caused spot quotations to advance.

Failures for the week have been 242 in the United States against 249 last year, and 40 in Canada against 32 last year.

A CRISIS IN GUATEMALA

How a Civilian Assisted in Saving the Government's Credit.

From the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "A quaint experience I once had in the interior of Guatemala," said a former resident of that republic, "furnishes a tip-top illustration of the way they run governments in Central America. I had occasion to visit a small town in the coffee belt on some business and found the commandant in a state bordering on distraction. We took dinner together and he told me his tale of woe between courses. His soldiers, it seemed, had been without pay for over three months, and as the government made no effort to provide them with rations, they had subsisted on beans, tortillas and coffee furnished on credit by the old women of the village. Naturally this credit had worn itself out, and two days before I arrived all the old women went on a strike, since which time the garrison had been practically without food. Needless to say, the soldiers were desperate, and they had determined to desert en bloc and go back to their farms. I advised the commandant to telegraph the facts immediately to the president and lend me as much courage to send the message. As soon as it was received the president sent word to a wealthy planter 'requesting' him to dispatch some cash instantly to the commandant. The planter gave a messenger a $100 bill and rushed him off on horseback for the village, which he reached at daybreak next morning. When the poor commandant saw the kindness he nearly swooned away. He was desperate, and they had determined to desert en bloc and go back to their farms.
