LACKAWAXEN BRIDGE.

Story of the Iron Structure That Never Came.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Honesdale, Jan. 22 .- When the Delaware and Hudson completed the abutments for the new railroad bridge over the Lackawaxen between Seeleyville and Honesdale a temporary trestle work was put up, on which tracks were laid for trains to pass over until the arrival of the iron bridge, which was promised last September, but which has not yet arrived. The maia supports to the trestle work rested in bed of the river. The sudden rise in the river brought large cakes of ice down against the trestling and forced it out. This happened Saturday night thirty minutes after the last train bound for Carbondale had passed over the bridge. The incoming train could get no farther than the bridge and the passengers were transferred to wagons and brought to Honesdale. The bridge of the old gravity road, just north of the new bridge, is still stand-

STRIKE QUESTION.

Efforts to Prevent Trouble in Wilkes-Barre.

Wilkes-Barre, Jan. 22.-Charles J. Thain, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, for this district, said in an interview today that the only way a general strike could be avoided in the anthracite coal region was recognition of the members of the union by the operators. Continuing, he said:

"The policy of the United Mine Workers of America has to be to use every nonorable means before resorting to the last weapon of justice, the strike. In the present case the miners requested a joint interview and upon being almost totally ignored, demanded one, and again being treated with contempt, must now either endeavor to enforce one or accept an invitation for a joint meeting from the operators if they have grace sufficient and horse sense enough to notify their employes to that effect. No individual or committee meetings are possible for a permanent settlement. This is what the miners request and require, and no temporary makeshift."

The Wilkes-Barre board of trade, Commercial club, business men in general and ministers of the gospel are using every effort to avert a strike, Rev. Father Curran, pastor of Holy Savior church, this city, whose parishioners are mostly miners and mine laborers, is opposed to a strike. He says, as a rule strikes do not pay, but on the contrary bring poverty and dis-tress. In his opinion the majority of the miners are not prepared for a lockout, and if they all were, they will do a great deal of thinking before they onsent to go out on strike.

Mrs. Jones was able to procure ball and was released. Stevenson was sent to jail and at his trial pleaded guilty to forgery. Judge Lynch would not sentence him until Mrs. Jones was infancial public showed no disposition to pay higher prices for American securi-ties. As soon as prices were lifted in this market selling orders for London ac-count were executed in the leading in-ternational stocks. This seemed to dis-courage any further operations for a rise and prices drifted back near Sat-urday's closing level and oscillated very feebly from that level for the rest of the day. Whatever speculative disposition was current seemed to be diverted to the cotron and wheat markets where there was some show of animation and consid-erable strength reflected from foreign markets. While the market was thus listless the undertone was firm and what-ever buying there was, was attributed to covering by a large outstanding short interest. Accretions of cash to the re-serves of New York banks continue on a large scale, but there was no further market change in the rates for money today. A further drop in storling ex-change rates marked the continued re-laxation in the money situation abroad as well as here. The present factors making towards greater case in money re liable to some interruption at no very distant period. The money coming from the sub-treasury is due in part to heavy disbursements for pension payments, which are now about completed for the present period. If the drain from the banks into the sub-treas-vry by reason of the taking up of sur-plus revenues is recouned the present rate of return from the interior would be scarrely sufficient to offset it. FRENCH PROGRESS IN CHINA.

Demands for Territory at Kwang-Chan-Wan Bay Conceded.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 22 .- The steamship Monmouthshire brings news from Shanghal that China has acquiesced in French demands for territory at Kwang-Chan-Wan bay, after two more Chinese defeats. China has dismissed the vicercy of two Kwang provinces and appointed Li Hung Chang to succeed him. China also agrees to decapitate the prefect who began the warfare against the French, and to pay 200,000 taels indemnity to the families of Frenchmen who were killed. French leaders in Tonkin are elated greatly, and assert that while England is busy in Africa, France should ex-tend her sphere of influence over Kwang Tung, Kwangsi and Yunnan, and demand equality with England in Szechuan.

Eighty French soldiers were sent into the interior Dec. 20 to make a demonstration and prevent further native uprisings. They engaged a body of Chinese troops and fought their way through. A mob then surrounded them, but were driven back. One hundred natives were killed or wounded. The same week three companies of marine infantry charged Chinese regulars, and killed twenty-two of them. French warships then threatened to go up the river and bombard Canton, whereupon China yielded.
