ONE-QUARTER NUMBERED.

Free Delivery of Mail May Be Stopped in Certain Sections.

Postmaster Ripple yesterday forwarded to Postoffice Inspector Gorman a list of the marked and unmarked treet corners and the numbered and unnumbered houses in the city, as per request sent in over two months ago. The list is as follows: Marked street corners, 207; unmarked street corners, 80; incorrectly marked street corners, numbered houses, 12,809; unnumbered houses, 3,906; Incorrectly numbered houses, 803.

A perusal of the above list shows that over one-quarter of the houses in the city are either unnumbered or incorrectly numbered. Although councils were notified of the matter two months ago and warned that in other cities he department had ordered free delivery stopped on those streets where proper facilities are not afforded the carriers, they have taken no action in the matter whatever and the local postoffice authorities say they may be surprised some morning to see free delivery shut off from certain portions of the city.

SCHOOL BOARD IS NOT IN CONTEMPT

OPINION OF JUDGE EDWARDS IN FELL CASE.

Gives Some Advice to the Members of the Board as to What They Should Do Hereafter in the Way of Purchasing School Books-Judgment Reversed in the Case of Mary Ann Gray Against John L. Bengough-Full Text of Both Opin-

Two opinions were handed down resterday by Judge H. M. Edwards. One discharged the "rule to show cause why an attachment for contempt shall not issue against the defendants," in the case of Nicholas Glynn, and others, against John Me-Carty and others, school directors of the school district of Fell township. The opinion follows:

On November 9, 1829, in an opinion filed at that time, we adjudged a certain contract entered into between the school board of Fell township and Ginn & Co. to be illegal, and directed the injunction to be continued until the further order of the court restraining the said school board from carrying out the terms of the

When we made the order continuing the preliminary injunction our intention was to restrain the school board from making any purchases under the coutract which we adjudged void and not to prevent the board from purchasing such books as were necessary to replace others that were worn out or lost. Subse-quent to that time an affidavit was pre-sented to us alleging that the school beard were replacing the book in use in the public schools of Vandling by books furnished by Ginn & Co, and that the books so furnished were purchased in violation of the terms or the injunction. We thereupon granted a rule to show ause why the school board should not be adjudged to be in contempt. Depositions were taken and are now before us. Giv-ing to the testimony contained in the depositions its greatest probative force we find that all the school board has done has been to replace books that are worn out and lest and books that were destroyed by a fire with the books that are furnished by Ginn & Co. We know of now law to prevent the school board from meeting such emergencies in the way they have done.

It must be remembered that the school board of Fell township for several years have failed to comply with the requirements of the law providing for the scice-tion of text books after the annual ejection of the teachers and that books have been bought by them from time to time to supply the necessities of the school. The only way the school board can square themselves with the law is to proceed immediately after the next annual election of teachers to call the teachers together as an advisory body and to adopt a series of text books for the ensuing three years. Once they are started in the right direction it will be an easy matter for them afterwards to observe and carry out the mandatory provisions of the statutes governing the selection of text books.

We are clearly of the opinion that the school board is not in contempt and we therefore discharge the rule and refuse the attachment, and we direct the plain-tiffs to pay the cests of these proceed-

CRAY-BENGOUGH CASE. The other opinion was in the case of Mary Ann Gray against John L. Bengough. It is as follows: We have examined this case carefully and are satisfied that under ordinary cir cumstances the record ought to be sus-tained. It appears that a summons for board and an attachment under the act of 1876 were issued at the same time. At the hearing before the justice the attachment was dissolved and judgment en-tered against the defendant upon the proceedings commenced by the summons We have held repeatedly that an attachment for board, unsupported by a previous judgment, is not valid, but it the attachment itself is dissolved the proceedings under the summons remain, and we know of no reason why the judg-ment under the summons should not be sustained.

The proceedings are tegular, the cause of action is clearly stated, plaintiff and defendant appeared, and judgment was regularly entered against the defendant. Why is not such a judgment valid re-gardless of the fact that an attachment was issued and subsequently dissolved by the justice at the time of the hearing so hold until otherwise convinced, w are constrained in this case to reverse the proceedings. The attorney for the defendant relied upon the case of Thatcher vs. Beam, No. 50, September term, 1893, common pleas of Lackawanna county, in which the proceedings on a similar ase were reversed.

This case will be found reported in 3 Lackawanna Jur. p. 177. The attorney, as he informed us in court, instructed his elient not to appeal the case, but to take a certiorari, being his advice upon the case cited. He had a right to do this and to rely on the judgment of this court as pronounced in 1863. Although, under circumstances, we reverse the procedings in this case, our action cannot be used as a precedent for future cases Proceedings reversed.

AN EXPLOSION OF GAS.

Three Men Burned in the Marvine Mine-One of Them Is in a Serious Condition.

yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock in the Marvine mines, North | ing action was taken in other cases: Scranton, and resulted in the probably fatal injury of one man and the serious injury of two others. Thomas Coleman, of Parker street, aged 19 years, and Frank Parks, of Depot street, aged 20 years, the two most seriously injured, were employed as driver boys. They were standing at the entrance to one of the chambers unhitching the mules from a car when a volume of gas was felt rushing along the gangway. In a moment it was upon them and, becoming ignited by the naked flames of their lamps. exploded. There was only a small amount of the gas, however, and it was consumed quickly.

The force of the concussion threw the car from the track and it turned over, falling on Coleman.

He was rendered unconscious and when hoisted to the surface and at-tended by Dr. J. J. Sullivan, it was found that his skull was fractured in addition to bad cuts on his head and face. His condition is said to be very serious.

Parks was badly burned about the face, scalp and hands and was taken to his home where his injuries were attended by Dr. Downe.

Joe Riniski, a Polish laborer work in the chamber, sustained a rather severe gash on the scalp by being knocked down. Several other men working in the immediate vicinity were uninjured but the two mules were badly burned.

The source from whence came the gas is a mystery as the fire boss made his usual rounds in the morning and found everything all well.

ROBBED THE LUNCH WAGON.

Jacob Harowitz Deprived of Complete Stock of Delicacies. The lunch wagon of Jacob Harowitz, on Lackawanna avenue, near the Railroad Young Men's Christian association rooms, was robbed Sunday morning, between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The wagon was entirely rifled, a large assortment of hams, frankforts, cigars. pies, etc., being taken by the thieves, Patrolman Lona Day found the place in its ransacked condition after the thieves had departed.

A pedestrian coming along the street saw the men leaving the place and recognized them. He notified Mr. Harowitz, disclosing their identity, and unless reparation is made within three days arrests will be made,

THIRD WEEK OF

Plaintiff or Defendants Were Not Present in Several Cases and Verdicts Were Directed by the Court. There Was No Court in the Afternoon Because of a Lack of Cases Ready for Trial-Judge Purdy of Honesdale Is Presiding in No. 2

The third week of the January term of the common pleas court opened yesterday morning, with Judge R. W. Archbald on the bench in the main court room and Judge Purdy, of Honesdale presiding in No. 2. Owing to the number of cases settled, continued and otherwise disposed of there was only enough of business to keep the court running until noon and it adjourned until this morning. In the case of William H. Bates against Minnie Cobb, an interpleader, a verdict for the defendant for $138.60 was returned. A verdict for the plain-tiff for $732.58 was taken in the case of Frederick L. Brown against Per-cival L. Morris. S. Bradley did not appear to press his action against Pat-rick O'Donnell and a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant. In the trespass case of Nellie Gearhart against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company a non-suit was taken under the provisions of the act of March 30, 1882. Reap Case Argued.

Judge Purdy, of Honesdale, yesterday heard the reasons for a new trial in the case of Jane Reap against the city of Scranton. The plaintiff lives in the Third ward and recently obtained a verdict of $200 against the city, she claiming damages caused by water running on her premises from the bridge built over a creek. The city appealed from the verdict and yesterday morning City Solicitor Vosburg appeared for the city and Attorney C.

Comegys for the plaintiff. The reasons given by Mr. Vosburg were that there was no negligence on the part of the city, the defendant's house being below the street level and furthermore that the defendant had been notified several times to lay a sidewalk, which would have prevented any damage from water. Attorney Comegys argued that the city was liable, inasmuch as a ditch, the blocking of which caused the overflow, should have been kept clean. He further contended that the city could not compel property owners to lay sidewalks, which is a legal point never brought up in this city before. Judge Purdy took the papers in the case and will hand down an opinion later. Wants to Adopt a Child.

Vincent and May Richter yesterday filed a petition with the court asking permission to adopt Annie Jane Burke the minor daughter of John and Mary Burke, of Taylor. The mother of the child gives her consent to the adoption and it is contended that the father is not a person of good habits. Court directed that depositions be taken and the matter will come up at argument court.

BILLIARD CUE AND MATCH SAFE They Figured in an Assault Made on Roman Kolinski.

They got into an argument with Mechuski, who grabbed an iron match safe off the bar and attacked Kolinski in a very vicious manner Kostik, it is alleged, grabbed a billiard cue and came from behind the bar and belabored Kolinski over the head with it.
