GREEN RIDGE WEDDING.

John Bentley Poore and Marim Miller Lindsay Married.

One of the prettiest home weddings ever seen in Green Ridge was that of Miss Marion Miller Lindsay and John Bentley Poore,at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lindsay, on Monsey avenue, last evening. There were no bridesmaids. The bride were a charming gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. I. J. Lansing. Only the rela-tives and closest friends were present. Prof. Haydn Evans, of Scranton, played the wedding march, and Con-rad's orchestra furnished music.

The presents received were many and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Poore left on a late train for the New England states. Mr. Poore is one of Scranton's able and successful young business men. Mrs. Poore is a charming young woman, and a host of friends wish for them a happy life.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Blaze in the Barrett Building on Spruce Street Caused Over $1,600 Damage.

A destructive fire broke out yesterday morning in the Barrett building, located at the corner of Spruce street and Oakford court, and before it was extinguished over $1,500 damage was

The blaze started in the hat factory conducted by H. R Schoff on the second floor of the building. Just what caused the blaze is not known. The clerk had just left a few minutes before to go across the street and there was no one else in the place.

A volume of smoke was seen pouring from the windows by pedestrians and an alarm was promptly turned in from box 22, at the corner of Wyoming avenue and Spruce street. The Nag Augs began work as soon as possible and by a judicious use of chemicals the fire was extinguished without the aid of water, though it looked serious Little damage was done to any other ortion of the building except that occupied by Schoff. He places his less at $1,000, which is covered by insurance. Mrs. Ellen Barrett, who owns the building, estimates the damage to the building at $600, which is also covered by insurance.

NEW BANK BUILDING.

Handsome Quarters of the Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit Co. Ready for Occupancy.

The new bank building of the Lackawanna Trust and Safe Deposit company, at 404 Lackawanna avenue, is practically finished and the doors will be thrown open for business on Monday next. Work on the structure was started last April by Contractor Conrad Schroeder, but owing to the strike in the building trades, the work was interfered with.

The building now possesses a beautiful interior. It is finished off in Recland marble, with a handsome floor of inlaid tiling. On the ground floor are the offices of the president, are president, treasurer, bookkeeper and tellers, which are enclosed in a cage-like apartment built of marble, with bars and fixtures of cooper bronze.

The interior is supplied with light through two skylights, one of which is a magnificent dome, with inlaid colored glass, on which are emblazoned various heraldic emblems and de-

Above the offices is a large balcony, around which runs a gilded railing and in the rear of which is the board of directors' room. This is a comfortable, cozy apartment with a glass floor, The ceiling of the building is artistically painted and decorated in an elab orate manner.

In the rear of the offices on th ground floor the safe deposit vaults are located. A large burglar-proof Corliss safe is also in place and is supplied with an intricate system of electrical appliances to guard against any attempt at rifling its contents.

In the basement are large, fire-proof vaults, lavatories and a number of lockers for the accommodation bank employes. A. W. Fuller, of Albany, N. Y., is the architect, and the W. H. Jackson company of Union Square, N. Y., and Hutchins, of New York city, had charge of the decorating.

OF TRADE ROOMS.

Over Seventy-five Guests Sat Down to the Dinner Which Was Served by Steward O'Neil-Unique Arrangement of Dining Tables and of the Menu Card-Impromptu Toasts Responded to by Several Guests-Those Who Were in At-

In the board of trade assembly room, probably the handsomest banquet hall in the state, made doubly beautiful through the efforts of Flor ist Clarke, and to the strains of soft orchestral music, the members of the Scranton Engineers' club and a number of their friends, sat down last evening to the third annual banquet of that organization.

The affair was, as have been all previous banquets, a splendid success, and upwards of seventy-five persons enjoyed the club's hospitality, furnish ed through the medium of Steward O'Nell, of the Scranton club.

The tables were arranged in the form the letter E, with the president and other officers seated in the center. The room and tables were taste fully decorated with palms and flow ers, while the Lawrence orchestraplayed during the serving of courses. The menu card was a very unique one and contained on its cover the following: SPECIFICATIONS.

All materials are guaranteed by the contractor, George O'Neill, of the Scranton club, to be of the best qual-ity, but he does not contract or guarantee that every member will withstand undue strains and stresses.

Calculations are based upon ordinary wind pressures, and the factor of safety used makes allowance for all reasonable after dinner eloquence.

After the menu had been thoroughly discussed the speech-making began, William M. Marple acting as toastmaster. The toasts were all impromptu and the following were among those who spoke: Colonel H. M. Boies, Captain W. A. May, C. C. Rose, A. D. Blackinton, J. P. Dickson, J. H. Fisher, Benjamin F. La Rue, J. Gardner Sanderson, Presion Robinson, A. 3. Dunning, William Griffiths, F. W. Prior to the banquet the club's new officers for the coming year were announced. They are as follows: President, C. C. Rose; vice-president, H. W. Rowley; recording secretary, H. B. Cox; corresponding secretary, Morgan Davis, jr.; treasurer, Arthur C. La Monte: librarian, Alfred E. Lister: directors, James Archbald. A. D. Blackinton and William M. Marple.

MICHAEL PULAZA.

Was the Man Presented Instead of Angelo Pelozi, by the Italian Officers.

County Detective Leyshon, who returned from Italy early vesterday morning, was at his office in the court house yesterday afternoon and conferred with District Attorney Jones relative to the fruitless mission which took him to Naples. The red tape which entangled his admission to the prison where the murderer was supposed to have been confined, was responsible for much delay, and the investigation was very unsatisfactory. When he was admitted to the corridor, four prisoners were lined-up in front of him, among whom was Michael Pulaza, the man who was detained as the murderer. The detective saw at a glance that his man was not there, and asked permission to go through the jail and see the other prisoners. This request was refused, and when he questioned Pulaza about his residence in the United States, the latter said he lived in Previously, he had Cleveland. formed the Italian authorities that he resided in Utah. Another peculiar fact which may add suspicion to the duplicity played was that the United States consul was not informed until four days after Leyshon's arrival, that the prisoner de tained was not the man wanted.

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED BY COUNCILMAN M. V. MORRIS.

CROSSING ABOLISHED

Provides for the Closing of West Lackawanna Avenue at the D., L. & W. Tracks in Case the Viaduct Is Erected-"Speakeasy" Committee Appointed - Communication from Controller Read Calling Attention of Councils to Careless Legislation.

Morris V. Morris, common councilman from the Second ward, introduced an ordinance in common council last evening providing for the closing of the West Lackawanna avenue crossing after the erection of the proposed viaduct if the electors of the city decide upon this improvement. In case the property owners on the street want damages the ordinance proviles for the appointment of viewers if a satisfactory adjustment of their claims can not be made by the city solicitor.

Mr. Calpin introduced a resolution directing the chief of police to enforce the ordinance prohibiting the railway companies from plocking crossings for over eight minutes at a time but Mr. Grier moved that the resolution be referred to the streets and bridges committee, and his motion privalles.

When the resolution came up directing the mayor to remove the slot machines from the city, Mr. Grier moved that an amendment be added directing the appointment of a committee to ascertain the location of the places in which the machines were in operation. This created a great deal of discussion but the amendment was lost and the original resolution adopted.

When Mr. Grier observed that the resolution had been adopted he arose and delivered himself of one of his characteristic speeches, in which he said: "I introduced that amendment because I don't believe it is right to have to instruct the officials of the city what to do. It's the mayor's duty to order these slot machines removed and it's entirely wrong to tell him to do so. What's the use of having officials if they can't do their duty?"

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The mayor's communication regard ing "speakensies" was read (as printed in last Friday's Tribune), and on motion of Mr. Reese it was decided to appoint a committee to act in conjunction with the one appointed by select council. Chairman Kellar appointed as members of such a com-mittee Messrs, Grier, Godshall and Tewkesbury. A communication was also read from Controller Howell calling the atten-tion of councils to what he termed rather carcless legislation. He referred to an ordinance directing the payment of the claim of $400 of D. A. O'Conner and ordering the transfer of the same from the judgment and inci- ing. dentals appropriation. The controller remarked that this appropriation had been long since exhausted. He also refers to the ordinance di-recting the opening of Wyoming avenue, and stated that there is at present a margin of only $35,000, and that the payment of the award of the view ers will increase the city's debt beyond the limit fixed by law. The communication concluded with the following paragraph:

"I am not an alarmist, but it would seem to me that we are wont to indulge excesses while enjoying security. when no emergency arises through war, pestilence or financial stress. In saying this, I do not seek to invite public obloquy. I give your honorable bedies the cold bare facts in the hope that they may spur you to adopt some measures tending to relieve what appears to me to be an anomalous condition in the city's fiscal affairs."

LACKAWANNA RIVER BED. A resolution introduced by Mr. Calpin was adopted directing the city engineer to make a survey of the bed of the Lackawanna river between the Dodgetown bridge and the point where the Stafford Meadow brook flows into the river, said survey to also show the river course in 1881.

A resolution introduced by Mr. Godshall was adopted, not without opposition, however, directing the city controller to make a settlement with the Alcatraz Paving company for the paving of North Hyde Park avenue. Other new measures were introduced as follows:

By Mr. Reese-An ordinance providng for four additional lights in the First ward. By M. V. Morris-An ordinance providing for the opening of Wayne ave-
