Remains of Mrs. Thos. Cummings Found on Neighbor's Floor.

When Mrs. John Gordon, of the louth Side, arose and entered her kitthen yesterday morning at 6 o'cloc's the was borrified to find the lifeless ody of her next door neighbor, Mrs. Chomas Cummings, lying on the floor. It seems that Mrs. Cummings, who was a woman about 60 years old, ozrasionally gratified her appetite for drink and Saturday night she was found in the central city intoxicate I and was taken to Janitor Killeen's by Officer James Bell. The woman expressed a desire to go home and, as ome friends from her neighborhood had volunteered to accompany her. Patrolman William McAndrew, who was then at police headquarters, per mitted her to go. Just how she got in her neighbor's ouse has not yet been made clear and probably will not be until the oroner holds an inquest. It is supposed to be a case of heart failure The coroner was notified.

Deceased is survived by a husban I and five grown up sons. She had two daughters, but they died some time

It has saved the lives of our children a number of times. This remedy is for sale by all druggists, Matthews Brothers, wholesale and retail agents.

OLYPHANT.

The funeral of the late John Ferguson took place from the family home on Lackawanna street yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The vast number of persons who paid their last tribute of respect to the deceased attested the esteem in which Mr. Perguson was held by the community. The remains rested in an elegant black casket; in the background a small altar was arranged on which were several lighted candles, flowers and smilax. After the remains had been viewed the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. J. Murphy, the paster, who also preached the funeral sermon. In his remarks the reverend gentleman spoke of the many commendable traits of the deceased. During the service Miss Anna Brown and Robert Mec'ormack sang impressively two beautiful selections. Interent was made in St. Patrick's come tery. The pall-bearers were: County Commissioner Penman, P. H. Mct'ann. P. J. Hoban, Thomas Gilboy, Patrick Lynch and Thomas Monahan. Thomas Mason, of Green Ridge, was visitor in town yesterday. The Republicans of the Fourth ward will hold a careus tonight to nomihate a councilman and school director. There are many candidates in the field and the contest will be a lively one, An explesion of a galvanized beiler at the residence of D. G. Jones, on Lackawanna street, on Saturday morning, caused emisiderable damage. Parts the stove were demolished, spreading the hot coals over the floor. A slight blaze was started, but was put with a tire extinguisher. Mr. Jones' son, D. L. Jones, was badly burned about the feet in assisting to put the fire out.

The remains of the late Byron Palmer, who was drowned in the Lackawanna river on Thursday last, were laid at rest in Union cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral services were held at the house and were large ly attended by friends and relatives of the decrased.

A slight fire occurred in the bas: ment of St. Patrick's parochial acad-emy Friday night. The blaze was incipient and was extinguished with a few palls of water. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an overheated furnace.

WHY THE CHURCH HAS BE-

COME UNPOPULAR. A Sermon by Rev. J. Silverblatt, of Jermyn.

Reviewing the progress of events of the nineteenth century one is apt to look with dismay when we find the church has suffered a retrogression. While advancement has been made in science, art and literature, religion, the main spring of spiritual life, has gone backward. To such an extent has it fallen that the old-fashioned superstitions have once more overtaken us tas is usually the case with religious decay, superstition flourishes), and without being pessimist! the careful observer can discern religious decay in every branch of the church. Let us, therefore, consider the cause of this retrogession. Perhaps if we were to stand still and consider for a moment what ails the church we may bring healing to its wings. Unfortunately, there are a number of conservative church men who will not admit that the church has failed in its mission in modern life. It is here where evil is wrought for want of though! and unless we hasten to apply some modern remedy the church may be classed among social incurables. It would be well for us to consider what alls the church at the present day and we will find that it has lost its hold upon the rising generation. You will notice that when you attend the church for divine worship you will find the young men and women conby their absence. If you were to make up statistics of the management of the churches you will find that it is in the hands of the older people. Now, what is to be the out-come of this? The older members will drop off and there will be no one to fill the places left vacant. The institution can't live unless it has new blood infused into it. The church has not and it must be doomed to failure. What is the cause of this failure? And we may readily answer, because it has shut it door to the younger generations by clinging to the old-fashioned notions that holiness and wordliness must stand apart, instead of preaching a religion for the living it preaches for the dead. The church will tell you if you wish to enter its doors you must abstain from all manner of enjoy ments that delighteth the heart, otherwise you cannot come in. You will #### or visit the theater you must not enter From Mrs. Vaughn God's house. In fact, the church is to be used for the saint only, while to Mrs. Pinkham. the sinner must keep away. That this notion is entirely contrary to the biblical teachings I will venture to prove, The ancient religious teachers have a fact, we may sum up briefly by the well known saying that religion was given for man and not man for re-

The spirit can be gleaned all through Hebraic history. During the century prior to the Christian era there existed a Jewish sect, who were styled Sep-aratiats. Their mode of living was to abstain from all pleasures in life and just enough food to keep them alive; to live apart in woods and beguite their time away in prayers. Now, this peculiar sect found little favor among the people, for they were absolutely useless to the human race. The rabbi of old taught that we are sent here each for a different mission and it be-looves upon us to carry out that mission as much as circumstances will permit, to exclude ourselves from the world in order to lead angelic lives.

often have the authors of the Old Testament been accused with ordaining rigorous forms and rituals in order to refrain its people from worldly anticipation, but never was so mistaken an idea expounded. Every page of the Old Testament breathes an air of freedom. "If you will obey my commands you will eat the fruits of the land," is what the Old Testament frequently feasts you will notice that a period of calamity falls on the Sabbath day it-commemoration is to be postponed for ple an opportunity to enjoy their Sabbath. The Jewish law-givers, who sisted upon the people to wrestle with can be seen that to abstain from th-world was not a virtue, but rather live in it and lead a life of righteousness, was to be an act of Godliness

This idea is still in vogue among the Jews. You do not find among them total drink abstainers, but they ar:

noted, as a community, to be sober, and naturally it would not be become ing to abuse God's gifts by becoming drunken. The biblical characters never refrained from dancing or any other amusements in order to be merry and joyous. Even dancing was made an act of Godliness. The old-fashione:

Jews would take the scroll of the law stition and infuse in its stead a religion for the living. It must adapt itself to the people, and must not compel a church member to groan under its yoke; it must not hamper the longing of the heart, but rather take care that the indulging of nature's desire:

should not be abused by indulging to excess. At the present day a member his fellow-men, as if some supernatural being. This merely shuts others ligion. In fact, if the church is to fulfill its mission its teachings must be people in this world; a religion that must breathe justice and charity a reshould not oppress the laborer; a re-must preserve humanity, for humanity is the casket of the soul. In this country the church would shower a lasting boon upon its people if it could reform politics by educating the people that a political position is not a position for aggrandizement, but a duty they hold to its constituents; a political position is not an offortunity for plunder, but rather a position of enor mous responsibility which each man holds to his fellow-men. The church man is called upon to accept a certain office he should first consider that he is competent for the position. There is abundant work for the church to do, and it behooves upon the church not to shirk from its duties, otherwis it fails in its mission. Hair-splittintheories and other theological questions will not advance the church. Secularism will. Here lays the opportunity for the church wherein it may grow and prosper, wherein it may blossom like a lily, wherein God's kingdom upon earth may be established by coming amidst the people. Then there will grow up a church that will tower above others: a church that will pread

"Peace on earth and good will to men:" a kingdom wherein justice will reign supreme. Then it will be, indeed,

[LETTER TO MRS. PINERAM NO. 64.587]

"DEAR FRIEND-Two years ago I had child-bed fever and womb trouble in its worse form. For eight months after birth of babe I was not able to sit up. Doctors treated me, but with no help. I had bearing-down pains, burning in stomach, kidney and bladder trouble and my back was so stiff and sore, the right overy was badly affected and everything I ate distressed me, and there was a bad discharge.

I was confined to my bed when I wrote to you for advice and followed your directions faithfully, taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Liver Pills and using the Wash, and am now able to do the most of my housework. I believe I should have died if it had not been for your Compound. I hope this letter may be the result of benefitting some other suffering woman. I recommend your Compound to every one."—Mrs. Mary VAUGHN, TRIMBLE, PULASRI Co., KY.
