ON DEATH OF MR. MULLEY.

Action of the Trustees of Cemetery Association of Dunmore.

At a special meeting of the board of trustees of the Cemetery association of Dunmore, held Jan. 27, 1909, Mr. W. Lewis was chosen chairman and Mr. Henry Beyea, secretary of the meeting. Mr. Lewis stated that the meeting was called by the secretary for the purpose of electing a president of the board, to fill the unexpired term of Ambrose Mulley, deceased, and for the purpose of taking action upon the death of our late esteemed friend and associate, Mr. Ambrose Mulley. A committee was appointed to draft a suitable minute, forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased and two copies to the Scranton dailles, after which the meeting was adjourned.

IN MEMORIAM. The friend whose loss we mourn, was unflagging in his interest in and faithful to his duties as a trustee from May 75th, 1875, and as president of this board from May 4th, 1894, until his decease Dec. 30th, 1899, and it is of record that he never failed to be present at a regular meeting. We believe this was characteristic of him as a man during his long and active life, in matters secular or religious, as a Christian merchant in this community.

In counsel, wise, in manner, courteous in purpose, honest, with discreet enthusiasm of benevolent impulses and sturdy principles, tenacious of the right, Mr. Mulley has left behind him an impress for good that will be farreaching. May he receive as his reward the "Well done" of the Master. As members of this association we feel deeply the lose we have sustained in his removal and desire to express our heartfelt sympathy with his family in their bereavement. Henry Beyea, Secretary.

STATE INSPECTOR HERE.

He Is Trying to Locate the Unli censed Oleomargarine Dealers.

It is understood that a state inspector has been in the city for the past few days making a personal inspection of all places where oleomargarine is sold and taking note of all dealers selling it without a license. He has been brought here through the influence of a reputable dealer who sells the stuff, but who is not afraid to say and advertise that he sells it.

He claims that his business is greatly interfered with on account of the opposition he suffers from the large number of merchants in the city who are selling oleomargarine without a license.

Food Inspector Widmayer voucher for the fact that the fictitious butter is being sold in the city, but says that in order to secure a conviction before court an analysis has to be made costing $15. As soon as the city is willing to pay $15 every time she wants an unlicensed dealer in oleomargarine arrested, Mr. Widmayer is ready to go ahead and do the arresting. The state inspector will probably take some action in the premises, however, as soon as he compiles an accurate list of all unlicensed dealers. The state license fee is $100 yearly and in addition to this there is a government license fee of $50 a year. A rebate can be secured on the latter if the person taking out the license does not continue in the business for a year, but this rebate is not made on the state license fee, hence the large number of government and the small number of state licenses to be found.

WAS WELL KNOWN HERE.

Sister Stanislaus Was Formerly Miss Nellie Mahoney, of this City.

Sister Stanislaus, an account of whose frightful death from burns in St. Louis was printed in vesterday morning's Tribune, was well known in South Scranton, where she made her home before she entered on a religious life some six years ago.

Her name was Nellie Mahoney, and she is survived by a mother and a number of brothers and sisters. Her mother Mrs. Sarah Mahoney, of 1409 Pittston avenue, had received no word of the accident and knew nothing of it until she read it in the papers yesterday morning. She was, of course, prostrated by the announcement and fainted several times during the day. The deceased Sister is survived by the following brothers and sisters John and Henry, of Scranton; Mrs. John Vaughan, of Pittston; William, of the Indian territory; Thomas, of Kansas City: Mrs. James Coughlin, of Boston, and Mrs. Charles Pool, of New York city.

Henry Mahoney left yesterday for St. Louis to take charge of the remains. Whether or not they will be brought to this city will be decided later.

FIRE IN CENTER STREET.

Caused by a Quarrel Taking Place in the House of Maggie Colburn.

The alarm of fire turned in about 10 o'clock last evening from box No. 15. at Penn and Lackawanna avenues. was caused by the burning of the curtains at 311 Centre street, occupied by Mrs. Maggie Colburn. Almost immediately after the alarm was sent in the Chemical engine arrived on the scene and was closely followed by the Crystals, Nay Augs and other com-

The fire was quickly but out the only damage done being the destruction of the curtains

The blaze originated in a quarrel between one of the girls in the place and a young man which culminated in the latter picking up a lamp and throwing it at one of the women. It just grazed her and striking the curtains set them on fire. The celerity of the fire companies in responding to the call was highly commendable, as had the blaze had time to spread great damage would have been done.

THAT GREEN RIDGE FIRE.

Caused a Loss of Over Fourteen Thousand Dollars.

No additional light was thrown yeserday on the origin of the fire which destroyed the old Miller & Stout planing mill, on Dickson avenue, early yesterday morning. There was no fire in the building.

The total loss is estimated at $14,500. George D. Brown, the owner of the building, places his loss on building and machinery at $7,500, on which there was an insurance of $5,000. TRIBUTES OF RESPECT TO THE LATE JUDGE GUNSTER.

Remains Repose in a Handsome Cedar Casket and the Features Bear a Calm and Peaceful Expression. On and Around the Bier Are Numerous Floral Offerings from the Friends of the Dead Jurist-Funeral Will Take Place This Morn. ing at 9.30 O'clock.

Beginning at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and continuing during the remainder of the day, the remains of Judge Frederick W. Gunster were allowed to be seen by his acquaintances and friends, at his late home on Mon-

They reposed in the front parlor, and throughout the entire day a steady tream of admirers of the departed jurist flowed in, by whom the body was viewed. It lay in a handsome edar casket, covered with black broadcloth and lined and cushioned throughout with white satin.

The room was dimly lit by two tapers, and the air was heavy with the perfume of beautiful flowers, mute tokens of love his friends felt for the distinguished jurist and their sorrow at his early death. The face bears a quiet, restful look, as though the deceased had peacefully fallen asleep. Tears were in the eyes of scores of those who bent over the bier yester-

HUNDREDS VISITED HOUSE. The esteem in which he was held was strongly evidenced by both the number of people present and the floral tributes. The house was visited during the day by members of the Lackawanna bar, fellow-judges of the departed, friends and acquaintances of every rank and station in life, all present to show in some slight measure their grief and sorrow for the work that death had wrought and their compassion and sympathy for the beeaved family.

The front parlor was fairly filled with beautiful floral pieces, handsome bunches of red and white roses, of Easter lilies, of lilies-of-the-valley, ferns, evergreens, wreaths, and the most handsome pieces florists' ingenuity could contrive.

Two beautiful souvenirs of affection and respect rested on the casket. They were a sacred heart, made of beautiful red roses, a sign of sympathy from the Sisters of St. Joseph's Foundling Home, and a magnificent cluster of Easter lilles. These latter were the contribution of Mrs, Charles Tropp. Beautiful tributes were also sent by the judges of the court, the members of the Bar ssociation, and the tipstaves and other officers of the court.

FROM HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS. One of the beautiful offerings was an lvy wreath from the members of the senior class of the High school, of which Miss Margaret Gunster, one of the daughters of the deceased, is a member. The services will be conducted this morning at St. Peter's cathedral, the funeral leaving the home at 9.30 o'clock, The members of the Lackawanna bar vill gather at 9.30 o'clock at the court and, forming, attend the obsequies in a body. The honorary pall-bearers will be Judge R. W. Archbald, Judge H. M. Edwards, Hon. E. N. Willard, Hon, H. A. Knapp, Hon, W. H. Jessup, Judge Rice, of Wilkes-Barre; Judge Lynch, of Wilkes-Barre, and Judge Purdy, of Honesdale. F. J. Fitzsimmons, esq., will take Judge Knapp's place among the active pallbearers. At 19 o'clock a. m. a requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Peter's cathedral, and interment will be made in St. Mary's German Catholic cemetery at Petersburg.

FUNERAL OF O. D. SHEPHERD. Remains Were Laid to Rest in Forest Hill Cemetery.

The funeral of O. D. Shepherd, city engineer of Carbondale, took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from his late home on Washington street, Carbondale. Services were conducted at the house by the Rev. C. S. Lee, pastor of the Carbondale Presbyterian church, and the remains were brought to this city on the 12.23 train and interred in Forest Hill cemetery. The funeral was private. The pall-bearers were H. B. Jadwin, John Killeen, C. Ditchburn, A. B. Dunning, A. Kohl and Joseph Jones. Mr. Shepherd was the oldest engineer in point of service in the valley and was well known and greatly admired by hundreds in this city. It is a strange coincidence that one of his egreat engineering feats, which made his name known to engineers all over this country and Europe, should offiially pass out of existnce on the day he was laid to rest. Reference is made to the famous Shepherd's Crook, which he designed as a means of overcoming the obstacles raised by nature to prevent the running of cars from Farview to Carbondale by gravity. The building of the steam road has done away with the crook and the name of Shepherd's Crook was yesterday officially removed from the books of the Delaware and Hudson company. The switchback

Robison, of that place, Mr. Shepherd's father was an engineer on the Erie canal and young Shepherd assisted him water plant at that place, and about 1865 came to Carbondale and became an engineer for the Delaware and Hudson Canal company. Soon after entering that company's employment he designed Shepherd's Crook. He had harge of the laying out of the road of that company from Carbondale to this city and when the New York, ON A DESPERATE MISSION Susquehanna and Western company was seeking to gain an entrance into his region he made all of its surveys hereabouts. He was the engineer for the Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal company and had charge of the construction of the plant of the Providence Gas and Water company. He was manager for the Northwest Coal company and afterwards engaged for several years in the lumber business in Sullivan and Columbia counties. He was one of the consulting engineers of the Dunning Construction company and since last spring has been city engineer of Carbondale. He was a man of the strictest honsty and highest integrity and was rated as one of the leaders of his profession. LISK ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Gave His Version of the Runaway Which Caused the Wrecking of General Phinney Steamer.

Permanent Man Lisk, of the General Phinney Engine company, was summoned before Mayor James Moir yesterday morning for the purpose of explaining how the General Phinney steamer came to be wrecked while re sponding to the alarm of fire yesterday morning.

Lisk explained that one of the reins proke in two shortly after leaving the engine house and that from that time on he was unable to manage the horses. The mayor ordered Chief Walker to make a thorough investigation of the accident and report the findings to him. The steamer was only slightly damaged, probably to the extent of about $25, but the chief says it is nothing short of a miracle that it was not ruined, as it was found turned completely on its side on the sidewalk. circulated to the effect that the hydrants were frozen at the Miller & Stout planing mill fire yesterday morning are absolutely without foundation and that no difficulty whatever was

Men Confess That They Were on Their Way to Blow Up the House of a Coal Operator When the Police Officers Interfered with Their Plans-They Are Anarchists and Boasted of the Fact That They Had Shot the Two Officers-Described the Kind of a Bomb They Had Prepared-It Corresponds with That Dropped by the Men Who Ran Away After Shooting the Officers.

It can now be stated with almost absolute certainty that the two men who shot at and wounded Patrick Kays and H. L. Snyder, Dunmore police officers, at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Delaware street on the evening of July 1 last, were bent upon a desperate mission, nothing short of the blowing up of the nome of one of the coal operators livng in that vicinity. Chief of Police Robling vesterday received word from the chief of detectives of Montreal that two men, Antoine Robert and Auguste Morel, had been arrested in that city and had confessed their guilt. It will be remembered that on the evening above referred to Officers Kays and Snyder had followed two men to the grove at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Delaware street and that the latter suddenly turned and without warning fired on the two policemen. Officer Kays was seriously wounded and lay between life and death at the hospital for some time. Officer Snyder's injuries were not of such a serious nature. REWARD OFFERED.

The men escaped and the Dunmore authorities offered a reward of $500 tor their capture. The only clues left behind were a hat and a long pipe filled Chief Walker says that the reports with coarse black powder, making a bomb of terrible power.

The first intimation that the local police received of the men's whereabouts was a telegram received last week from Chief of Detectives Carpenter, of Montreal, asking if two Frenchmen were wanted here for attempting to blow up the house of a coal operator last summer,

The police instantly coupled this In the hydrant is all removed with the with the Dunmore affair, remembering the bomb found, and Chief Robling sent a letter to Carpenter detailing converted into brine by the plentiful the whole story of the shooting and the later developments.

Another letter was received Wednes day from Chief Carpenter stating that minimum. The only difficulty experi- a man had come to him and had inenced is that after the hydrants have formed him that two Frenchmen were Montreal who had attempted to blow up the residence of a manager or superintendent of a coal mines in Scranton last summer. This man had further told him that they were rabid anarchists and openly boasted of having shot two policemen who interfered with their plans. The man had even described the bomb as being identical with the one described by Chief Robling in his letter. ROBLING NOTIFIED.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Robling received a telegram stating that the two men mentioned had been arrested: had given their names as Antoin Robert and Auguste Morel, and had admitted their guilt. The telegram also requested that officers be sent on at once to bring the men back.

It is believed that the man who gave the Montreal authorities the information had been made a confident of by the two men and seeing a chance to profit thereby, "peached." Officers Snyder and Kays, who caught a slimpse of the men's faces when their revolvers flashed stated that they were of a foreign cast and further stated that they spoke broken English, which goes towards fixing the crime on the two men arrested. They stated that they could identify them.

Chief Robling and Detective Moir are firmly convinced that the two men arrested are the culprits. It is possible that two officers will be sent after the men today or tomorrov SAUL AND DYER CASE.

Councils to Decide if an Appeal Is to Be Taken.

City Solicitor Vosburg will send a communication to councils next Thursday evening asking if an appeal is to be taken from Judge Archbald's ruling in the case of ex-Patrolman James Saul against the city by which the former was awarded a judgment of $107 the same being his salary from the day he was removed by Mayor Moir to the day the removal was confirmed by select council.

In case council decides to have an appeal taken it will be taken on the ground that when select council confirmed the removal of the two officers even though it was six weeks after they had been removed, it was the same as if this action was taken at the next meeting.

If an appeal is ordered the controller will pay Patrolmen Hockenberry and Davies, the successors of Saul and Dyer, until the higher courts act on the case; but if no appeal is taken be will hold up warrants corresponding to the amount to so paid Saul and Dyer, so that the city will suffer no
