Amusing Adventure of Which Ser geant Reese Jones Was Hero.

Tuesday evening Sergeant Reese Jones in the Centre street police station, had an amusing adventure with a drunken man. The latter, entering the place, made himself generally obnoxious and was forcibly removed from the place by the sergeant. He con-tinued to loiter around the station, however, and Sergeant Reese at last departed from his lair, and going outside ordered the man to leave the premises. The stranger looked at him and growling a surly answer suddenly reached his hand back toward his hip pocket. There was the flash of the gas light burning outside the station on something glittering in the man's hand, and in a moment the sergeant was on him. The stranger was a big, burly individual and it was only after a hard tussle that the sergeant downed him and triumphantly wrenched out of his grasp the gleaming object.

When he closely examined it, how-ever, the doughty Reese bit his lips with chagrin, for instead of being a deadly six-shooter it was a bottle of equally deadly whiskey. The obnox-lous party was, however, locked up by the sergeant and was yesterday morning committed to the county jail by Mayor Moir.

Kuntsch Is After the Keogh-DeOro Pool Match.

A. Kuntsch, the well known sport promoter of Syracuse, is trying to secure for his billiard hall the impending match between Keogh and DeOro for the pool championship of America, which DeOro a year ago wrested from the Scranton man.

Keogh is now in Boston under contract for the greater part of the winter to play exhibition games at the big Murray billiard pariors. At the expiration of his contract he will go after DeOro again and hopes to win back the championship. The Syracuse man, it is understood, has succeeded in securing a promise from DeOro to play in that town, and as the champion has the right to name the battle ground it is not unlikely that the contest will be waged there. Keogh will challenge DeCro for $1,000, or as much more as the Cuban will agree to play

TELEPHONE ORDINANCE AGAIN Booked to Come Up in Select Council

Tonight. It is now known that an effort will made this evening to again bring the Lackawanna telephone ordinance before select council. Those who were in fevor of suspending the rules when the measure was declared out of order some time ago now claim they have a sufficient number of votes to carry their project. At any rate the result of tonight's meeting will be watched with interest. Common council also meets this evening in regular session. It is thought that the license tax ordinance will be called up on second reading. and if it is called up it will probably be swamped in a small Niagara of amendments.

BOARD OF HEALTH TAKES NO FURTHER ACTION.

Report of Secretary Showed That There Were 393 Cases Reported Last Month-Food Inspector Widmayer Wants All Milk Dealers to Furnish a Vetermary's Certificate. Other Reports Presented-Councils to Be Asked to Appoint Thomas V. Lewis.

The monthly report of the secretary of the board of health, presented at last evening's meeting, showed that during January there were 393 cases of contagious disease reported, of which 167 were diphtheria and 214 scarlet fever. The board believing that it has done all in its power to stem the tide of transmissable disease, took no further action in the premises. Food Inspector Widmayer asked that rule be formulated prohibiting any milk dealer from selling milk within the city limits who could not produce a certificate from a regularly licensed veterinary surgeon stating that his cattle is in good condition.

Mr. Widmayer said he was prompted to make this suggestion by the large amount of milk now being sold in the city which just barely escapes being below the standard. He further requested that a penalty clause be added to the rules prohibiting the display of fresh meats, etc., in order that they might become operative. Both of these matters were referred to a special committee, consisting of Drs. Reynolds and Rodham and W. J. O'Malley, with instructions to confer with the city

HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT.

Health Officer Allen presented his monthly report, showing that out of forty-two nulsances complained of, thirty had been abated, the other twelve being caused by pools of stagnant water. The doctor also reported that thirteen schools had been closed and disinfected, as had also the circulating department of the public library,

A communication signed by three residents of the Eighteenth ward was read, complaining of a large manure pile at the corner of Ninth and Luzerne street. The health officer was ordered to see that the nuisance was abated at once. Thomas V. Lewis, the assistant sanitary officer, was engaged for one month more. Mr. Lewis has not received no pay yet for the three months he has been working, on account of the refusal of the mayor to approve the bill. The report of the secretary for the month of January was as follows: Actual mortality, 185; deaths from accidents, 10; total, 195; births, 106, 53 male and 53 female; marriages, 29; cases contagious disease reported, 393, classified as follows: "Diphtheria, 167; scarlet fever, 214; typhoid fever, 4; measles, 5; chicken pox, 3; deaths from contagious disease. 41, classified as follows: Scarlet fever, 21; diphtherla, 14; diphtheretic croup, 3; typhoid fever, 1; membraneous croup, 1. Food Inspector Widmayer's report was as follows: Store and market inspections, 562; lactometer milk tests, 170; Babcock milk tests, 36; average per cent of total solids, 13.56; butter fat, 4.43; food destroyed, pork, 150 pounds: poultry, 85 pounds; fish, 1,325

CONFERENCE HELD. At the conclusion of last night's meeting the board of health, by invitation, waited upon Mayor Moir to hold a conference with a view of straightening out the tangle which deprives

Assistant Sanitary Policeman T. V. Lewis from his pay. The mayor, it will be remembered, had Lewis' pay held up on the ground that his appointment was unauthor-The board appointed him, as it believed it had power to do so in an emergency, to assist Sanitary Officer Burke in placarding and fumigating houses in which transmissable diseases prevalled and to prevent public funerals of victims of these diseases. When the bill for the new officer's first month's salary was submitted, the mayor refused to approve it and transmitted it to councils with a letter stating that until such time as council ratified the appointment he would have to hold that Lewis was not entitled to pay from the city funds. He based this contention on the act of 1899, relating to health boards in third class cities, which has a clause bearing directly on the subject in question, as the mayor reads it. It says in substance that the board shall have power, with consent of councils, to establish emergency hospitals, hire district physicians and special officers, etc., etc. This "consent of councils," the mayor holds, must be secured before the action of the board is operative and he advised the board to ask for the councils consent in the case in question. The members of the board thought this would be the easiest way out of it and gave the mayor to understand that they will send a communication

CHRISTIANITY NOT EFFETE. Remarks of Rev. James Hughes in

the Adams Avenue Chapel. The Rev. James Hughes, speaking at the monthly meeting for missionary work in Adams Avenue Chapel, New York street, last evening, reviewed the extensive operations of the Presbyterian Missionary society in China. He showed that the progress of the cause of Christ in that strange land was very gratifying, and a proof that the gospel was still the power of God to every one that believeth. He said that there are many thousands there who have forsaken the faith of their fathers and embraced the gospel of Christ. The missionaries are working hard, both in season and out of season, as is evident by the fact that they paid 179,211 visits to the sick last year and read and explained the scriptures to them. The largest missionary press in the world is in China. It issued 45,800,000 prayers in Chinese last year. Mr. Hughes said that one of the strongest evidences of real church life is a living, loving interest in missions screst guarantees of continued prosperity of a real spiritual character in our churches is a burning degler with commensurate effort to bring others into the enjoyment of the Word of God both at home and abroad. commonwealth's witnesses. Before the advent of the witness clerk it was possible-and rumor has it the thing actually occurred-for a witness to draw two days' pay if he appeared in two cases that were tried on the same day. There were also other abuses practiced, such as a witness collecting pay for a whole week. though his case was disposed of the second or third day, or a number of superfluous witnesses being placed on the subpoena and then not called, the prosecutor giving the commonwealth's attorney to understand that events developing subservent to the summoning of the witnesses in question, made it inexpedient to call them, or something

Now all this sort of thing is done away with. A witness can only collect pay for the actual number of days he is in court from the day his case is set for trial until it is disposed of, and no matter how many cases he may at pear in in one day, he can draw only one day's pay for that day. There hasn't been a day yet that the witness clerk has been on active duty that he hasn't saved treble, and often ten times, his salary. The establishing of this office is a move for which the new county commissioners merit much praise, and at the end of the tive committee composed of William year, when the witness bills will show a very decided decreese, as they undoubtedly will, this praise will assured-
