HAS LEFT THE HOSPITAL.

Americo Mariangello Yesterday Removed to His Home in Jessup.

Americo Mariangello, the Italian miner shot at Jessup, Jan. 22, by Peter Cipriano, yesterday left the Lackawanna hospital, where he has been receiving treatment ever since the shooting occurred, for his home in Jessup.

Neither of the bullets in his shoulder or leg have been yet removed, but the patient was growing restive and, as he did not seem to suffer any pain, it was deemed advisable to let him go to his home, since he so desired. He will there receive treatment from a Jessup doctor.

August Bonanni, who received a bullet in his shoulder on the same occasion and from the same man that Mariangello was injured by, was yesterday back at the hospital for treatment. He lies in Nanticoke and was discharged Monday from the hospital with the understanding that he would come back to be treated occasionally.

He is now making rapid progress, and, as the bullet has been removed, will soon be again in perfect condition.

ELKS DEFEAT WEST END CLUB.
Wilkes-Barre Bowlers Overcome Last Evening by Scranton Team.

The second game played in the recently formed Bowling League of Northeastern Pennsylvania took place last night when the Elk bowlers and the West End Wheelmen's club, of Wilkes-Barre, met on the alleys of the former team. The Elks bowled in fine form and downed their opponents in two out of the three games played, winning by the fine total of 121 pins, having a score of 2,425 pins for the evening against 2,304 for the Wilkes-Barre men.

The latter bowled a good game, however, coming up here with a strong team. They proved much stronger opponents to face than they did on the last occasion they were in town, having in Wright and Witter two far faster men than their former players. Wright, in particular, played a brilliant game, making the highest score of the evening in the first game when he scored 212, by making seven strikes, three spares and two breaks. He also led his side in average scores with 174 1-2 to his credit, Witter with 179 1-5 following him closely.

Charles Weichel, of the Elks, led the second highest score with 201, in the first game and also had the highest average by any player on either side, making, as he did, 182 1-3. The detailed scores of the evening were as follows:

ELKS.

DISCOVERER OF COAL.
Project to Erect Monument for Him Again Revived.

The proposition to build a monument to the memory of Philip Guenther, the discoverer of anthracite coal, has again been taken up, with the probability that it will soon be accomplished. It is the desire of those interested that the monument shall be "coal stone," which has contributed much to the material and commercial wealth of the state, and especially to this section of it.

Guenther, who first brought coal into successful use, lived in a rough cabin in the forest on the Mauch Chunk mountain in Luzerne county. While in quest for game for his family, whom he had left at home without food of any kind, his foot stumbled against a black stone. By the road side not far from the town of Summit Hill he built a little fire of wood and threw pieces of the supposed stone about it, so that the embers might last longer, while roasting fowl.

NO TRUSTEE ELECTED.
The Creditors of Charles R. Bliss Could Not Agree.

A meeting of the creditors of Charles R. Bliss, of Factoryville, bankrupt, was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Referee in Bankruptcy Van Wormer for the purpose of electing a trustee.

There was a lively fight on between the contestants for the office and as a consequence there was no election, the law providing that the person elected must have both a majority of the number and amount of claims presented and neither of the contestants had such a majority.

It now remains for the referee to appoint one. There was a trustee elected on Jan. 11 last, but he was killed two days later in a powder explosion.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.
Held Last Evening by King's Daughters in Elm Park Church.

The King's Daughters met last evening in the Elm Park church and held the annual election of officers, the regular routine business also being transacted. The secretary read the report for the year, showing a very successful season, and the officers of the association were the selected.

They are: President, Mrs. Richard Horns; vice president, Mrs. J. G. Shepherd; recording secretary, Miss Gertrude DeGraw; corresponding secretary, Miss Frances Raut; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Watrous. It was decided to hold a cake sale in the church two weeks from today.

The People of This City Have Made It Possible.
The popular house of Samter Bros', has always been recognized as the most progressive leader in men's and boys' wear in this city. Their business has increased to such an extent that more selling space is necessary. The architect has completed plans for the rebuilding of the whole interior from basement to roof. By the opening of next season we shall occupy 23,000 square feet of selling space, five double floors, equal to ten ordinary stores, with most up-to-date improvements all through the building. Every department will be connected with passenger elevators, and for the comfort of their customers and friends an elaborate reception room has been planned connected with the boys' and children's department. When alterations are completed Samter Bros', without a doubt will have the largest and finest male outfitting establishment in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR JUDICIAL HONOR
PECULIAR FITNESS WITH THE ACCENT ON PECULIAR.

Some Knotty Questions on the Law, or Rather on How to Legally, or at All Events, Successfully, Evade the Law Propounded to John Gibbons and Answered Satisfactorily to the Questioner—"To Work a Great Right, Do a Little Wrong," Is His Motto.

If Governor Stone hasn't already made up his mind as to whom he will appoint to the vacant judgeship he is respectfully asked to consider the name of John Gibbons, school controller from the Twentieth ward, and a whole lot of other things.

Mr. Gibbons may not know a great deal about Blackstone and may not be able to appropriately apply intricate law to complicated facts, but he certainly has a happy faculty of bending stubborn facts to an inconvenient law. Last night at the meeting of the building committee of the board of control as he was engaged in some calculations on the amount of water that might be added to formaldehyde gas without diluting it to the point of inefficiency as a disinfectant, law was interrupted by Mr. Evans, chairman of the committee, with a problem that all the other members of the committee had given up as being beyond them.

It was this. The Baptists of Bellevue Hill have been worshipping in a hall which stands on a plot that recently came into the possession of a land company and the improvements which the land company have in mind necessitates the tearing down of the hall.

WANT A SUNDAY SCHOOL.
The adult members of the congregation propose to attend one or the other of the Hyde Park churches until such time as they can build a church of their own, but they do not care to send their children such a distance and that their Sunday school may not be broken up they ask the board to allow them to use the lower rooms of No. 13 school building on Sunday afternoons until about May 1, when their own building, they expect, will be completed.

"Well, what's the difficulty about that?" blandly inquired the sage of Carr's Patch.

"Why, we find in the book," said Mr. Evans, "that no school shall be kept for any other than school purposes."

"A Sunday school is a school, isn't it?" declared, rather than queried, Mr. Gibbons.

"Yes, I know, but—"

"—I don't think that enough for you," broke in Mr. Gibbons, "to know that those people ought to have what they ask and that I'm telling you it's all right. A school is a school. Now let it go at that."

Mr. Evans is pleased to report to his constituents that the trustees will unanimously recommend that the request of the Bellevue Hill Baptists be granted.

ANOTHER HARD PROBLEM.
"Now, I have something else along the same line," timidly ventured Mr. Gibbons. "The Trustees of the church of that neighborhood are also without a place to meet, since the hall was torn down, and they want permission to meet in the school house once or twice a month. I'd like to recommend that their request be granted, as it is only to be temporary and the court is of the law—I suppose there is no getting around the law in this case." This last was addressed to Mr. Gibbons.

"Are you sure there is such a law?" Mr. Gibbons asked of Mr. Evans.

"For my own part, I really don't know. I never saw such a law, but I understand—"

"That's enough. That's enough," Mr. Gibbons interrupted. "We'll refer this matter to the controller of the ward with power to act."

A recommendation to that effect was adopted. Mr. Evans smiled an approving smile.

COULDN'T GET LIQUID AIR.
Prof. Wells' Lecture Consequently Was Postponed Indefinitely.

The lecture on "Liquid Air," which was to have been given at the High school last night by Prof. A. H. Wells, had to be postponed indefinitely, owing to the failure to secure a supply of the subject matter.

A supply was ordered from the Tripler laboratory in New York, and it was prepared and ready for shipment, but the express companies, one and all, refuse to carry it, and consequently it could not be gotten here.

The scientists claim the stuff can be safely transported without any danger being incurred and hope to be able to convince the express companies of this. Till they succeed Scranton will have to be content to learn about liquid air from the newspapers and periodicals.

Hundreds who had not heard of the postponement of the lecture or who wrongly read an ambiguous notice in an afternoon newspaper went to the high school last night, only to find the place in darkness and a sign on the main door: "Tonight's lecture postponed indefinitely. See daily papers."

DINED BY COL. WATRES.
Officers of Companies C and K Enjoy His Hospitality.

Colonel L. A. Watres gave a dinner last evening to the twenty-eight commissioned and non-commissioned officers of Companies C and K, of Thirtieth regiment, at his home on Quincy avenue. The dinner was served by Caterer Hanley in the dining room, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion with the national colors and Bauer's orchestra discoursed music during its progress. All of those present were in full uniform and the effect was very picturesque. This was the first of a series of dinners to be given by the colonel to the officers of each company.

An especial feature was a dainty card containing on its front the names of the officers of each of the two companies and inside an excellent picture of Colonel Watres, the whole being tied with red ribbon. Those present last evening were:

Company K—Captain Benson Bevens, First Lieutenant Charles E. Scott, Second Lieutenant Milton O'Connell, Sergeant E. J. Welner, B. S. Nettell, Walter Capwell, Charles Bono, Ralph Rittenhouse, Corporals Joseph Smith, Con Fruehan, T. C. DeLong, Sam Morgan, Charles Bahr, H. W. Carr and H. R. Shofield; Company C, Captain E. J. Burkham, First Lieutenant Joseph P. Heiligeil, Second Lieutenant B. J. Haggerty, Sergeants R. G. Smith, George Schmidt, C. E. Lathrop, William Beckman, James J. Corbett, Corporals Harry Anglin, Fred Luther, William Gastals, Robert Marshall, Charles Spradley, John J. Malin, Karl Gunster and Henry Koberman.

WASHINGTON'S SIGNATURE
It Is Appended to a Document Now the Property of Attorney M. J. Martin.

Attorney M. J. Martin has in his office in the Coal Exchange a paper that he prizes very highly. It contains in bold characters the name of George Washington and was signed by the general in a letter to a private soldier, the father of his country.

The document is the discharge paper of Abraham Dusen, who served for seven years and six months in the Continental army. Upon his discharge from the army he received a piece of land in the town of Elmhurst, which was subsequently sold by him to Henry Tremper and with the deed went the discharge papers on which it was founded. Henry Tremper transmitted the papers to his son, Judge Jacob Tremper, who then built a church for his daughter, Mrs. Mary Augusta Gardner, widow of the late Dr. A. P. Gardner, of Glenholme, near Elmhurst. Mrs. Gardner gave them to Attorney Martin. The discharge paper reads as follows:

By his excellency, George Washington, esq., general and commander-in-chief of the forces of the United States of America.

These are to certify that the bearer hereof, Abraham Dusen, corporal of the First New York regiment, having faithfully served the United States seven years and six months and being enlisted for the war only, is hereby discharged from the American army.

Given at headquarters the 8th of June, 1783. G. Washington.

By his excellency's command, J. Turnbull. The above corporal, Abraham Dusen, has been honored with the badge of merit for seven and a half years' faithful service. Coul. N. Fyfe, Lt. Col.

On the back of the discharge paper is the following, which shows that General Washington did not propose to be without an army in the event of another appeal to arms being necessary:

Headquarters, June 8, 1783.

This certificate is given to the bearer as a discharge until the ratification of the definitive treaty of peace, previous to which time and until permatation thereof the bearer is to be considered as being on furlough.

General Washington signed the papers in a fine, bold hand that is still, after the lapse of more than a century, perfectly legible. He began his name with a fine generous G and near the top of the letter placed a very small o, which constituted the above-mentioned certificate. The signature of Washington is written very close to the G.

The document is one of the most interesting in a historical way that exists hereabouts and Attorney Martin naturally prizes it very highly.

REFUSES TO FILL CONTRACT.
Rise in the Price of Paper Makes It Impossible.

At last night's meeting of the supply committee of the board of control, chairman D. J. Forch announced that the firm which had been awarded the contract for furnishing pencil pads refused to fill any more orders, unless allowed a fifty per cent. advance on the contract price, the rise in the price of paper having made it impossible to fill the contracts without entailing an unreasonable loss.

The committee finding itself without any means of enforcing the fulfillment of the contract, no bond having been exacted from the contractor, decided to recommend to the board that new bids be asked for at once, as there is immediate need for pads.

LIKE THE WAIL OF A FALLEN ANGEL
WHAT DR. SMITH THINKS OF WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Spoke in the Green Ridge Baptist Church Last Night on the Uncrowned Queens of America—Referred to the Wonderful Power of a Woman's Influence and Effect It Has Had in All Ages—There Never Was a Great Man Who Had Not a Great Mother.

"To my mind, woman's rights is the last, dismal, despairing wail of a fallen angel," was one of the strong assertions made by Albert H. Smith, M. D., last night in his lecture in the Green Ridge Baptist church. His subject was "America's Uncrowned Queens." He has no sympathy with the faddish woman of today.

He began by remarking that the four nations which are in time to rule the world are Germany, Russia, England and the United States, and of these four nations the United States will be the superior. "But," said he, "the future of these four nations and of all the world, lies in the wonderful influence wrought by the power of true womanhood."

"The greatest power in all this world is the power of a woman's love, but no power is useful until harnessed. Human nature is bi-sexual, a man and wife in a true union are but equal parts of one complete whole. Woman has proved herself to be master of many arts and sciences, but she is also responsible for the introduction into the world of the three greatest humbug of modern times, Christian Science, Spiritualism and Theosophy."

WOMAN'S POWER.
He then said that to find out what woman's power is it was necessary to see what the poets and the geniuses have to say regarding it, as mediocrity is always blinded by the non-essentials. He told of the concluding years of the Civil war, when every able-bodied man in the South was away at the front and none but the "women folks" were at home. "In all those dreadful days," said he, "woman proved herself to be master of many arts and sciences, but she is also responsible for the introduction into the world of the three greatest humbug of modern times, Christian Science, Spiritualism and Theosophy."

He referred to Cardinal Gibbons' widely quoted sermon of last Sunday in which he stated that women were neglecting their home life too much and dabbling in that in which they had no business, and stated all the cardinal charged was true.

In speaking of the wonderful power of a true wife's love Mr. Smith spoke of Rev. Russell Conwell, the celebrated clergyman, of Philadelphia, and told how it is the spiritual affinity of love between himself and his wife, who died some twenty-seven years ago, that has made him the remarkable man he is and the pastor of the largest Protestant church in the world.

He stated that he has drawn more true inspiration from reading the private letters of Robert E. Lee, "the soldier without malice," to his wife, than he has from any other work except the Bible. "The power wrought by this woman over her husband and his unfeeling faith in her are wonderful," said he.

A TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS.
"There never was a great man who had not a great mother," is a truth that is always an over again," said Mr. Smith. He quoted Lafayette's famous remark, when upon being introduced to Mary Washington, the mother of George Washington, the French nobleman had said: "If America has such mothers as this, no wonder her sons are distinguished." Abraham Lincoln said upon his death-bed, almost as he was passing away: "All I was I owe to my angel mother."

He stated that woman today has more privileges under the law than man and then set out to prove it. He told how a woman can leave her home, go into business and the husband has to support the children. Under all circumstances a man must support his wife. "Women talk of women's rights," said he, "why, to my mind woman's rights is the last, dismal, despairing wail of a fallen angel."

"In these days the most wonderful problem is the home life of our land. By a brief recollection of history we may easily see that when the women of any land sank lower than their proper sphere that nation has decayed. If the home life goes down, the nation falls. The home life of this country lies in the hands of the women of the country, and I venture the assertion that it is safe cradled, as it is, in the laps of the unknown and obscure women of the world."
