WHITNEY'S BUDGET OF LIVE VERITIES MAN WHO PASSED A NIGHT IN A BEAR'S DEN.

Smart Chap Is Rebuked by a Red Man from Carlisle - Thunder Storm in February-Terrell Recovering from Wounds Inflicted with a Razor.

Special Correspondence of The Tribune. Susquehanna, Feb, 13 .- There is living in Starrucca an old man who, in his childhood, lived in Susquehanna county, near what is now Forest City. He passed a night in the den of a bear, coming out in the morning unhurt, and much pleased with the company he had kept. When he was about four years old, he was one afternoon left with a pet lamb on the grass near the home, and the two strayed together into the woods. They were not missed for some hours, and when a hasty search for them proved unavailing, the father and mother were greatly alarmed, for bears and wolves were very plentiful in the woods. The few scattering neighbors were roused and the entire night was given up to the hunt. It was not until daylight that traces of the missing boy's tracks were found. These were followed by the aid of dogs, and the rescuers were led to the den of a she bear, which had its quarters under a big boulder in a pine grove at the foot of a mountain.

The bear, aroused by the dogs, came out of her lair with a boldness which showed that she had cubs to defend, and at sight of her everybody gave up hope of seeing the missing child alive. When, however, they had shot the bear they found the little fellow curled up in the den with a couple of bear whelps hungry and tired, but uninjured. The bear had made a meal of the pet lamb. and had then quietly returned to her lair to sleep. The boy said she did not carry him, but that he followed her, because he no longer had any lamb for company, and because he wanted to see the pretty cubs. He had played with them until dark. Then he cried to go home, but he did not know the way and did not dare to leave the bear's den because he was afraid something would get him. The cubs were companions for him, and he felt perfectly safe when he was wilh them.
