There's a difference in underskirt fashions this year -a difference so marked that you cannot fail to notice it at a glance. Gaudy stripes and plaid effects of other days have all but vanished, and in their place we show rich, solid coloring of various lines, and of course, the always dressy Black.

Then in the matter of materials there are Moreens, Satinettes, Good Sateens, Spun Silks, All Silk Taffetas, etc. -but the most popular, and satisfactory of all the new seasons Petticoats is the better class of mercerized goods-They equal in appearance the best of silks, but have a body and wearing qualities in them such as silken weaves never knew We recommend them. and you'll like them.

Now a word on styles. Accordeon-pleat Flounces are much in vogue. These are finished with dainty ruffles, Ruschings, Cordings etc, in our endless variety of combination effects. Then there are deep clusters of Rufflings, Biased Ruffles with Rusching and Corded tops and any number of dainty conceits that are bound to win your admiration and best of all, there is no reason to worry over prices.

Mr. Roberts, whose wonderful bass voice is always listened to with so much pleasure, was in excellent condition and added to the reputation he had already made. James Gardner Sanderson, whose readings have been too seldom heard here, delighted those who heard him last night quite as much with the rendering of the works of others, as he had by his own writings.
