THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1900.

SWALLOWED POTASH.

And Died Before Medical Aid Could Be Obtained.

Helen Barnes, four years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Georrge Barnes, of Archbald street, died yesterday morning as the result of having swallowed chloride of potash, which was kept in the house for making washing fluid. The little girl suffered intensely until death intervened. She will be buried in Honesdale today.

G. A. R. ORDERS.

The following order was issued by William H. Davies post, No. 187, yes terday morning, relative to the exer cises to be held on Thursday, inciden to the flag-raising in Memorial park and the observance of Washington's birthday:

Headquarters William H. Davies post No. 187, Department of Pennsylvania. Order No. 1.

The above post is requested to meet at post headquarters in Odd Fellows' hall, on Salem avenue, at 3.30 p. m., on February 22, in uniform, to participate in the exercises of raising the new flag in Memorial park; also, in recognition of the anniversary of the birthday of the "Father of Our Country," George Washington,

All patriotic orders and those interested in such recognition are cordially invited to be present.

The weather will determine if all the exercises will take place in the hall or at the park. Saluting the flag by the firing squad of the Sons of Veterans will be at the monument. By order ot

Gomer S. Davis, Commander. Attest: William B. Chase, Adjutant.

DEATH OF JOHN CASEY.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning, John J. Casey, of the South Side, succumbed to pulmonary trouble. He was borr here thirty-five years ago and had always lived in Carbondale. He was a member of St. Rose church and of Carbondale Conclave of Heptasophs. He is survived by a wife, five children, three sisters and four brothers. The funeral arrangements are incomplete.

He was arrested Mon-day evening, when he was found on North Washington avenue, walking in the direction of Green Ridge. He was stargering along and appeared unable to take care of himself. The patroiman accested him and asked where he was going. "I am going to my home," was the response. On being asked where he lived he replied Taylor, and on being told that he was taking entirely the wrong road to get there, he became pugnacious, insisted that he knew the way home, etc. At last the officer col-Have Houses to Rent, Real Estate or Other Property to Sell or Exchange, or Who Want Situations or Help-These Small Advertisements Cost One Cent a Word, Six Insertions for Five Cents a Word-Except Situations Wanted, Which Ars Inserted Free.

ing. The company goes by the name of the Strakesch English Opera company, and the name suggested something above the ordinary. It is a task of considerable magnitude to present on the road such a work as this for the absence of a large and per-fectly fitted orchestra must be overlooked, and a large company could not very handily be carried. The production was right fair for the first three acts, though the principals secured a number of curtain calls and the house was at no stage unresponsive. Eut the last two acts were excellently done.

Considering the limitations, there was very little to be desired beyond what was offered in the 'Miserere,' and the air as well known as the opera itself. 'Ah, I Have Sighed to Rest Me.' The other melody that rings sweetly al-ways and will always endure, 'Home To Thy Mountain," was sweetly done in the final act with the changing from solo to duet and then to trio. Mr. Murray's capable baritone was heard to good advantage in this theme in the second act. Clara Lane rose rapidly in favor and she was cordially enecred in the fourth act, wherein her work was of the most exacting character. She has a soprano of pleasing quality and strength, and of wide range. Payne Clark's tenur is equal to all requirements in compass and its

"A Greek Slave." The music of "A Greek Slave," which comes to the Lyceum on Saturday afternoon and evening, is far superior to that of the prevailing type of comic opera Edwardes gave us in "The Circus Girl." "The Geisha," "The Runaway Girl" and All musical comedies, and the scores of all were rich and catchy airs. But, however, in his latest work he has furnished an even better quality of music than he did in his previous pieces. In the score there is an abundance of delightful melody,

and the orchestration is a musical treat such as is seldom found in modern comic opera. It is brightly colored, ingeniously treated and thoroughly arof interest in the score.
