having finished our annual inventory of stock we find a lot of Remnants and small quatities, enough for one or two rooms of each, which we want to clear out to make room for larger quantities of other patterns, and offer them at half the usual prices while they last. This is a good chance to get real bargains in fine Wall Papers where small quantities are wanted. The variety of patterns and colors is large, but the quantity of each is limited. We want to get them out the store before spring trade

NO POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Election Day Very Quiet in Central City With Small Row in Eighth. There was no police court yesterday morning, not a single arrest having been made Tuesday. Election day proved very quiet and the police officers had a very restful time of it, the only trace of a row appearing about 9 o'clock in the evening at the polling booth in the Second district of the Eighth ward, in Hotel Rudolph. An altercation here took place between Tax Collector Thomas Gilgallon and Thomas J. Roche, Democratic candidate for common council. Hot words were exchanged and blows struck, but the affair calmed down as suddenly as it started and peace reigned afterward.

VIADUCT PROPOSITION WAS DEFEATED THERE.

It Is Probable That the Real Vote for the Viaduct and Sewers Will Not Be Known Unless the Ballot Boxes Are Opened-It Is Said That the Election Officers, in Some Districts at Least, Guessed at the Number of Votes Cast-Majorities of Fellows and Ferber.

In the adjoining column will be found a table compiled from the open returns in the prothonotary's office, which demonstrates the correctness of the very complete election returns printed in The Tribune yesterday.

Major E. D. Fellows and C. C. Ferber, Republicans, are elected school directors, the former having a majority of 895 and the latter 487. There is a strong probability that the proposition to bond the city to build sewers carried, our table showing a majority of 99 for it with three districts to hear from. The way election boards dealt with the votes cast for and against the viaduct and sewers is deserving of consideration from the court when it begins the official count of the vote. The boards not only failed to post the vote outside of the election booth, as required by law, but did not include it in the open returns, and in many vards, The Tribune is reliably informed, the votes for and against the viaduct and sewers was not counted at all. was down at the bottom of the ballot and in many instances was overlooked by the election officers until they had a goodly part of the computing of the vote done. Rather than go to the trouble of going over the ballots again they decided among themselves to give so many votes for and against the viaduct and so many for and against the sewers.

WHAT MUST BE DONE. There is every indication that the real vote for the sewers and viaduct will not be ascertained unless some one goes into court and advances reasons why the ballot boxes of various wards should be opened and the real condition of affairs ascertained. If the sealed returns from the three districts to be heard from should defeat the sewer proposition it is likely that some steps in that direction will be taken. for there is every reason to believe that if there was a fair and honest count the sewer proposition would be found to be out of the woods by a very comfortable margin. The viaduet proposition was not only horoughly swamped in the city at arge, but was defeated in West Scranton itself, the very hotbed of viaduct enthusiasm and the part of the city above all others which would be materially benefited by the improvement. This must be very discouraging to the West Side board of trade, which morning.

For. Against,

The reason given by the majority of persons for the defeat of the measure is that the people of the various sections of the city didn't look at the matter in a broad, general way. It is stated that the general opinion prevailing among those who voted against the measure was that the viaduct would not benefit the city at large, but only

West Scranton and the Scranton Railway company. As one advocate of the proposition happily remarked yesterday: "There was too much of the you-give-us-pavements-or-sewers and we'll-give-you-aviaduct sentiment prevailing." As an instance of how strongly the South Scranton people were in favor of the improvement it might be mentioned that in the Fourth district of the Nineteenth ward there were 145 votes cast against the viaduct and just one single

In all sections of the city the viaduct comers heard this: "We're not going to build a viaduet for the Scranton Railway company. It must pay its

All the city returns, with the excepthe Eleventh ward, were delivered to Prothonotary Copeland before 5.30 p. m., when his office closed for the day. No word was received of the missing returns and as they were expected in every minute, no search for them was made. If they are not in today the prothonotary will report the matter to court and the sheriff will likely assist in having them brought in.

Several of the boards failed to make any open returns of the vote on the viaduct and sewers. These were in the Fourteenth ward, Second district; Eighth ward, First district; Second ward, Second district; Twentieth ward, Third district; Twenty-first ward, Second district; Third ward, First district; Fourth ward, First district; Second ward, Fifth district. A very remarkable feature of the elec-tion was that there was only one man in the whole city who could not find two men of his choice among the four-men running for school director. This

NEW ROAD WILL DO

To the Same Extent That the E. & W. V. R. R. Will Be Extended the Plant at Dunmore Will Be Enlarged-Stories About Sweeping Changes in Officials and Curtailment of Authority Are Without Foundation-Ready to Let Contracts Next Week.

What the Lackawanna company has done for Scranton during the past year the expanded Eric and Wyoming pron .ises to do for Dunmore when the plars which the management now has under way are complete. Such was the statement, without the comparison, made to a Tribune re-porter last evening by W. V. S. Thorne, of New York, vice-president of the Eric and Wyoming and Pennsylvania Coal company and president of the new Delaware Valley and Kingston road. "We do not propose to make any sweeping changes in the officials of the road, as some paper here, I am told, has stated," said Mr. Thorne, "nor has there been anything done or contemplated that should tend to give out the impression that Mr. Smith has had his authority abridged and is to be displaced. What has been done is simply this: The work of the railway department will be doubled by the extension to tidewater and Mr. Smith has been given some help on that end of his work. He still continues as president of the Erie and Wyoming and general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Coal company, with the same authority that he always had.

I can not now tell you in detail what fice to say that it will be the headquarters for construction and repairs, and that in the same degree that the road is extended, the Dunmore plant will be extended. We will make things

Mr. Thorne and the local officials spent yesterday in consultation at the Pennsylvania company's offices in Dunmore and last evening he and Chief Engineer Webster had a conference at the Jermyn. Mr. Thorne, Chief Engineer Webster, General Manager Sla le and Superintendent Davis will start out this morning to make a trip by carriage over the entire length of the new road between Hawley and Kingston.

ONLY A LITTLE CHAP.

He was only a little chap not more than 8 years old, but he almost succeeded in getting himself into a great blg peck of trouble last evening shortly after 6 o'clock. As everyone knows, at a point on

The tempting and appetizing smell which arises during the cooking process causes many an adult passerby's mouth to water, but with done its full duty. the newsboys and screet gamins it isn't "many a mouth" but rather every mouth.

It is hinted that many a newshoy goes into the paper business with the distinct aim and ambition in view of being able to walk boldly up, plank down one two pennies and receive some of the hot cakes in return.

At any rate the usual throng of street boys, ragged and otherwise, was gathered around the stand last evening. watching the culinary operations, who the aforementioned lad sneaked furtively forward and by a dextrous motion speaked four of the waffles away and started on a wild run toward Wasnington avenue.
