For the Babies.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single fallure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liqueflessthe tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. "Il Trovatore."

THEATRICAL.

It is not often that Scranton is favored with grand opera and is regrettable that the audience that heard the Strakosch Opera company sing "Il Trovatore" at the Lyceum last night, was not larger. The disagreable weather had something to do with the slim attendance.

Those who heard the opera were highly pleased with the manner in which Verdi's most pleasing and tuneful opera was sung by the company. The solo work of the artists was of high order and the chorus, while not large, was made up of good voices. The chorus sang with spirit, feeling and discrimination. Madam Avery Strakosch, who possesses a beautiful soprano voice of great flexibility, sang the role of Leonora in a way that called forth the unstinted praise and applause of the audience. The singing of Miss Amelia Fields as Azucena, Payne Clarke as Maurico and J. K. Murray as Count di Luna was received with as many evidences of favor as were showered on the prima donna. A notable feature of the production was the superb dramatic work of Madame Strakosch, Mr. Murray and Miss Fields. Mr. Clarke has a fine tenor voice of extensive but lacks the dramatic ability of his associates.

The opera is adequately costumed and nicely staged. This afternoon the company will sing "Cavalleria Rusti-cana," and tonight "Carmen."

At the Academy.

"Faust" will be produced by the Holden Comedy company this afternoon, and "The Ranch King" is the attraction billed for the evening. The company presented "Myrtle Ferns" at yesterday's matinee and "Captain Herne, U. S. A." in the evening.

At the Gaiety.

This afternoon the Tenderloin Burlesquers, with Campbell & Canfield at their head, come to the Galety for a three days' stay. Everything with this show is new and up-to-date, and in the olio are some of the eleverest acts to be seen anywhere.

A full round dozen of pretty girls are seen in a sparkling burlesque that Manhattan Club Burlesquers is the attraction the first half of next week.

"A Day and a Night."

Theatre patrons all over the country are so familiar with the somewhat unique character of Hoyt's farces that it is not necessary to comment upon this his latest, further than to say that it is built upon very much the same lines as its predecessors. In this farce a young man who has been plously trained by his mother and his uncle, attends an after-theatre party where the host endeavors to develop something besides the supposedly religious tendencies of the young man.

He succeeds beyond his most sanguine expectations, and it turns out that this youth has been leading a sort of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde existence. The supper party furnishes an excuse for no end of songs and specialties, while the youthful prig, who is pretending to look up a church choir. gradually develops his true character in the most amusing fashion. "A Day and a Night" will be presented at the Lyceum Friday evening.

"A Greek Slave." To the Lyceum, Saturday, comes the latest London success,"A Greek Slave." an opera full of light and tuneful music and magnificently staged and costumed. The plot is laid in Rome in the last century and is unusually well thought out for light opera. The lyrics are by Harry Greenbank and Adrian Ross, the music by Sidney Jones and the introduced numbers by Lionel Moncton. Elaborate stage settings, skilled mechanical devices and electrotypes embellish the story and provide a brilliant frame for a company of heavy players.

Miss Dorothy Morton sings the leading role with rare sweetness and technical efficiency. The principal comedy roles are entrusted to Albert Mahar, who is a brilliant fun-maker. Chilvers, Kate Michelena, Albert Parr and Marion Singer are well selected for the other of the more important characters. In all the company numbers 100 people, with a delightful chorus of attractive young women.
