

NORTON'S BULLETIN.
Fine Wall Papers
 At Half the Regular Prices.
 Having finished our annual inventory of stock we find a lot of remnants and small quantities, enough for one or two rooms of each, which we want to clear out to make room for larger quantities of other patterns, and offer them at half the usual prices while they last. This is a good chance to get real bargains in fine Wall Papers where small quantities are wanted. The variety of patterns and colors is large, but the quantity of each is limited. We want to get them out the store before spring trade begins.

 The brilliantly illuminated rooms presented a handsome appearance. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of the Misses Elizabeth Rice, Grace Rose and Annie Rose. Supper was served about 12 o'clock by Caterer J. Lamaze, of Newark, N. J.

 Major W. S. Millar Will Marry Miss Mattie A. Clark Next Tuesday.
 Major W. S. Millar will leave this city this afternoon for New York and Tuesday, Feb. 27, will be married to Miss Mattie A. Clark, of that city. On the following day he will leave for Bermuda with his wife, where they will spend their honeymoon.
 The major will not be home until April 1 and no cases will be heard in his alderman's office in the Eighth ward as a result during that time.
 He yesterday received from the office of the adjutant general at Harrisburg leave of absence in answer to his application for the same. The document reads as follows:
 Feb. 19, 1900.
 Major William S. Millar, Brigade Inspector, Third Brigade, N. G. F., Scranton, Pa.
 Sir: I have the honor by direction of the commanding general to advise you that your request for leave of absence from February 23, 1900, to April 1, 1900, with permission to go beyond the sea is approved and said leave is hereby granted. Very respectfully,

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.
 Conducted by Ladies of the Macca-bees Last Night.
 The members of Scranton hive, No. 18, Ladies of the Macca-bees, conducted a most delightful entertainment and social last evening in Guernsey hall. All of the ladies appeared in the costumes of colonial days and presented a charming appearance with powdered hair and white Swiss fichus.
 The hall was thronged with the friends of the society and an excellent programme was rendered by a number of talented entertainers. Solos were sung with excellent effect by Arthur Pinnock, Mabel Jones, Mrs. Josephine Walsh, Albert Hoffman, Miss Helen Thomas and Mr. Metzger.
 Miss Cornelia Murdock and Miss Eva Meixell recited in a pleasing manner and two little tots, Alice and Gertrude Harris, sang a coon song in remarkably clever style. Special mention should be made of the work of Georges Twitzer, who gave an impersonation from King John with splendid dramatic effect.
 At the conclusion of the entertainment refreshments were served and then, after the hall had been cleared, dancing was indulged in for several hours. The ladies in charge of last evening's affair and who deserve credit for its success were Mrs. Roland Courtney and Miss Jennie E. Green.

DIAMOND DRILLING.
 Subject of a Lecture Given by Prof. Henry M. Lane.
 Professor Henry M. Lane, principal of the school of metal mining of the International Correspondence schools, gave a lecture last evening in the central police station last night after a long illness and is now practically well again.
 The lecture was wholly technical, and was illustrated with mechanical drawings and with samples of the various cores produced by the diamond drill, a ponderous specimen of which was exhibited. Those present followed Professor Lane's remarks with earnest attention though the average layman would have been completely befogged in about five minutes.
 The drill on exhibition last evening was owned by Sprague & Honwood, and the four small bits accompanying it, though they looked like ordinary rods of steel nevertheless represented a total valuation of over $3,000 being set with genuine diamonds.
SOLD RINGS CHEAP.
 "Dick" Murphy Offered Solid Gold Jewelry at Low Figures.
 "Dick" Murphy, a well known character went into Hartman's saloon on Fitzton avenue, last evening, and drawing three gold rings from his pocket accosted the bartender and offered to sell them to him for twenty-five cents apiece.
 The latter did not like the looks of the affair and shortly refused to have anything to do with the rings or Murphy. Murphy, who was drunk at that time, reached towards his hip pocket and with an oath remarked he would shoot the bartender's head off. Patrolman George Jones was then called in and took Murphy to the central police station.
 His threat to shoot the bartender was only an idle one, no weapon was found on his person. Murphy will be given a hearing this morning by Mayor Moir on the three charges of drunkenness, disorderly conduct and suspicion of larceny.

A MASQUERADE SOCIAL.
 It Was Given Last Night in Seigle's Dancing Academy.
 The dancing pupils of Professor Seigle and a large number of their friends enjoyed a delightful masquerade social last evening in the academy on Linden street. The hall was handsomely decorated, the costumes were exceedingly varied and attractive, and a full programme of twenty-two dances was carried through to excellent music furnished by the Lawrence orchestra.
 Every masker who attended the affair was obliged to remove his or her mask before entering the ball room, that a special committee might see who they were.

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG.
 Captain James F. Long Lectured in St. Luke's Parish House.
 Probably as complete, accurate and graphic a word picture of the celebrated battle of Gettysburg as is given in this country was commenced last evening in the auditorium of St. Luke's Parish house by Captain James F. Long, under the auspices of Colonel William N. Montes post, No. 219, G. A. R.
 "Commenced last evening" is used advisedly, as the lecture will take three evenings to complete. Captain Long himself participated in the battle and is now one of the official United States guides, whose duty it is to show visitors over the historic field of Gettysburg.
 The lecture last evening was devoted to a lucid explanation of the causes leading up to the battle and a description of the positions of the various regiments on both sides just before the contest for supremacy began.
 Captain Long explained that Lee was endeavoring to reach Harrisburg by a circuitous march around the west of South Mountain, when he learned that a Union army corps under General Hooker was on its way north and had halted at a place a few miles south of Gettysburg.
 This caused Lee to abandon his march on Harrisburg and by a series of quick maneuvers he succeeded in bringing the various divisions of his army by a series of forced marches across the mountain and from the north to the positions on all the roads leading into Gettysburg from the latter direction.
 The Union troops were in the meantime rapidly advancing toward Gettysburg from the south and on the morning of July 1, 1863, the terrible battle began with an engagement between the two skirmish lines on Seminary Ridge.
 This evening's lecture will deal with the various phases of the second and most eventful day of all the fight.

CASE WAS DISCHARGED.
 Health Officer Kennedy, of Dickson City Borough, Withdraws Charges Against Mr. and Mrs. Roberts.
 The hearing in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of Dickson City, the young couple charged by Health Officer Kennedy, of the borough, with violation of the health laws, which was to be held yesterday in Alderman W. S. Millar's office, did not take place and never will, as the charges have been withdrawn and the case amicably settled.
 As will be remembered, Dr. Kennedy charged Mr. and Mrs. Roberts with having a public funeral at the time of the death of their young children, and of exposing the bodies at the grave, although they had died of contagious diseases.
 Alderman Millar heard the case Monday, Feb. 12, the evidence being presented in full. Undertaker D. D. Jones, who had charge of the funeral, and several other witnesses testifying. Very little evidence was produced which tended to establish the Roberts' guilt, and, above all, it was not satisfactorily proved that it was a contagious disease which resulted in the children's death.
 A second hearing was arranged for the following Friday, but was postponed until yesterday when the case was settled between the parties and, Alderman Millar being notified that an agreement had been reached and Dr. Kennedy had withdrawn his charges, discharged the case.

ACCUSED OF LARCENY.
 Patrolman Evans Arrests Small Boy at Steel Mills.
 About 8:30 o'clock last evening Patrolman Evans saw a crowd of small boys near the North Steel mill carrying a large amount of brass. When they saw the officer they fled in all directions and only one of them was captured. He was taken to the central police station where he gave his name as Willie Roche, but refused to tell who his comrades were.
 The brass which they were trying to carry away weighed altogether about 500 pounds and is of considerable value. There has been a great deal of larceny of this sort recently and Mayor Moir will attend to the boy's case in police court this morning.

SOCIAL SESSION FOR THE LADIES CONDUCTED IN THE ELK LODGE ROOMS LAST NIGHT.
 It Was Given by the Local Lodge and Proved a Most Enjoyable Event in Every Particular. Speeches by Attorney D. J. Seedy, Hon. John H. Fellows, C. G. Boland and W. J. Weichel—Those Who Had Numbers on the Musical Part of Programme.
 The Scranton Lodge of Elks last evening entertained at their club rooms on Franklin avenue their lady friends and extended to the members of the fair sex all the pleasure attendant upon a "ladies' social session."
 A splendid programme was carried out, an excellent lunch served by Caterer Zeigler and dancing indulged in.
 It was the first event of the kind in about four years, and as a result, despite the roughness of the weather, a very large number of ladies and gentlemen were present. The entertainment was conducted in the large assembly room, the platform being handsomely draped and furnishing a convenient stage.
 In the course of the evening Toastmaster T. J. Jennings imposed various small fines on members of the lodge for fantastic offenses, the payment of all of which tributes was enforced by an efficient body of sergeants-at-arms, consisting of Alfred Rice, John B. Reese, Alex. Dunn, Jr., Alex. Schreiber and V. A. Simrell.
 Ralph and Roy Haan opened the entertainment by cleverly rendering a mandolin and violin duet. The two little fellows took their audience by storm and made a big hit.
ATTORNEY REEDY'S ADDRESS.
 Attorney D. J. Reedy then made an address on "The Lodge." He blended the serious with the ludicrous, and his effort was a very happy one. Mrs. Carolyn Worden next gave a vocal selection, her rich, mellow voice filling the hall and producing a fine effect on her hearers. Hon. J. H. Fellows gave the second address of the evening and proved an interesting and concise speaker.
 F. Vanderveken, the well-known violinist, played and was accompanied on the piano by Llewellyn Jones. He gave several selections that were warmly applauded. His first was "Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana" and also "Love's Dream."
 C. G. Boland made one of the most enjoyable speeches of the evening, having as his subject the very fertile theme, "The Ladies." He handled it in a masterly manner, deriving inspiration from the members of the fair sex present, and making the most of his subject.
 Major W. S. Millar, exalted ruler of the Scranton Lodge of Elks, was called upon for the 11 o'clock toast, and spoke eloquently and concisely of one of the most beautiful of the Elk customs. Several other speeches were made, among them being a humorous talk on "Cuba" by William Weichel.
 All of the entertainers' efforts were thoroughly appreciated by the audience, which signified its approval by enthusiastic handclapping.
OTHER FEATURES.
 When the regular programme was concluded, additional entertainment was furnished by actors who arrived from the Lyceum and Academy of Music and gave specialties, which brought the entertainment to a close.
 Dancing was then indulged in until a late hour, when the session was adjourned, after having proved to be one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever given by the Elks.
 John B. Reese and T. J. Jennings were at the head of the programme committee. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. Gottle, of Reading; Hon. and Mrs. John H. Fellows, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Simrell, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Stipp, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs.
