AVOCA.

Yesterday morning Veronica Novodeski, of York street, was instantly killed in the Eric and Wyoming yard while picking coal. She lived but a short distance away and was in the habit of going to the yard to get the evening's coal. The engineer did not see her until she was struck. Her body was frightfully mangled. The remains were taken to the home, where there were three small children awaiting her return. Her husband had not yet returned from work. Being a member of a Polish society they at once procured an undertaker to take charge o. the remains.

"A Day and a Night."

THEATRICAL.

An up-to-date company of very clever people under Hoyt's personal direction presented his "A Day and a Night" at the Lyceum last night. Those who had seen the play with Otis Harlan as the star performer and expected to see the part of Marble Hart suffer at the nands of Frank Doane were most agreeably disappointed. He most cleverly and amusingly portrayed the behind-the-scenes experiences of the church young man, who presumably had never been there before, but who, in reality, had. Hattle Williams, a handsome young woman made a very attractive and pleasing Ada Marr, or, as the bill said, "known professionally as Mile. Bawn Touraine." There were thirteen others in the cast and each is a specialty artist of no mean merit. Among these were Charles Warren, William H. Currie, W., F. Ryan, Mart Reagan, Genevieve ..oson, Josephine Clayton, Marie Clayton and Sara Carr. Those who like stage fun and bright music and much of both and who do not see the present company if it presents "A Day and a Night" in Scranton again will miss golden opportunity for being well entertained.

At the Academy.

The Holden company will close its engagement at the Academy of Music today. This afternoon it will present "The Denver Express." Tonight the bill will be "The Bowery Boy."

"A Greek Slave."

A most elaborate production of London's greatest comic opera success,"A Greek Slave," will be given at the Lyceum this afternoon and evening. This opera is the latest offering of George Edwards, and competent critics, both in England and America. have pronounced it the best of all his pieces. It is light and gay, brimful of tuneful melodies, and rich in wit. For nearly two years it drew large audiences to Daly's theatre, London, and since its introduction in New York last fall, has captivated the lovers of good opera in this country. The librettist has taken for the theme of his story a tale of Rome in the days of Nero. Of the 100 people used to interpret the opera, Miss Dorothy Morton, in the role of "Maia," has achieved the greatest success. The music of the solos and duets alloted to her, seems particularly well adapted to her superb vocal powers. Miss Minnie Ashlev has made a decided hit in the role of "Iris," a slave girl. She introduces two entirely new dances. which alone promise to bring her much fame. Albert Maher and Herbert Sparling are two comedians who are clever enough to make fun in plenty without the services of a librettist. Kate Michelena, Hugh Chilvers, Albert Parr, Mattie Atherton, Ole Nor-man, Adeline Bouvier, Enis Rac, Mar-Singer, Leila Pomer, William Maitland, Merle Manning and William Thompson are in the cast of principals. The company has an exceptionally strong singing chorus of pretty girls.

AMERICAN COAL ABROAD.

Sixty Thousand Tons of It in the Mediterranean.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Sixty thousand tons of Pocahontas coal are now entering the Mediterranean, in spite of predictions from eminent authorities in the United States that it was impossible for our coal to compete with Cardiff coal in that market. This ship-ment is reported by United States Con-sul Skinner at Marsellies. He says that on account of the excess of freight charges against American coal he has never detected that it could compete evenly for the Mediterranean trade with England except under temporary conditions such as now exist. However, he says, we have in our favor a steady decrease in the European coal supply and a steady increase in our own production, and with lower freights, which might be secured if the Mediterranean goods were shipped direct to the United States, instead of through England, we might hold our share of the trade. Will Be Well for the Industries of the Country-Boom Will Result in Leather Business.

New York, Feb. 23.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Prices of materials are yielding. If not the best news possible for some speculators, it is the best that could come for the whole country, since industries could not long prosper without reaction from the extreme prices caused by actual or supposed scarcity of materials last year. Some help comes from new iron furnaces that have opened or approach completion; some from the famine in India, which sends hither ship loads of hides; some from the much increased flocks of sheep, which have weathered the winter, and some from the opening of new iron works or copper mines. The causes are many, but the revision of quotations gives promise of greater activity in all the chief industries.

The great iron industry has been embarrassed for prices were high and billets were no longer sustained, gradually yielding prices of products.

Plates are still weak, as most connumers are provided far ahead, but a Pacific order covers 2,000 tons, and the Chicago and Northwestern has placed orders in the east for 5.600 tons for bridge work. Steel works are full, but have taken a small contract for export and better business enables the tin plate works to resume.

Cheaper hides and leather enable boot and shoe makers to take contracts for split goods at 2½ cents less than prices recently asked, and some large sales have resulted.

At last it is admitted that wool quotations, so long held at fully 3 cents per hundred pounds, are higher than rices in large actual sales last week. Failures for the week were in the United States 201, against 191 last year, and 33 in Canada, against 40 last

For the Babies.

There is no better medicine for the bables than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and essens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. Paul Deschanel and the Academy. The election of Paul Deschanel, president of the French chamber of deputies, to the French Academy to succeed the late Edouard Herve, is considered in France avidence of the degeneration of the academy. His literary accomplishments, it is said, amount to nothing and his election is called a sign of the times of disturbed political conditions.
