EARLY GLANCE AT THE FALL CAMPAIGN

CANDIDATES PRETTY WELL LINED UP ALREADY. Several Have Their "Paper" on the Dead Walls and in the Street Cars and Several More Have Satisfied Themselves That They Are in the Fight to Stay—All the Present Officeholders Who Can Succeed Themselves Are Willing to Serve Again if the Voters So Desire.

The politicians have turned their eyes toward next fall's campaign and the candidates are rapidly getting into the field. Deputy Sheriff J. R. Fisher, John H. Powell and Wade M. Finn are the most outspoken of the Republican aspirants for sheriff. On the Democratic side, Charles H. Schadt so far has a clear field and likely will not be opposed for the nomination.

Nothing would please John R. Jones better than to prove his immense popularity by being elected district attorney again and thereby breaking all previous records. Mr. Jones' fighting abilities are too well known to need comment. When he goes after a thing he goes after it in earnest, and the general knowledge of this fact caused several prospective candidates to make their candidacy conditional upon Mr. Jones staying out of the field.

M. W. Lowry, Will R. Lewis and George M. Watson are among those prominent as likely Republican candidates. On the Democratic side, John J. Murphy, secretary of the Democratic city committee, is the most prominently mentioned candidate for district attorney.

Every establishment in the city who possess a machine was notified by one of these four officers, or by the patrolmen on the beat, who were instructed to attend to the notifying. In the central city everything passed quietly, less objection and remonstrance being made than was expected.

Lieutenant Spellman had charge of the North Scranton district and instructed the patrolmen on the various beats to attend to the notifying of the people in whose establishments were the machines. This was done, everything being carried out quietly and without any trouble.

gister of wills office. William Koch, the Democratic incumbent, has the field all to himself thus far. John Copeland and Matthew Norton are destined, it seems, to fight it out again for the office of probrotonary.

John Copeland is a candidate for reelection and Mr. Norton has announced his intention of trying once more. Mr. Copeland has gained hosts of new friends since coming to Scranton and is now one of the most popular men in the county. Mr. Norton, on the other hand, has lost none of his proven strength and another exciting contest cannot be looked for.
