In 1881 I was told by two of the best physicians in Boston, Dr. W--- and

Dr. B---, that I could not expect to live a year; that I had Bright's Disease, At that time I heard of a man who was supposed to have been at death's door and was stopped, or dying, at the Commonwealth Hotel (now the Langham) at the south end of Boston. His wife in reading to him, came across a Warner advertisement and got a bottle of the Safe Cure. Her husband commenced to take the medicine, saying nothing to his doctor until after two or three weeks. His water commenced to show signs of improvement and the man was able to get up and walk about. When he found that he was really getting better he told the doc-tor what he had done and dismissed him, continuing the medicine, and in three months this dying man was about his usual duties, those of an expressman, and was fittilly cured. On the strength of this cure I got a bottle and dropped all other medicines. My doctors sent me to Kansas as a good place to go, out of their jurisdiction, and die. They gave my wife medicine to carry, enough to last me until I should die, and which I left at home. I carried one dozen bottles of Warner's Safe cure, and went to a small place near Junction City, where I had a cousin who is a physician. I had him examine my water every day, and after a week he found improvements, and honestly acknowledged that I was on the road to recovery. And I did recover, although it took a long time because I was badly off, and I took over one The Pilgrim Fathers and William Penn hundred bottles in the course of a year laid the foundations of their colonies and a half or two years. LITTLE IS BACK IN

ARRESTED ON A CAPIAS AND RE-COMMITTED SATURDAY.

Pending the Disposition of a Motion for an Appeal and Supersereas, to Be Made to the Supreme Court Today, the Prisoner Is Confined in the Debtor's Cell-Appeal Not Made Last Week Because of Delay in Securing Certified Copy of the Records-Other Court Matters.

Editor Richard Little, of the Scran-tonian, is back in jail. When court convened Saturday morning a capian for his re-arrest was issued on motion of Joseph O'Brien, of O Prion & Kelly, who assisted the commonwealth in the prosecution of the libel case. It was served on Little at his office and at 4 o'clock he came in and surrendered himself.

Pending an appeal to the supreme court he is allowed the privilege of the debtor's cell, a roomy, well furnished apartment of the county jall, located in the administration building.

John T. Lenahan, of Wilkes-Barre, one of Little's counsel, is in Philadelphia with a certifled copy of the records in the case, prepared to petition for an appeal from the decision of the superior court, and if the appeal is allowed, to have the same made a supersedeas.

The defendant's counsel confidently expects that the appeal and supersedeas will be allowed and that Little will be free again by tomorrow or Wednesday. The fact that a constitutional question is involved is what they rely upon principally in the movement for an appeal.

It was the intention of Mt. Lenahan move for an appeal last week, but the want of a certified copy of the record delayed him until Friday, and when Friday came the supreme court did not sit, or to be exact, was in session only long enough to adjourn, the justices desiring to attend the opening of the new buildings of the University of Pennsylvania law school.

There is a question as to whether or not the time an appeal is pending applies on the term of a convict in a procoeding of this nature. A prominent attorney stated to a Tribune reporter that it does not, and that notwith-standing the fact that there was no re-sentencing, the full term for which the prisoner was committed must be served in confinement.
