

Do You Want A Phonograph?

This is the place to buy them, from ($5.00) five dollars upward. Records are 50 cents apiece or ($5.00) five dollars per dozen. We have a fine lot of good records now on hand, of the latest songs and instrumental selections published. Is your talking machine out of order? Bring it to

PERRY BROTHERS

As we make a specialty of repairing all kinds of Musical Instruments. 205 WYOMING AVENUE.

Ice Cream.

BEST IN TOWN. 25c Per Quart.

LACKAWANNA DAIRY CO. Telephone Orders Promptly Delivered. 327-329 Adams Avenue.

Scranton Transfer Co., Always Reliable. All kinds of transfer work promptly and satisfactorily done. Office D. L. & W. Passenger Station, Phone 525.

HUNTINGTON'S BAKERY. CREAM, ICES AND FROZEN FRUITS. 420 Spruce Street. Masonic Temple.

C. S. SNYDER, The Only Dentist. In the City Who is a Graduate in Medicine. 420-422 SPRUCE STREET.

TEETH

If you have any work to be done call and take advantage of the following prices: Gold Crowns, Best, $5.00. Gold Fillings, $1.00. Best Set of Teeth, $5.00. Silver Filling, 50c.

Dr. Edward Reyer. 214 SPRUCE ST. OPP. COURT HOUSE. DR. H. B. WARE, SPECIALIST. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. Office Hours 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.; 2 to 4. Williams Building, Opp. Postoffice.

ONION LABEL CITY NOTES. MILWAUKIE INSTITUTE.—A local teachers' institute will be held at Milwaukee Saturday. OFFICES PAPERED.—Alderman John T. Howe's offices on Lackawanna avenue are being papered and given a thorough renovating.

BIBLE STUDY CLUB.—A class for Bible study will be organized at the Rutland Young Men's Christian association at 7:30 o'clock this evening. ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN.—The Ladies' Relief association will tonight give an entertainment in the Excelsior club house. A cake walk will be given by professional talent.

D. L. & W. PAYS.—The employees of the Continental and Hyde Park mines will be paid today. Tomorrow the payroll will visit the Diamond, Hallstead and Marvile mines. THE LAST SERMON.—Rev. D. Bruning, the Elmira Evangelist, gave his last sermon at the Universalist church last evening. The interest is increasing. Rev. J. D. Towanda, of Towanda, will assist him over Sunday.

BUGHT CARBONDALE STOCK.—Goldsmith Bros. & Co. of Goldsmith's Bazaar, bought the entire stock of Lebeck & Corin's Carbondale store yesterday morning. The consideration was $12,000. The appraisers inventoried the stock at $18,375. MOONEY FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late John J. Mooney, who died Tuesday at his home on Prescott avenue, will take place Saturday morning. A requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Peter's cathedral at 9:30 and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE.—Coroner J. J. Roberts held an inquest yesterday afternoon at Archbald to inquire into the cause of the death of John Jerowitich, found dead Monday near the ridge in Archbald borough. The jury, which was made up of Thomas Farr, Anthony Kamback, Abram Howells, Lou Howells, John Owens and William James, gave as its verdict that he came to his death from exposure. MISSIONARY LECTURE.—Rev. John Dixon, assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church of America, will deliver a lecture this evening at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church. This afternoon at 3 o'clock he will meet the Presbyterian ministers and elders of this vicinity. CAKE WALK AT MUSIC HALL. "Warm Babies" Hold Carnival Before Great Crowd of Spectators. An enormous crowd thronged Music hall last night and witnessed the revival of the "Warm Babies," an association composed of colored cake walkers, rag time dancers, fancy steppers, etc. Every reserved seat was taken and the spectators were present on the floor in such numbers that it took the combined efforts of mounted Officer Joseph Bloch and Patrolmen Saltry and Dugan to hold them in check. Jerome Nadine was the master of ceremonies and presided over the evening entertainment, which was opening by specialties by Cal Wagner, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Miss Emma Anderson. A rag-time dance was next on the programme, in which Mr. Nadine carried off the honors, acquitting himself in a very graceful manner. A grand march was next given and then came the event of the evening, the grand cake walk. Several couples participated and went through the various fantastic movements amid howls of ecstasy and cheers of approval from the spectators, who urged on their respective favorites with loud and generous applause. The cake walk was one of the best ever witnessed in Scranton and fully came up to expectations. After all the couples had walked the decision was given by the judges, who were Sheriff Pryor, Alex. Dunn, Jr., Frank Jermyn, City Treasurer Edward Robinson, L. Spencer, of Honesdale, and Frank Schroeder. Cal Wagner led the cake walk and several couples entered for the prizes, but the competition narrowed down at last to three couples, who were awarded first, second and third prizes in the order named: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, of Binghamton, were first; next came Mr. Fisher, of Philadelphia and Emma Anderson, of Binghamton, who have often been seen in this city and are favorites here, while Robert Ford and wife of this city, were the third couple. ROMANCE IN A BEQUEST. Former Plymouth Girl Who Will in All Probability Receive $10,000. A former Plymouth girl has fallen heir to the sum of $10,000 in a romantic way. A large number of Plymouth residents will remember Miss Mamie Hallis, she having lived there all her life until a few years ago, when she removed with her parents to Pawtucket. R. J. Michael Mangan, a well known Plymouth meat dealer, is her uncle. While Miss Hallis was at Narragansett Bay in the summer of 1897 with a girl friend the two formed the acquaintance of two young men, but the young ladies assumed different names, Miss Hallis being known as Mamie White. One of the young men corresponded with her during the winter, using her assumed name. When the Spanish-American war broke out he went to Cuba and died of disease at Santiago, but before his death expressed a desire to his companion to have his property go to "Miss White." He instructed the companion to endeavor to find her. Ever since he has tried to locate her and only a few days ago he succeeded in doing so, learning that "Miss White" was really Miss Hallis. There may be some difficulty in the way by reason of the fact that the property was bequeathed to "Miss White," but her friends think she will have no trouble in establishing her testimony with the aid of the letters and the testimony of deceased's companion, Wilkes-Barre Record. MAN KILLED AT CUMBERLAND. Remains of Owen Edwards Are to Be Sent to This City. It is now satisfactorily proven that the man killed at Borden's shaft, Cumberland, Md., Tuesday February 27, was Owen Edwards, recently of Putnam street, North Scranton. Associated Press reports of Tuesday told the story of the shooting. Last night a telegram was received from Cumberland by John Llewellyn and Harry Jones, of Putnam street, brothers-in-law of Edwards, which stated that the body would be sent here for burial. Jones went to Cumberland with Edwards about two years ago, worked there with him and then came back to Scranton. He and Llewellyn married two of the dead man's sisters, and they, together with his mother, are the only survivors. Chief of Police Robling communicated with the Cumberland authorities by phone last night and was informed that the body would be sent here for burial. Edwards was a member of a Mine Accident Fund, at Cumberland, and the expenses of sending him here and other incidentals will probably be defrayed by the organization. LINK TO BE REMOVED. Mayor to Ask for His Head from Select Council. It is believed that Mayor Moir will, this evening, send to select council a communication removing Permanent man John Lisk, of the General Phinney Engine company from office, giving as the cause for such removal that he was intoxicated while on duty; and that while in a drunken condition he succeeded in wrecking his engine. Lisk was called before the mayor yesterday morning, and confronted with a written report presented by Chief Walker stating that he (the chief) had seen him in an intoxicated condition, and that after careful investigation had discovered that the accident to the steamer was caused by Lisk being totally unable to control the horses. Lisk denied the chief's charges; claimed that the horses ran away, and that the chief had always had a grudge in him for some reason or other. The mayor gave Lisk until the afternoon to bring proof of his innocence, but he didn't show up, and that is why the mayor proposes to dismiss him. A Card. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Freese's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough of cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory if one money refunded. H. J. Vetter. A. W. Musgrave. Albert Schultz. David M. Lorenz. Dr. J. M. Shryver's Pharmacy, P. O. Twp. H. M. Cole. Chas. P. Jones.

AUDITORS REPORT IS LONG OVERDUE

SEEKING LEGAL ADVICE ON A DISPUTED ITEM. The Watch Dogs of the County Treasury Hesitate to O. K. the Charges for Collecting and Disbursing a Temporary Loan Until They Have Fortified Themselves with a Leg-1 Opinion.—Jack Skelly's Art Collection the Subject of Litigation—Other Court Notes. Two months have passed since the annual report of the county auditors should have been filed, but it is still missing. Inquiries have of late been frequently made concerning the delay, but nothing definite could be learned regarding it, the auditors choosing to say simply that they were awaiting a decision on a matter about which there was some doubt. It develops that this matter is an off recurring question of treasurer's fees. The county commissioners, last year, borrowed $42,000 and according to the interpretation of the law that has obtained here the county treasurer is entitled to charge up six and three-fourths per cent., or $2,835, for handling this money. The auditors do not think this is right and before they will consent to "O. K." it, they want to fortify themselves with a legal opinion. Their counsel is looking into the matter, and when he makes report they will take action. In their preceding report the auditors approved a similar charge, but made a foot note calling attention to it and expressing their belief that although the charge was perfectly legal it was exorbitant and that something should be done to change the system which authorized these charges. Nothing came of the foot note. It is just possibly they may refuse to O. K. this item in this year's report. Not many years ago the county commissioners borrowed $10,000 for thirty days from one of the city banks, the treasurer making the deal. The county could not meet the note and it was extended for thirty days more. Again the funds in the treasury were insufficient to meet the note and another thirty day extension was secured. Under the law the treasurer was entitled to treat this dealing as if it was three separate and distinct transactions and being human he did. The two and one-fourth per cent. for collecting and one-fourth per cent. for disbursing was charged up three times. Art Collection in Litigation. Scranton's most famous art collection is in litigation. William Hand, the brewer, and Mrs. Bridget McHugh-Hand are the litigants. The art collection, it is hardly needless to say is gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even 602 cabinet photographs of everybody who is anybody in the eyes of the art collectors and art dealers all gathered together after years of labor and several hundred dollars expense by that celebrated connoisseur Gentleman Jack Skelly, proprietor of the "Bon Ton," or as it is sometimes loosely called "The Tub of Blood" on Fern avenue. The collection consists of the famous $10,000 oil painting, "Love's Awakening," which could not possibly be duplicated for less than $35, and an even