EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

TO ERECT AN M. E. CHURCH ON BOUND WOODS PLOT.

The Congregation of the Hampton Street Church Will Move Out There and Make Its Home in It and It Will Also Accommodate the Rapidly Growing Part of the City Around the City Line-Boy Burned to Death-Wheelmen Will Hold a Stag Party Tonight.

There is a movement on foot which will result in the erection of a commodious Methodist Episcopal church on a plot of ground in the Round Woods tract and the abandonment of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church. For some time there have been requests for the erection of a Methodist Episcopal church at Lincoln Heights and the need of such a structure is so manifest that an offer of land was made. After considering the matter in all of its bearings it was decided that the wisest course to pursue would be to move the church home of the Hampton street congregation out to the city line and thus accommodate the people residing in that rapidly growing part of the city.

The owners of the Round Woods plot have offered a plot of ground and it is more than probable that within s year a church building of suitable size will be erected. If this program is carried out the Hampton Street church will be placed on the market. as it has been practically decided that it would be inadvisable to have two charges in that part of the city.

BOY BURNED TO DEATH.

While three little boys were playing around a fire near the brickyard on the Keyser Valley branch, Sunday afternoon, the youngest, about 3 years of age, ventured too near the flames and his clothing became ignited. The other boys ran away in fear, and the child's garments were burned from his body.

The heartrending scene was witnessed by Joseph Carlin and William J. Fisher, who were engaged on a switch engine, and as quickly as possible the men ran to the child's rescue. Carlin doffed his coat and wrapped it around the little sufferer, and smothered the flames. Together with Fisher they carried him to his home nearby.

When the men removed the coat the little fellow's flesh dropped off in fragments and the mother, a Polander, became frantic with grief. Mr. Fisher procured a bottle of linseed oil from a nearby house, but in the meantime the women who gathered around the child had saturated his body with vinegar and cabbage, which only added to his sufferings.

Mr. Fisher removed the cabbage and applied the linseed oil and bandaged when the railroad men noticed him, and they say he appeared to be carrying a lighted stick, but when the truth dawned upon them they hastened to rescue him as soon as possible. The clothing was literally burned from the body and the child's tongue was so badly burned that it is believed he hoked to death.

The little fellow was too young to realize what had happened and began crying when his companions deserted The parents were ignorant of what happened to him until he was carried into the house, and were too excited to do anything for him. The attention of the coroner has been called to the case, and he will undoubtedly make an investigation.

MALIA ARRESTED.

Thomas Evans keeps a pool room on West Lackawanna avenue and while he was seated in his place of business Sunday night at 10.30 o'clock, in company with several friends, Walter Malia, of Hennessy court, and two companions sought admission to the place. The proprietor refused to admit them and they tried to force an entrance by breaking in the door.

Patrolman David Davis, who is on the North Main avenue beat, was notified and placed Malia under arrest, the other two men escaping. The prisoner was given a hearing in police court yesterday morning before Alderman Moses and committed to the county jail in default of bail on the charge of malicious mischief. The same men have been implicated in a similar offense before, and Malia is well known in police circles. Evans was not desirous of prosecuting the case, but Lieutenant Williams is determined to break up this gang and will push the charges against Malia. The other two men have not been apprehended.
