CARBONDALE.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Constable Neary did a clever piece of detective work on the Delaware and Hudson road between Bridge street and the steel mill in Scranton the other day. For a couple of weeks train hands had found couplings and brake chains missing and were put to great inconvenience in getting out cars. On several occasions Master Car Builder Orchard had to send a repair force before cars could be taken out of the switch. The constable caught Jacob Miller in the act of relieving the cars of their valuables. A bag of coar on a wheel-barrow had served to cover up evidence of the thefts, but the dicer overturned the ceal and found a hag containing draw head knuckles. break chains and wheels. Miller was arrested and brought to this city. Alderman Jones committed him to the county jail, where he awaits trial. At the present high price of from the thief was able to make good wages seiling the iron to old junk dealers.

TAYLOR NEWS.

Remains of Private Powell Laid to Rest -- Agreeably Surprised - This Evening's Supper-Other News of Interest.

The services over the remains of Private John J. Powell, late of the Fifth infantry, Company B, United States volunteers, were largely attended from the home of his mother, Mrs. Samuel Powell, in North Taylor, yesterday afternoon. The obsequies were conducted by the Rev. John A. Evans, of Providence. The remains reposed in a handsome massive metallic casket and were completely hidden by flowers. The casket was sealed and the remains could not be reviewed. At the close of the service the funeral procession. headed by the Taylor Silver Cornet band, followed by members from the Thirteenth regiment commanded by Captain Kamback, proceeded to the Forest Home cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest. At the grave a firing squad of volunteers, consist-ing of Corporals Harry Colony, John James and Privates George Ball, Bert Biesecker, Jacob Berghauser, James Connolly, William Franz and George Beavers, fired a velley over the soldier's remains. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The pall-bearers were William Watkins, Alfred Price, William Tubbs, Leslie Frutchey, David Davis and Harry Evans, all members of the voluntee regiment. The flower-bearers were Misses Carbetta Evans, Annie Powell, Bessie James and Mary Jenkins. The Invincible commandery, No. 252, Knights of Malta, of which the de-

Mr. L. B. Thompson is convalescent after a severe illness. Schools at the central building have week, while the heating apparatus was undergoing extensive repairs. We give below Burgess A.

by our councilmen: To the Council of the Borough of Gentlemen: At the beginning of this my first year as burgess and in accordance with the usual custom, I give to you my best wishes, and trust that we have a pleasant, prosperous year and jointly benefit the borough by our labors. I thank you in advance for the courtesy and help that I know you will give me in performing my duties as burgess. My knowledge of the borough, financial and otherwise, is at present limited; as a consequence my recommendations will at this time be few. I have no doubt we shall work together harmoniously, for the general good of the borough and all its interests. As I understand it, your work will not be easy. It is hard to make one dollar do the work of two, and that is, as I understand, about the position you are in. Rigid economy in expenditures, good judg-ment in planning and laying out street repairing, and other work that must be done, would seem to be the only way, in the present state of the borsubject of favorable discussion on all ough finances, to get along success-sides, the tables were prettily decpay its expenses is a problem for you to solve, if in your wise judgment it can be. I am not positively sure that it can be, but hope so.

There are some leaks that might be stopped. At several different times, I have noticed in the Second ward, on Main and First and Second streets, all the lamps burned out in a night, because a few single lamps had been destroyed; and not having been replaced, the increased voltage would naturally burn out the rest. Such leaks, while not large, count up in the year. The profits of any business are largely the result of savings in little things. Gentlemen, give the electric light plant careful study, and your best attention, and see if it cannot be made to pay. If you can do this, you will have done well, and more than well, and the people of the borough will say to you: "Well done good and faith-ful servants." ful servants."
